House Votes To Restrict Labor

Senate's Bill Is Completed By Committee

House Measure Wins 308 To 107 Approval

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — A bill to curb strikes, restrict union activities and make some sweeping changes in New Deal labor law was passed overwhelmingly today by the Republican-controlled House.

But even as it went to the Senate, the Labor Committee there completed a milder measure of its own, stripped of some of the major House provisions, and sent it to the floor for debate to start next Wednesday.

The House vote on final passage was 308 to 107. This would be margin enough to override any veto by President Truman, if the lineup on such a test should remain the same.

While the Senate Labor Committee's vote was 11 to 2 for its legislation, Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), committee chairman, announced he would lead a fight on the floor to restore some of the stricken provisions through amendments.

Taft Votes For Bill

Taft meanwhile voted for the bill to get it out to the floor, along with Sens. Aiken (R-Vt), Ball (R-Minn), Smith (R-NJ), Morse (R-Ore), Donnell (R-Mo), Jenner (R-Ind), Ives (R-NY), Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), Ellender (D-La) and Hill (D-Ala). That list includes senators of both views—some favoring a stronger bill, others favoring an even milder one.

Voting against the bill in the Senate committee were Sens. Murray (D-Mont) and Pepper (D-Fla), both opposing any restrictive labor proposals.

The major differences between the two measures is that the House bill curbs industry-wide bargaining, and outlaws jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. The Senate Labor Committee's bill does not.

Both measures would authorize court injunctions to stave off serious strikes, ban the closed shop and make unions liable for "unfair" labor practices along with employers.

The result in the House had been virtually a foregone conclusion. It was foreshadowed in advance of the final roll call by a vote of 122 to 291 against sending the bill back to the Labor Committee, which would have amounted to shelving it.

In the final minutes before the critical voting, Democrats and Republicans sent their top men into oratorical action.

Sam Rayburn, of Texas, the Democratic leader and former speaker told the House:

"In my opinion, we should not pass legislation in heat, or respond to clamor."

Cheers Great Vote Announcement

He said he could not believe the bill would lead to "co-operation and industrial peace."

"President Truman," he said, "has been getting along pretty well bringing about industrial peace. He is the one man in 25 years who has

Developments May Be Imminent In GMC Talks

DETROIT, April 17 (AP) — Amid indications that important development were near, the CIO United Auto Workers broke off wage talks with General Motors Corporation temporarily today to consult with the CIO's high command.

President Walter P. Reuther and fellow-UAW-CIO representatives left tonight for Pittsburgh to confer tomorrow with CIO President Philip Murray after another bargaining session with General Motors.

The wage talks, in which the auto union seeks a 23½ cents an hour pay increase and other concessions for 225,000 production workers, will resume Monday, company and union negotiators said.

Long, Bloody T.P.&W. Rail Strike Is Settled

President Of Road Was Slain March 10

PEORIA, Ill., April 17 (AP) — Settlement of the long and bloody Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad strike, during which its president was slain from ambush and two union pickets were shot and killed, was announced tonight.

The 18-month-old strike, which began October 1, 1945, was listed by the United States Labor Department as the longest current labor dispute in the nation.

The end of the prolonged dispute, frequently marked by violence and bloodshed, was announced in a joint statement by the unions and the railroads. It said "details of the settlement should be completed within a few days."

The statement said the settlement was "mutually satisfactory."

McNear's Death Still Unsolved

George P. McNear, president of the railroad, was slain from ambush March 10. His death still is being investigated. Two union pickets were shot and killed in an affray with four railroad guards at Gridley, Ill., in February, 1946. The guards were charged with manslaughter and acquitted.

A spokesman for the two executors of McNear's estate said that work probably will be resumed Monday. He said current negotiations began last April 4.

Assassination of McNear capped a long series of violent incidents along the 239-mile belt line railroad which serves as a freight bypass and crosses Illinois south of Chicago from Keokuk, Ia., to Effner, Ind.

McNear, a central figure in the strike, had defied the striking brotherhoods since 1941. He was slain by a shotgun blast at night 400 feet from his home. The shooting has not been solved.

Prolonged litigation, fires and obstruction of trains also marked the dispute.

Line Seized In 1942

The present strike began in 1945 when the railroad was returned to private ownership after it was seized March 21, 1942, by President Roosevelt under his wartime powers to end a walkout at that time.

Before the President acted, 104 engineers and trainmen of the total 600 employes left their jobs December 28, 1941, in protest against a new wage scale and working rules which the company said would be enforced.

Preceding the 1941 strike, attempts were made by both sides to settle the issues. The brotherhoods proposed working rules similar to those on other railroads. McNear proposed a plan which he said would eliminate "featherbed" rules, cut unit costs, and increase workers' annual income through more work. He said his plan would give "a fair day's pay for a fair day's work."

POLICY "ENDORSED" — Ernest Bevin (above), was left entrenched as British Foreign Secretary yesterday after a long-awaited Cabinet shakeup. A government informant said Bevin's retention constitutes "endorsement" of his close-to-the-United States foreign policy.

Attlee Names New British Ministers For India, Reich

Bevin Retains Post In Cabinet Shakeup

LONDON, April 17 (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee named new British ministers for India and Germany today in a long-awaited Cabinet shakeup that left Ernest Bevin entrenched as Foreign Secretary.

A highly-placed government informant said the changes "finally kill" speculation that Bevin would be replaced, and thus constitute "endorsement" of Bevin's close-to-the United States foreign policy in the face of frequent sharp criticism from more than 100 "rebels" within the ruling Labor Party.

Morrison Retains Post

Herbert Morrison remained as Deputy Prime Minister charged with planning the nation's economic recovery. Persistent reports from sources close to the government had said Attlee was considering Bevin for a job as a "super planner" outranking Morrison.

Lord Pethick-Lawrence, 76-year-old Secreary of State for India, resigned and was replaced by the Postmaster General, the Earl of Listowel, 40, who will join with the newly-appointed Viceroy Lord Mountbatten in closing out British rule in India.

J. B. Hynd, who is chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and was the minister responsible for administration of the British zone of Germany, was replaced by Lord Pakenham, now parliamentary Undersecretary of State for War.

New Job For Bevin

Simultaneously with the endorsement of Bevin, now at the Foreign Ministers meeting in Moscow, the Control Office for Germany and Austria was made one of the Foreign Secretary's direct responsibilities. Previously it had been responsible to the War Office.

Pethick-Lawrence's letter of resignation said that he felt a younger man was needed for the India post.

Hynd was appointed Minister of Pensions, succeeding Wilfrid Paling, who takes over as Postmaster General. Hynd had been under frequent criticism from Conservatives for conditions in the British zone in Germany, where strkes and demonstrations against food shortages have occurred.

Reds Keep Mum On Atomic Issue

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 17. (AP)—Canada failed today to get a direct, detailed answer from Russia on the key question of international atomic inspection.

For the first time in the 10-month history of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, of Canada, addressed a written question directly to Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate.

McNaughton asked whether Russia would accept inspection of atomic energy plants by agents of an international authority recruited from various nations and having access to all countries which would sign a proposed atomic control pact.

Gromyko put off his answer, saying he was not concerned now with a detailed discussion of the type of inspection personnel. Some delegates contended, however, that they had to have Russia's detailed position before progress could be made on the pact.

The commission's working committee adjourned a three-hour debate on inspections without any clear idea what it would take up at its next meeting Monday (3 p. m. EST).

U. S. Steel Reportedly Has Offered Pay Hike

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—The Iron Age, an authoritative journal of the steel industry, said today United States Steel Corporation has made an offer to the steel union demand for a "substantial wage increase."

The magazine did not state the amount of the offer.

"The probability of a steel strike is now more remote than at anytime in the past 10 days," the publication said in a special statement.

"Negotiations between United States Steel Corporation and United Steel Workers of America," the magazine stated, "have gotten down to bras stacks for the first time since January 15.

"Definite progress has been made in the past two days."

Truman Offers Every Federal Agency's Help

Sen. O'Daniel Asks Probe By Congress

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — President Truman offered the resources of all federal agencies for relief in the Texas City disaster today.

Mr. Truman, following developments from the White House, telegraphed Mayor J. C. Trahan, of Texas City:

"My heart and the heart of the nation go out in deepest sympathy to the suffering people of Texas City. May God lighten the burden of sorrow which has fallen on the community with such tragic force.

"I know that the Red Cross is ministering to your stricken city, and I have instructed every government agency to co-operate in relief activity."

The Army, Navy and other federal agencies rushed aid to the disaster scene.

Sen. O'Daniel (D-Tex) introduced a resolution demanding a "full and complete investigation" of the disaster.

O'Daniel told his colleagues he does not want to "charge or insinuate" that the tragedy was executed by a conspiracy, but said:

"Due to a rather large number of fires, explosions and railroad wrecks and other disastrous occurrences in this nation lately, all so nearly resembling disastrous occurrences which preceded our entry into the last war, due largely to Communistic underground activity, I believe it is the duty of the Senate to conduct" an immediate investigation.

Grim Task Of Searching For Victims Continues

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17 (AP)—As emergency crews continued to battle against fires and the dimming possibility of additional explosions, the grim task of searching for dead and of identifying the rows of bodies at the high school gymnasium continued here tonight.

Rescue workers pushed towards isolated Monsanto Chemical Company buildings and facilities, hoping that raging fires would diminish and permit them to search for personnel who have not been heard from since the original Grandcamp explosion yesterday morning.

Army equipment and personnel continued to pour into the city.

Brig. Gen. J. P. Sheets, of Fort Crockett, named by Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, commander of the Fourth Army, to co-ordinate Army rescue and aid activities, said that 50 Army doctors, 60 nurses, an ambulance company, 48 field kitchens, 48 mess sergeants and 60 cooks had been flown to Texas City.

The army has opened three evacuation camps for refugees.

Wainwright visited here again this morning, made a tour of the devastated water front, and conferred with Mayor J. C. Trahan and other officials.

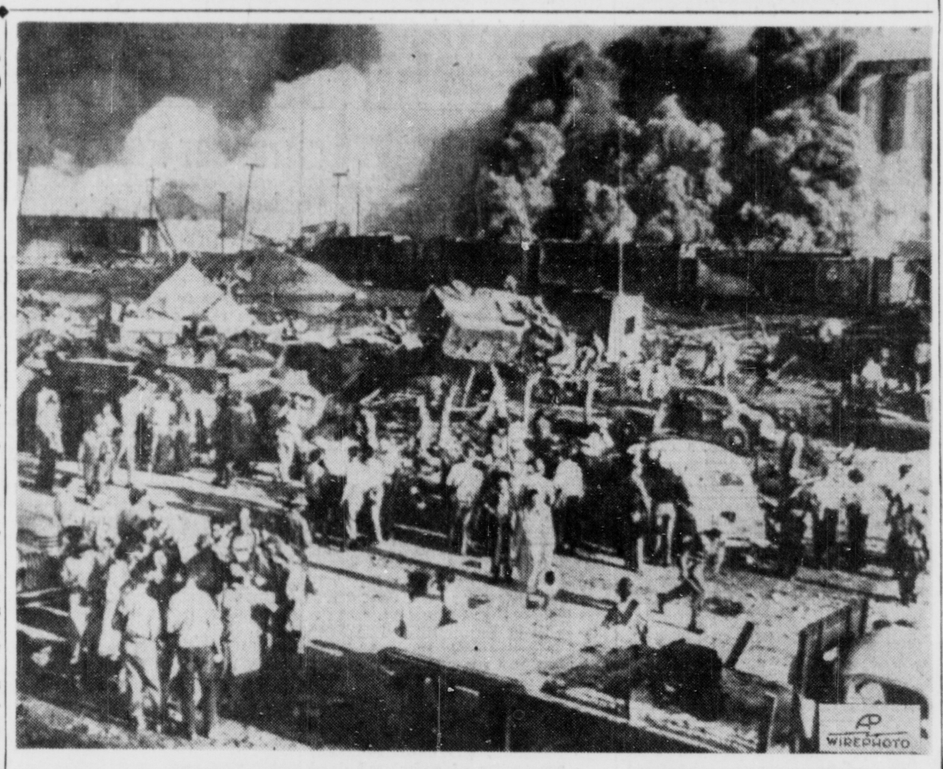

He said there appeared little need for martial law and expressed a belief that the "situation will right itself."

Stench of death, mixed with chlorine fumes, hung in the air in the Monsanto sector today. Demolished houses, smashed automobiles, and wrecked trucks and ambulances were apparent everywhere.

First aid equipment, abandoned when new danger arose during the night, lay scattered along with hundreds of rolls of twine blown from the Monsanto crushing plant yesterday.

Austrian Peace Treaty Chances Fade At Moscow

Controversy Centers On Displaced Persons

MOSCOW, April 17 (AP)—Chances for salvaging an Austrian peace treaty from the deadlocked Moscow conference faded tonight and some German experts among the delegations prepared to leave for Berlin apparently abandoning hope of further progress on a German pact.

(In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said a special train would be ready in Moscow in Tuesday to return Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and the British delegation. He said that while there were no definite plans to leave then the train would be ready "if there appears to be no good reason to stay longer.")

Displaced Persons Issue

Despite the Russians' statement yesterday on the desire to sign an Austrian peace pact the Russians clashed tonight with the three western powers over the first major issue the ministers encountered in considering the Austrian pact — the problem of handling approximately 500,000 displaced persons in Austria.

Russia demanded that displaced persons be expelled from Austria within six months after the treaty becomes effective. United States Secretary of State Marshall charged that this amounted to failure by the Russians to live up to a United Nations' agreement on displaced persons.

Marshall urged that the handling of displaced persons should be in accord with the action of the United Nations Assembly last December approving a draft constitution for the International Refugee Organization.

Under the IRO, which was opposed by the Soviet Union, displaced persons would become the concern of that body if they could show they would face religious or political persecution if they returned to their former living places.

Marshall Hurls Veto Charge

Andrei Vishinsky, Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister, argued that the United Nations resolution applied only to Germany, and not to Russia.

SINKING OF THIRD SHIP IN TEXAS CITY BLAST IS DISCLOSED

TEXAS CITY, April 17 (AP) Sinking of a third ship—the Liberty freighter Wilson B. Keene—at the explosion-torn Texas City waterfront, was disclosed tonight.

The ship, loaded with wheat, was alongside the freighter, the High Flyer, which exploded early this morning.

Hal Boyle and William C. Barnard, Associated Press reporters, observed the sunken hull of the Wilson B. Keene, while touring the explosion area. The vessel presumably had been abandoned by its crew.

The stern of the freighter was blown off.

Robeson To Sing Despite "Threats"

CAMPAIGN, Ill., April 17. (AP)—Paul Robeson, noted American negro singer, said today he would sing a cancelled concert in Peoria, Ill., tomorrow night although he had received "some threats of violence" if he appeared and despite what he termed "Fascist techniques" by the Peoria City Council.

The Peoria Council yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution disapproving the appearance in Peoria of "any speaker or artist who is an avowed or active propagandist for unAmerican ideology."

The resolution did not name Robeson specifically, but its sponsor, Alderman Milo Nelson, said it was intended to prohibit Robeson's appearance in a concert originally scheduled for tomorrow. The concert was cancelled last Monday.

The singer was named Tuesday by the House Committee on unAmerican Activities as one of a group of persons "which are invariably found supporting the Communist Party and its front organizations." Robeson declined to comment on the House committee report.

Robeson had been scheduled to appear in Peoria's Shrine Mosque under auspices of Allen Cannon, member of the music faculty of Bradley University.

Pepper Says U.N. Should Handle Aid Program

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.) told the Senate today that Russia may "resent" long-handed United States aid in Greece and Turkey. He said the proposed American action would justify Russia in taking similar steps anywhere in the world.

Pepper argued that the situation should be handled through the United Nations. He spoke as the Senate worked toward major tests on the $400,000,000 program of of Greco-Turkish aid, which President Truman asked more than a month ago to help the two countries stem Communism.

It was the seventh day of Senate debate. Before voting finally late Tuesday, the chamber must dispose of a number of proposed amendments, including proposals to strike out the limited military aid Mr. Truman suggested, to eliminate Turkey from aid and to force the withdrawal of the Greek monarchy.

NANKING, April 17 (AP)—Participation of minority parties in China's government for the first time will begin Friday with official publication of membership of the new policy-making State Council.

Phone Strikers' Chief Will Seek Early Agreement

Company Reports Say Service Is Improving

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Company reports that some strike-hampered telephone service is improving came today as union leaders aimed at an early settlement.

With 340,000 workers idle for the 11th day in the cross-country strike and negotiations stalled, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, said:

"We're working toward a settlement this week. If we don't settle by Monday our people will still be out on strike but some of them may want to go back to work."

Company Lifts Some Restrictions

Lifting of some restrictions on non-dial phone calls was reported by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here and by the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Atlanta. A C. and P. official said some strikers have returned to work and his company is accepting all long distance calls now.

The government withheld any new moves, with Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach standing pat and waiting for both company and union to withdraw objections and accept his arbitration proposal.

Beirne's headquarters here denied that the organization had reduced its $12 a week wage increase demand, despite a declaration by Henry Mayer, counsel for a number of NFTW unions, to an Atlanta mass meeting that the NFTW is willing to accept a $6 weekly boost and arbitrate other differences.

Beirne Calls For "Courage"

"We are only asking that they give us some wage increase—15 cents an hour, $6 a week," Mayer said. "We are willing to arbitrate the rest of the conditions if it takes a year.

Beirne conceded to reporters, after addressing a closed mass meeting of Washington strikers, that if the walkout extends beyond Monday it will begin to tell on the idle, payless workers. Their average weekly earnings have been $34 to $44.

He called for "courage" in union ranks if the strike is prolonged.

Estimated 650 Dead, At Least 3,000 Injured

All Rescue Workers Evacuated From Area

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17 (AP) — Blast-torn Texas City went through a second night of fear tonight as flaming oil tanks threatened further explosions to add to the devastation of two days' blasts which left an estimated 650 persons dead and 3,000 injured.

The huge oil tank farm of the Humble Oil Company was burning, the latest conflagratian spreading from explosions which blasted three ships in the harbor and destroyed the multi-million-dollar plant of the Monsanto Chemical Company.

Rescue workers evacuated the immediate danger area early tonight and gas masks were passed out as a precaution against the possible spread of poisonous gases from further explosions.

Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, telegraphed Gov. Beauford H. Jester at Austin that there was no necessity for further evacuation. He said, however, that one tank containing a small amount of high-octane gasoline might explode "at any time before tomorrow morning or fires may burn themselves out without further damage."

Oil Tank Explodes

John H. Hill, deputy mayor and a chemical engineer, said that the Humble Oil and Refining Company had abandoned hope of saving any portion of the oil storage tank farm.

He made the announcement shortly after a tank exploded and rocked the city at 6:36 p. m. Hill said that there was no storage of highly-inflammable and explosive butane gas on the farm, but concluded that "we haven't any idea what is in" two spherical tanks on property adjacent to the Humble farm. He asserted that danger of more serious explosions was dependent on the contents of the two tanks, one large and one small.

Two hundred and seventy-one bodies had been counted at a late hour tonight by rescue workers digging into the ruins of the waterfront and industrial area. Of these, 194 had been identified. Many more bodies still lie in the wreckage.

Fire Captain J. B. Ruby, Houston, estimated that anywhere from 75 to 150 bodies remained in the Monsanto plant alone. The company asked surviving workmen to report to designated places here and in Galveston to be counted. About 800 persons were in the plant when it was destroyed.

A memorial service for all of the Texas City dead will be held on the football field at 6 p. m. Saturday by the city's Ministerial Alliance.

More Fire Trucks Sought

Officials asked for more fire trucks from Baytown to help combat the Humble fire. Masked and foam-equipped fire fighters battled the oil flames to prevent their spread to high octane gasoline tanks.

Hill said late today that add fires on the west side of the city had been brought under control. These included two at the Atlantic refinery and one at Republic.

Parker said all zones except the still burning Monsanto area had been checked by rescuers.

Hill said late today that no further explosions were feared, but that fire might spread. (As Al Dopking, Associated Press staffer at the scene, was telephoning his report, a new fire broke out. He said he could see

Texas City Chemical Plant To Be Rebuilt

GALVESTON, Tex., April 17 (AP) —The devastated Monsanto Chemical Company plant at Texas City will be rebuilt on the same site, William M. Rand, St. Louis, Monsanto president, announced tonight.

Even though fires still swept the ravaged plant, the Monsanto executive affirmed that his company would build again, although he admitted that the cost, with higher prices on materials, probably would exceed the $20,000,000 originally expended for construction of the styrene works in 1942.

Curious Cubans Turn Re-enactment Of Shooting Into Wild Scramble

HAVANA, April 17 (AP)—Re-enactment of the shooting of John Lester Mee became a wild scramble today as curious Cubans swarmed aboard the Satira when the yacht docked at a coal pier in Havana harbor.

Patricia Schmidt, charged with homicide in connection with the shooting of the Chicago socialite, burst into tears as she boarded the vessel. The Toledo, Ohio, dancing girl at once became the center of a jostling, jabbering, gesticulating crowd which refused to heed authorities' pleas to go away.

Shaking with sobs and dabbing a yellow handkerchief to her eyes, she sat down on a hatch cover on the bow of the Satira.

"I can't believe that Jack is dead," she said. "All this seems too unreal. I am glad to re-enact this, however, because then the judge will see that what I have told is true."

Miss Schmidt is accused of firing a single shot from a .22-caliber target pistol aboard the yacht April 8 during a quarrel she said resulted from her discovery that Mee already was married to another dancer, Mrs. Mary Dixon Mee, Chicago. Mee, 33-year-old former skipper of a Navy PT boat, died five days later of a virtually severed spinal cord.

Investigating Judge Santiago Mencia ordered the re-enactment for the announced purpose of determining whether it was possible for a five-foot, two-inch girl to fire a bullet downward through the neck of a six-foot, two-inch man. An autopsy report said the bullet took a downward path.

Charles Jackson, 27, River Forest, Ill., joint owner of the yacht with Mee, was excluded by the judge from today's re-enactment. Jackson is accused of being an accessory after the fact by concealing information. The bond in his case was fixed at $10,000.

Wallace, In Stockholm, Says Small Countries Have Major Peace Role

STOCKHOLM, April 17 (AP) — Henry A. Wallace told Swedish newsmen tonight that small European nations have a great, perhaps determining role, to play in the world's search for peace.

Arriving by plane from Britain, the former American Cabinet officer was greeted at the airport by an 80-voice male workers' choir. He was visibly tired but brightened perceptibly at the unexpected reception.

"Small European nations which have the deepest interest in peace," Wallace told reporters at his hotel, "have a great, perhaps determining role to play. Scandinavia is in a key spot because of its geographical position."

LONDON, April 17 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace took a plane for Stockholm today after receiving a declaration from 111 members of Parliament who said they believed with him that any policy which "might divide us from one another or from the U. S. S. R. would be fatal to world peace."

Ending a nine-day stay in Britain that had stirred controversy both here and abroad as a result of his speeches attacking President Truman's foreign policy, Wallace was due to speak again in Stockholm tomorrow, in Oslo Saturday, in Copenhagen Monday, in Paris on Thursday.

The members of Parliament who handed him a letter of thanks for his visit just before he took off from Northolt airport included 107 of the 640 members of the House of Commons. Among them were William Gallacher, one of the two Communist members, a Liberal, an independent and 104 members of the Labor Party.

Bevin Retains Post In Cabinet Shakeup

LONDON, April 17 (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee named new British ministers for India and Germany today in a long-awaited Cabinet shakeup that left Ernest Bevin entrenched as Foreign Secretary.

A highly-placed government informant said the changes "finally kill" speculation that Bevin would be replaced, and thus constitute "endorsement" of Bevin's close-to-the United States foreign policy in the face of frequent sharp criticism from more than 100 "rebels" within the ruling Labor Party.

Morrison Retains Post

Herbert Morrison remained as Deputy Prime Minister charged with planning the nation's economic recovery. Persistent reports from sources close to the government had said Attlee was considering Bevin for a job as a "super planner" outranking Morrison.

Lord Pethick-Lawrence, 76-year-old Secreary of State for India, resigned and was replaced by the Postmaster General, the Earl of Listowel, 40, who will join with the newly-appointed Viceroy Lord Mountbatten in closing out British rule in India.

J. B. Hynd, who is chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and was the minister responsible for administration of the British zone of Germany, was replaced by Lord Pakenham, now parliamentary Undersecretary of State for War.

New Job For Bevin

Simultaneously with the endorsement of Bevin, now at the Foreign Ministers meeting in Moscow, the Control Office for Germany and Austria was made one of the Foreign Secretary's direct responsibilities. Previously it had been responsible to the War Office.

Pethick-Lawrence's letter of resignation said that he felt a younger man was needed for the India post.

Hynd was appointed Minister of Pensions, succeeding Wilfrid Paling, who takes over as Postmaster General. Hynd had been under frequent criticism from Conservatives for conditions in the British zone in Germany, where strkes and demonstrations against food shortages have occurred.

Reds Keep Mum On Atomic Issue

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 17. (AP)—Canada failed today to get a direct, detailed answer from Russia on the key question of international atomic inspection.

For the first time in the 10-month history of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, of Canada, addressed a written question directly to Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate.

McNaughton asked whether Russia would accept inspection of atomic energy plants by agents of an international authority recruited from various nations and having access to all countries which would sign a proposed atomic control pact.

Gromyko put off his answer, saying he was not concerned now with a detailed discussion of the type of inspection personnel. Some delegates contended, however, that they had to have Russia's detailed position before progress could be made on the pact.

The commission's working committee adjourned a three-hour debate on inspections without any clear idea what it would take up at its next meeting Monday (3 p. m. EST).

U. S. Steel Reportedly Has Offered Pay Hike

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—The Iron Age, an authoritative journal of the steel industry, said today United States Steel Corporation has made an offer to the steel union demand for a "substantial wage increase."

The magazine did not state the amount of the offer.

"The probability of a steel strike is now more remote than at anytime in the past 10 days," the publication said in a special statement.

"Negotiations between United States Steel Corporation and United Steel Workers of America," the magazine stated, "have gotten down to bras stacks for the first time since January 15.

"Definite progress has been made in the past two days."

Truman Offers Every Federal Agency's Help

Sen. O'Daniel Asks Probe By Congress

Mr. Truman, following developments from the White House, telegraphed Mayor J. C. Trahan, of Texas City:

"My heart and the heart of the nation go out in deepest sympathy to the suffering people of Texas City. May God lighten the burden of sorrow which has fallen on the community with such tragic force.

"I know that the Red Cross is ministering to your stricken city, and I have instructed every government agency to co-operate in relief activity."

The Army, Navy and other federal agencies rushed aid to the disaster scene.

Sen. O'Daniel (D-Tex) introduced a resolution demanding a "full and complete investigation" of the disaster.

O'Daniel told his colleagues he does not want to "charge or insinuate" that the tragedy was executed by a conspiracy, but said:

"Due to a rather large number of fires, explosions and railroad wrecks and other disastrous occurrences in this nation lately, all so nearly resembling disastrous occurrences which preceded our entry into the last war, due largely to Communistic underground activity, I believe it is the duty of the Senate to conduct" an immediate investigation.

Grim Task Of Searching For Victims Continues

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17 (AP)—As emergency crews continued to battle against fires and the dimming possibility of additional explosions, the grim task of searching for dead and of identifying the rows of bodies at the high school gymnasium continued here tonight.

Rescue workers pushed towards isolated Monsanto Chemical Company buildings and facilities, hoping that raging fires would diminish and permit them to search for personnel who have not been heard from since the original Grandcamp explosion yesterday morning.

Army equipment and personnel continued to pour into the city.

Brig. Gen. J. P. Sheets, of Fort Crockett, named by Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, commander of the Fourth Army, to co-ordinate Army rescue and aid activities, said that 50 Army doctors, 60 nurses, an ambulance company, 48 field kitchens, 48 mess sergeants and 60 cooks had been flown to Texas City.

The army has opened three evacuation camps for refugees.

Wainwright visited here again this morning, made a tour of the devastated water front, and conferred with Mayor J. C. Trahan and other officials.

He said there appeared little need for martial law and expressed a belief that the "situation will right itself."

Stench of death, mixed with chlorine fumes, hung in the air in the Monsanto sector today. Demolished houses, smashed automobiles, and wrecked trucks and ambulances were apparent everywhere.

First aid equipment, abandoned when new danger arose during the night, lay scattered along with hundreds of rolls of twine blown from the Monsanto crushing plant yesterday.

Austrian Peace Treaty Chances Fade At Moscow

Controversy Centers On Displaced Persons

MOSCOW, April 17 (AP)—Chances for salvaging an Austrian peace treaty from the deadlocked Moscow conference faded tonight and some German experts among the delegations prepared to leave for Berlin apparently abandoning hope of further progress on a German pact.

(In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said a special train would be ready in Moscow in Tuesday to return Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and the British delegation. He said that while there were no definite plans to leave then the train would be ready "if there appears to be no good reason to stay longer.")

Displaced Persons Issue

Despite the Russians' statement yesterday on the desire to sign an Austrian peace pact the Russians clashed tonight with the three western powers over the first major issue the ministers encountered in considering the Austrian pact — the problem of handling approximately 500,000 displaced persons in Austria.

Russia demanded that displaced persons be expelled from Austria within six months after the treaty becomes effective. United States Secretary of State Marshall charged that this amounted to failure by the Russians to live up to a United Nations' agreement on displaced persons.

Marshall urged that the handling of displaced persons should be in accord with the action of the United Nations Assembly last December approving a draft constitution for the International Refugee Organization.

Under the IRO, which was opposed by the Soviet Union, displaced persons would become the concern of that body if they could show they would face religious or political persecution if they returned to their former living places.

Marshall Hurls Veto Charge

Andrei Vishinsky, Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister, argued that the United Nations resolution applied only to Germany, and not to Russia.

SINKING OF THIRD SHIP IN TEXAS CITY BLAST IS DISCLOSED

TEXAS CITY, April 17 (AP) Sinking of a third ship—the Liberty freighter Wilson B. Keene—at the explosion-torn Texas City waterfront, was disclosed tonight.

The ship, loaded with wheat, was alongside the freighter, the High Flyer, which exploded early this morning.

Hal Boyle and William C. Barnard, Associated Press reporters, observed the sunken hull of the Wilson B. Keene, while touring the explosion area. The vessel presumably had been abandoned by its crew.

Robeson To Sing Despite "Threats"

CAMPAIGN, Ill., April 17. (AP)—Paul Robeson, noted American negro singer, said today he would sing a cancelled concert in Peoria, Ill., tomorrow night although he had received "some threats of violence" if he appeared and despite what he termed "Fascist techniques" by the Peoria City Council.

The Peoria Council yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution disapproving the appearance in Peoria of "any speaker or artist who is an avowed or active propagandist for unAmerican ideology."

The resolution did not name Robeson specifically, but its sponsor, Alderman Milo Nelson, said it was intended to prohibit Robeson's appearance in a concert originally scheduled for tomorrow. The concert was cancelled last Monday.

The singer was named Tuesday by the House Committee on unAmerican Activities as one of a group of persons "which are invariably found supporting the Communist Party and its front organizations." Robeson declined to comment on the House committee report.

Robeson had been scheduled to appear in Peoria's Shrine Mosque under auspices of Allen Cannon, member of the music faculty of Bradley University.

Pepper Says U.N. Should Handle Aid Program

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.) told the Senate today that Russia may "resent" long-handed United States aid in Greece and Turkey. He said the proposed American action would justify Russia in taking similar steps anywhere in the world.

Pepper argued that the situation should be handled through the United Nations. He spoke as the Senate worked toward major tests on the $400,000,000 program of of Greco-Turkish aid, which President Truman asked more than a month ago to help the two countries stem Communism.

It was the seventh day of Senate debate. Before voting finally late Tuesday, the chamber must dispose of a number of proposed amendments, including proposals to strike out the limited military aid Mr. Truman suggested, to eliminate Turkey from aid and to force the withdrawal of the Greek monarchy.

NANKING, April 17 (AP)—Participation of minority parties in China's government for the first time will begin Friday with official publication of membership of the new policy-making State Council.

Phone Strikers' Chief Will Seek Early Agreement

Company Reports Say Service Is Improving

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Company reports that some strike-hampered telephone service is improving came today as union leaders aimed at an early settlement.

With 340,000 workers idle for the 11th day in the cross-country strike and negotiations stalled, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, said:

"We're working toward a settlement this week. If we don't settle by Monday our people will still be out on strike but some of them may want to go back to work."

Company Lifts Some Restrictions

Lifting of some restrictions on non-dial phone calls was reported by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here and by the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Atlanta. A C. and P. official said some strikers have returned to work and his company is accepting all long distance calls now.

The government withheld any new moves, with Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach standing pat and waiting for both company and union to withdraw objections and accept his arbitration proposal.

Beirne's headquarters here denied that the organization had reduced its $12 a week wage increase demand, despite a declaration by Henry Mayer, counsel for a number of NFTW unions, to an Atlanta mass meeting that the NFTW is willing to accept a $6 weekly boost and arbitrate other differences.

Beirne Calls For "Courage"

"We are only asking that they give us some wage increase—15 cents an hour, $6 a week," Mayer said. "We are willing to arbitrate the rest of the conditions if it takes a year.

Beirne conceded to reporters, after addressing a closed mass meeting of Washington strikers, that if the walkout extends beyond Monday it will begin to tell on the idle, payless workers. Their average weekly earnings have been $34 to $44.

He called for "courage" in union ranks if the strike is prolonged.

All Rescue Workers Evacuated From Area

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17 (AP) — Blast-torn Texas City went through a second night of fear tonight as flaming oil tanks threatened further explosions to add to the devastation of two days' blasts which left an estimated 650 persons dead and 3,000 injured.

The huge oil tank farm of the Humble Oil Company was burning, the latest conflagration spreading from explosions which blasted three ships in the harbor and destroyed the multi-million-dollar plant of the Monsanto Chemical Company.

Rescue workers evacuated the immediate danger area early tonight and gas masks were passed out as a precaution against the possible spread of poisonous gases from further explosions.

Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, telegraphed Gov. Beauford H. Jester at Austin that there was no necessity for further evacuation. He said, however, that one tank containing a small amount of high-octane gasoline might explode "at any time before tomorrow morning or fires may burn themselves out without further damage."

Oil Tank Explodes

John H. Hill, deputy mayor and a chemical engineer, said that the Humble Oil and Refining Company had abandoned hope of saving any portion of the oil storage tank farm.

He made the announcement shortly after a tank exploded and rocked the city at 6:35 p. m. Hill said that there was no storage of highly-inflammable and explosive butane gas on the farm, but concluded that "we haven't any idea what is in" two spherical tanks on property adjacent to the Humble farm. He asserted that danger of more serious explosions was dependent on the contents of the two tanks, one large and one small.

Two hundred and seventy-one bodies had been counted at a late hour tonight by rescue workers digging into the ruins of the waterfront and industrial area. Of these, 194 had been identified. Many more bodies still lie in the wreckage.

Fire Captain J. B. Ruby, Houston, estimated that anywhere from 75 to 150 bodies remained in the Monsanto plant alone. The company asked surviving workmen to report to designated places here and in Galveston to be counted. About 800 persons were in the plant when it was destroyed.

A memorial service for all of the Texas City dead will be held on the football field at 6 p. m. Saturday by the city's Ministerial Alliance.

More Fire Trucks Sought

Officials asked for more fire trucks from Baytown to help combat the Humble fire. Masked and foam-equipped fire fighters battled the oil flames to prevent their spread to high octane gasoline tanks.

Hill said late today that add fires on the west side of the city had been brought under control. These included two at the Atlantic refinery and one at Republic.

Parker said all zones except the still burning Monsanto area had been checked by rescuers.

Hill said late today that no further explosions were feared, but that fire might spread. (As Al Dopking, Associated Press staffer at the scene, was telephoning his report, a new fire broke out. He said he could see

Texas City Chemical Plant To Be Rebuilt

GALVESTON, Tex., April 17 (AP) —The devastated Monsanto Chemical Company plant at Texas City will be rebuilt on the same site, William M. Rand, St. Louis, Monsanto president, announced tonight.

Even though fires still swept the ravaged plant, the Monsanto executive affirmed that his company would build again, although he admitted that the cost, with higher prices on materials, probably would exceed the $20,000,000 originally expended for construction of the styrene works in 1942.

Curious Cubans Turn Re-enactment Of Shooting Into Wild Scramble

HAVANA, April 17 (AP)—Re-enactment of the shooting of John Lester Mee became a wild scramble today as curious Cubans swarmed aboard the Satira when the yacht docked at a coal pier in Havana harbor.

Patricia Schmidt, charged with homicide in connection with the shooting of the Chicago socialite, burst into tears as she boarded the vessel. The Toledo, Ohio, dancing girl at once became the center of a jostling, jabbering, gesticulating crowd which refused to heed authorities' pleas to go away.

Shaking with sobs and dabbing a yellow handkerchief to her eyes, she sat down on a hatch cover on the bow of the Satira.

"I can't believe that Jack is dead," she said. "All this seems too unreal. I am glad to re-enact this, however, because then the judge will see that what I have told is true."

Miss Schmidt is accused of firing a single shot from a .22-caliber target pistol aboard the yacht April 8 during a quarrel she said resulted from her discovery that Mee already was married to another dancer, Mrs. Mary Dixon Mee, Chicago. Mee, 33-year-old former skipper of a Navy PT boat, died five days later of a virtually severed spinal cord.

Investigating Judge Santiago Mencia ordered the re-enactment for the announced purpose of determining whether it was possible for a five-foot, two-inch girl to fire a bullet downward through the neck of a six-foot, two-inch man. An autopsy report said the bullet took a downward path.

Charles Jackson, 27, River Forest, Ill., joint owner of the yacht with Mee, was excluded by the judge from today's re-enactment. Jackson is accused of being an accessory after the fact by concealing information. The bond in his case was fixed at $10,000.

Wallace, In Stockholm, Says Small Countries Have Major Peace Role

STOCKHOLM, April 17 (AP) — Henry A. Wallace told Swedish newsmen tonight that small European nations have a great, perhaps determining role, to play in the world's search for peace.

Arriving by plane from Britain, the former American Cabinet officer was greeted at the airport by an 80-voice male workers' choir. He was visibly tired but brightened perceptibly at the unexpected reception.

"Small European nations which have the deepest interest in peace," Wallace told reporters at his hotel, "have a great, perhaps determining role to play. Scandinavia is in a key spot because of its geographical position."

LONDON, April 17 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace took a plane for Stockholm today after receiving a declaration from 111 members of Parliament who said they believed with him that any policy which "might divide us from one another or from the U. S. S. R. would be fatal to world peace."

Ending a nine-day stay in Britain that had stirred controversy both here and abroad as a result of his speeches attacking President Truman's foreign policy, Wallace was due to speak again in Stockholm tomorrow, in Oslo Saturday, in Copenhagen Monday, in Paris on Thursday.

The members of Parliament who handed him a letter of thanks for his visit just before he took off from Northolt airport included 107 of the 640 members of the House of Commons. Among them were William Gallacher, one of the two Communist members, a Liberal, an independent and 104 members of the Labor Party.

Two Food Firms Reduce Prices Of Canned Goods

Other Industries Join President's Campaign

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — Canned foods were placed on the "price reduced" shelf today by two food firms, a furniture maker cut prices, and a large Washington, D. C., department store announced mark-downs in a wide variety of goods.

All said they were joining in the President's campaign to halt spiralling prices.

The Jewel Tea Company, big midwest food chain, announced retail price reductions on many canned fruits and vegetables, ranging from 10 cents a can on cherries and blackberries to two cents on tomato juice, hoping to "intensify competition among retailers and encourage reductions in prices at the packer and wholesale level."

The College Inn Food Products Company, processors, said price-cuts were being made in canned chicken, "in line with the President's recommendation."

The Hecht Company, Washington department store, said new low prices will go into effect tomorrow, and their buyers have been ordered to replace inventories at lower level without accepting inferior goods.

The reductions range from $30 on dinette sets to $6 and $10 on women's shoes.

The Howell Company, New York, furniture makers, announced a five per cent reduction in chrome steel chairs, effective April 21, "despite spiralling material and labor costs," to "cooperate with President Truman and leading businessmen to benefit the consumer."

Other pleasant news to consumers included:

A one-cent-a-quart cut in milk in New Jersey.

Survivors Of Ship Blast Tell Story

GALVESTON, Tex., April 17 (AP) — The fire and explosion which practically destroyed Texas City was caused by ammonium nitrate fertilizer, four of the six surviving crew members of the ship where the fire started said tonight.

Contrary to reports that a quantity of black powder on the Victory ship Grandcamp caused the explosion which spread through the thriving industrial section, Morris Lebrozec, a 50-year-old seaman who worked in the engine room, said the fire originated in hold number four.

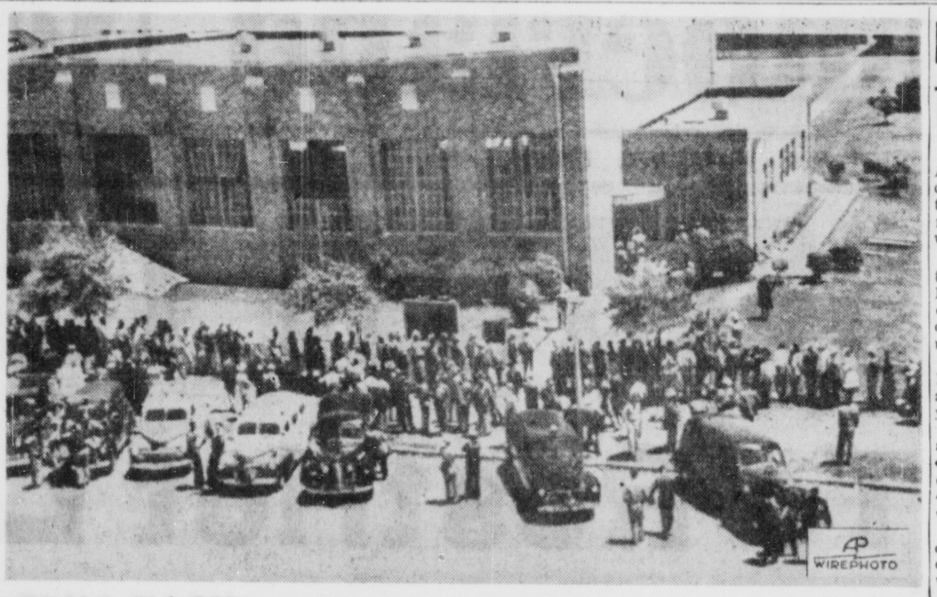

The hold was partly filled with the fertilizer Tuesday and the hatch was closed for the night, Lebrozec, the only English-speaking member of the group, said.

Wednesday morning when the stevedoring crew reported for work the hold was opened by Julien Gueril, the ship's carpenter who is occupying one of the cots in the crew's ward at St. Mary's Infirmary here.

"I saw a little smoke rising from the fertilizer when I opened the hatch," Gueril said. "I picked up a fire extinguisher and started spraying the cargo.

"When the smoke started coming out bigger I closed the hatch and turned on steam in the compartment. The fire kept burning until it made enough pressure to blow off the cover."

Pieces of the ship weighing hundreds of pounds were blown 2,000 feet in the air and some large blocks of metal landed in the business district a mile from the ship.

GRIM TASK—Long lines of people are shown standing at the Texas City, Tex., high school yesterday awaiting their turn to identify the bodies of blast victims. The school gymnasium is being used as a hastily-improvised morgue. Hearses stand in the foreground to carry away the dead as they are claimed.

it through a window, a 2,000-foot column of smoke, but added he did not think it serious.)

City officials and others mapped plans to help homeless victims of the explosions. No grocery stores were in operation today. Only one filling station was open. He said the United States Public Health Service had authorized the expenditure of $40,000 here, and that tomorrow DDT would be sprayed over the city by airplanes.

Workers were cutting their way through heavy steel wreckage in the blasted industrial section searching for more bodies.

Emergency Is Proclaimed

Gov. Jester issued a proclamation declaring a "state of emergency" and outlined plans for relief and rehabilitation after the Texas Legislature paused to pray for the dead and dying of Texas City. Gov. Jester also urged other Texans to pray for the stricken community. The High Flyer exploded early today, 13 hours after another ship, the Grandcamp, set off the chain of blasts that shocked the nation with the magnitude of the disaster.

A hastily-improvised morgue—the high school gymnasium—housed over 200 bodies of embalmed dead. Outside, reatives and friends lined up to enter a few at a time to attempt to identify their dead.

All visitors were barred from Texas City. Only those on essential business, or with state passes, can enter.

The situation was still critical, but a newly-named city official said things were improving. Light and power were restored today, and water treated to prevent contamination.

Most of the city's 15,000 population fled last night. Chlorine gas, among other things, had been a serious threat. At noon today, about 6,000 citizens had returned and a traffic jam developed in downtown Texas City.

Senate's Bill

had the courage to take John L. Lewis by the whiskers."

Rep. Charles Halleck, of Indiana, the Republican leader, marched into the well of the chamber to reply.

"The temper of the people of the country," he said, "demands of Congress that we act today, now, not tomorrow, next month or next year."

A "no" vote, Halleck said, is "a vote to just not have any labor legislation at all." And that, he said, would raise a "threat to the national welfare and security."

Then, on the vote on passage, 215 Republicans and 93 Democrats were for the measure. Opposing the bill were 84 Democrats, joined by 22 Republicans and one American-Laborite.

Scattered cheers greeted the announcement of the vote and scores of Republicans crowded around GOP Floor Leader Halleck and Chairman Hartley (R-NJ), of the Labor Committee, expressing their jubilation over the outcome.

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) — Paced by Gene Desautels, who got two homers, a single, and batted in eight runs, the Toronto Maple Leafs opened the International League season here tonight by blasting the Baltimore Orioles for a 14 to 2 victory.

Trooper Rescues Neglected Tots

LANCASTER, Pa., April 17 (AP)—Two small children—described by state police as ill and so weak from hunger they could not walk—were taken from a ramshackle one-story house under court order today.

Police Sgt. L. F. Owen said the action was prompted by telephone complaints that the tots were being neglected. The two—three-year-old John Younkins and his sister, Esther, two—were taken to a hospital.

Owen was accompanied to the house on the outskirts of the city by Katharine R. Strickler, supervisor of the Community Service Children's Bureau, who declared:

"It was one of the worst cases of child neglect ever called to the attention of the bureau."

Owen reported Mr. and Mrs. Leon Younkins went to Baltimore, Md., seven months ago and left the children with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baer. The Baers, added Owen, said the parents agreed to pay $10 weekly for care of the two but the payments ceased 10 weeks ago.

decision. Vishinsky denied that any veto was involved.

There was no agreement at today's session on any other controversial Austrian issue, such as the French demand that rigid restrictions be clamped on future Austrian manufacturing processes. Formal approval was placed on a number of clauses already approved by the deputies, including limiting of the Austrian army to 35,000 officers and men.

Errors In Driving Top Wreck Causes

PIKESVILLE, Md., April 17 (AP) — A state police survey of highway accidents in Maryland during the first three months of 1947 today showed mistakes in driving cause most wrecks.

The findings upset a popular theory that bad highways, blinding lights, foul weather, rattle-trap cars and physically handicapped drivers contribute heavily to smash-ups.

In the three initial months of 1947 there were 9,669 reportable accidents. In the same period last year there were 8,400.

Fewer were killed, 92 this year and 131 in 1946. Sixty-six of the dead were pedestrians. The number of injured jumped from 3,950 to 4,735. Not quite half the injured were pedestrians.

Of the 9,669 accidents, 7,286 were on level roadways and 5,387 were in daylight. Most of them were in dry weather.

There were 16,898 vehicles and drivers involved in these crashes. Only 1,267 of the cars had mechanical defects. Only 1,828 of the drivers had physical handicaps, and only 1,751 had been drinking. Half of the drivers had been operating automobiles for eleven years or more.

The study found that 81.8 per cent of the accidents were caused by driver's mistakes.

Former Nazi Air Force Chief Given Life Term

NUERNBERG, April 17 (AP)—A three-man United States court today sentenced Field Marshall Erhard Milch to life imprisonment and the former German Air Force chief protested immediately that he should have been tried by men of equal rank instead of American civilian judges.

The 55-year-old former inspector general of the German Air Force was found guilty to rounding up thousands of slave laborers for use in German aircraft factories and permitting the Luftwaffe to experiment with human beings in disregard of the rules of warfare.

Lane Screens Remaining Legislative Enactments

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 17 (AP)—Gov. Lane went back to work today on a stack of legislative enactments that must be examined further before he can sign them.

The Chief Executive said the Attorney General's office was busy screening the remaining measures too. Some of them have been referred to the various departmental heads for comment.

Lane said, "I don't want to be in the position of interfering with their administration, so I am asking for their opinion on some of the bills. After that, I will see how we agree and decide either to sign or veto the bills."

He said he didn't think there would be any more bill signing until late next week, possibly Thursday. He repeated, however, his desire to have the enactments disposed of as soon as possible.

Actress' Bubble Bath Figures In Labor Trial

LOS ANGELES, April 17. (AP)—Paulette Goddard's bubble bath figured today in the trial of 42 auxiliary makeup men who seek membership in an AFL union.

Charles Hansen told Superior Judge Frank M. Smith it was his pleasant duty to prepare the bath for Paulette in a movie not yet released. The soapsuds which prevent too much of Miss Goddard from being seen by the camera, he explained, are white of egg.

Arthur J. Belasco, an expert on wigs, testified that when a movie star has to wear a wig, a makeup man shrinks the thatch with a hot iron until it fits so tightly as to defy detection.

Ticker tape machines, radio-telephones for businessmen, and television and radio entertainment are envisioned for the future by British Overseas Airways.

Two Food Firms Reduce Prices Of Canned Goods

Other Industries Join President's Campaign

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — Canned foods were placed on the "price reduced" shelf today by two food firms, a furniture maker cut prices, and a large Washington, D. C., department store announced mark-downs in a wide variety of goods.

All said they were joining in the President's campaign to halt spiralling prices.

The Jewel Tea Company, big midwest food chain, announced retail price reductions on many canned fruits and vegetables, ranging from 10 cents a can on cherries and blackberries to two cents on tomato juice, hoping to "intensify competition among retailers and encourage reductions in prices at the packer and wholesale level."

The College Inn Food Products Company, processors, said price-cuts were being made in canned chicken, "in line with the President's recommendation."

The Hecht Company, Washington department store, said new low prices will go into effect tomorrow, and their buyers have been ordered to replace inventories at lower level without accepting inferior goods.

The reductions range from $30 on dinette sets to $6 and $10 on women's shoes.

The Howell Company, New York, furniture makers, announced a five per cent reduction in chrome steel chairs, effective April 21, "despite spiralling material and labor costs," to "cooperate with President Truman and leading businessmen to benefit the consumer."

Other pleasant news to consumers included:

A one-cent-a-quart cut in milk in New Jersey.

Survivors Of Ship Blast Tell Story

GALVESTON, Tex., April 17 (AP) — The fire and explosion which practically destroyed Texas City was caused by ammonium nitrate fertilizer, four of the six surviving crew members of the ship where the fire started said tonight.

Contrary to reports that a quantity of black powder on the Victory ship Grandcamp caused the explosion which spread through the thriving industrial section, Morris Lebrozec, a 50-year-old seaman who worked in the engine room, said the fire originated in hold number four.

The hold was partly filled with the fertilizer Tuesday and the hatch was closed for the night, Lebrozec, the only English-speaking member of the group, said.

Wednesday morning when the stevedoring crew reported for work the hold was opened by Julien Gueril, the ship's carpenter who is occupying one of the cots in the crew's ward at St. Mary's Infirmary here.

"I saw a little smoke rising from the fertilizer when I opened the hatch," Gueril said. "I picked up a fire extinguisher and started spraying the cargo.

"When the smoke started coming out bigger I closed the hatch and turned on steam in the compartment. The fire kept burning until it made enough pressure to blow off the cover."

Pieces of the ship weighing hundreds of pounds were blown 2,000 feet in the air and some large blocks of metal landed in the business district a mile from the ship.

GRIM TASK—Long lines of people are shown standing at the Texas City, Tex., high school yesterday awaiting their turn to identify the bodies of blast victims. The school gymnasium is being used as a hastily-improvised morgue. Hearses stand in the foreground to carry away the dead as they are claimed.

it through a window, a 2,000-foot column of smoke, but added he did not think it serious.)

City officials and others mapped plans to help homeless victims of the explosions. No grocery stores were in operation today. Only one filling station was open. He said the United States Public Health Service had authorized the expenditure of $40,000 here, and that tomorrow DDT would be sprayed over the city by airplanes.

Workers were cutting their way through heavy steel wreckage in the blasted industrial section searching for more bodies.

Emergency Is Proclaimed

Gov. Jester issued a proclamation declaring a "state of emergency" and outlined plans for relief and rehabilitation after the Texas Legislature paused to pray for the dead and dying of Texas City. Gov. Jester also urged other Texans to pray for the stricken community. The High Flyer exploded early today, 13 hours after another ship, the Grandcamp, set off the chain of blasts that shocked the nation with the magnitude of the disaster.

A hastily-improvised morgue—the high school gymnasium—housed over 200 bodies of embalmed dead. Outside, reatives and friends lined up to enter a few at a time to attempt to identify their dead.

All visitors were barred from Texas City. Only those on essential business, or with state passes, can enter.

The situation was still critical, but a newly-named city official said things were improving. Light and power were restored today, and water treated to prevent contamination.

Most of the city's 15,000 population fled last night. Chlorine gas, among other things, had been a serious threat. At noon today, about 6,000 citizens had returned and a traffic jam developed in downtown Texas City.

Senate's Bill

had the courage to take John L. Lewis by the whiskers."

Rep. Charles Halleck, of Indiana, the Republican leader, marched into the well of the chamber to reply.

"The temper of the people of the country," he said, "demands of Congress that we act today, now, not tomorrow, next month or next year."

A "no" vote, Halleck said, is "a vote to just not have any labor legislation at all." And that, he said, would raise a "threat to the national welfare and security."

Then, on the vote on passage, 215 Republicans and 93 Democrats were for the measure. Opposing the bill were 84 Democrats, joined by 22 Republicans and one American-Laborite.

Toronto Drubs Orioles

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) — Paced by Gene Desautels, who got two homers, a single, and batted in eight runs, the Toronto Maple Leafs opened the International League season here tonight by blasting the Baltimore Orioles for a 14 to 2 victory.

Trooper Rescues Neglected Tots

LANCASTER, Pa., April 17 (AP)—Two small children—described by state police as ill and so weak from hunger they could not walk—were taken from a ramshackle one-story house under court order today.

Police Sgt. L. F. Owen said the action was prompted by telephone complaints that the tots were being neglected. The two—three-year-old John Younkins and his sister, Esther, two—were taken to a hospital.

Owen was accompanied to the house on the outskirts of the city by Katharine R. Strickler, supervisor of the Community Service Children's Bureau, who declared:

"It was one of the worst cases of child neglect ever called to the attention of the bureau."

Owen reported Mr. and Mrs. Leon Younkins went to Baltimore, Md., seven months ago and left the children with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baer. The Baers, added Owen, said the parents agreed to pay $10 weekly for care of the two but the payments ceased 10 weeks ago.

decision. Vishinsky denied that any veto was involved.

There was no agreement at today's session on any other controversial Austrian issue, such as the French demand that rigid restrictions be clamped on future Austrian manufacturing processes. Formal approval was placed on a number of clauses already approved by the deputies, including limiting of the Austrian army to 35,000 officers and men.

Errors In Driving Top Wreck Causes

PIKESVILLE, Md., April 17 (AP) — A state police survey of highway accidents in Maryland during the first three months of 1947 today showed mistakes in driving cause most wrecks.

The findings upset a popular theory that bad highways, blinding lights, foul weather, rattle-trap cars and physically handicapped drivers contribute heavily to smash-ups.

In the three initial months of 1947 there were 9,669 reportable accidents. In the same period last year there were 8,400.

Fewer were killed, 92 this year and 131 in 1946. Sixty-six of the dead were pedestrians. The number of injured jumped from 3,950 to 4,735. Not quite half the injured were pedestrians.

Of the 9,669 accidents, 7,286 were on level roadways and 5,387 were in daylight. Most of them were in dry weather.

There were 16,898 vehicles and drivers involved in these crashes. Only 1,267 of the cars had mechanical defects. Only 1,828 of the drivers had physical handicaps, and only 1,751 had been drinking. Half of the drivers had been operating automobiles for eleven years or more.

The study found that 81.8 per cent of the accidents were caused by driver's mistakes.

Former Nazi Air Force Chief Given Life Term

NUERNBERG, April 17 (AP)—A three-man United States court today sentenced Field Marshall Erhard Milch to life imprisonment and the former German Air Force chief protested immediately that he should have been tried by men of equal rank instead of American civilian judges.

The 55-year-old former inspector general of the German Air Force was found guilty to rounding up thousands of slave laborers for use in German aircraft factories and permitting the Luftwaffe to experiment with human beings in disregard of the rules of warfare.

Lane Screens Remaining Legislative Enactments

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 17 (AP)—Gov. Lane went back to work today on a stack of legislative enactments that must be examined further before he can sign them.

The Chief Executive said the Attorney General's office was busy screening the remaining measures too. Some of them have been referred to the various departmental heads for comment.

Lane said, "I don't want to be in the position of interfering with their administration, so I am asking for their opinion on some of the bills. After that, I will see how we agree and decide either to sign or veto the bills."

He said he didn't think there would be any more bill signing until late next week, possibly Thursday. He repeated, however, his desire to have the enactments disposed of as soon as possible.

Actress' Bubble Bath Figures In Labor Trial

LOS ANGELES, April 17. (AP)—Paulette Goddard's bubble bath figured today in the trial of 42 auxiliary makeup men who seek membership in an AFL union.

Charles Hansen told Superior Judge Frank M. Smith it was his pleasant duty to prepare the bath for Paulette in a movie not yet released. The soapsuds which prevent too much of Miss Goddard from being seen by the camera, he explained, are white of egg.

Arthur J. Belasco, an expert on wigs, testified that when a movie star has to wear a wig, a makeup man shrinks the thatch with a hot iron until it fits so tightly as to defy detection.

Ticker tape machines, radio-telephones for businessmen, and television and radio entertainment are envisioned for the future by British Overseas Airways.

Apple pie without peeling apples or cutting in shortening!

Empty out apple slices from large carton. Add 1⅔ cups warm water. Let stand 10 minutes. Add only ½ cup sugar.

Empty out piecrust mix from smaller carton. Add ¼ cup cold water. Mix, roll out. Line pan. (Makes 2-crust 8-inch pie.)

Pour apple filling into pastry-lined pan. Add top crust. Slide pie into oven. Twice as quick! And wonderful pie every time.

You'll be thrilled with your pie!

CHOICE PIE APPLES are used for Pyequick. Specially quick-dried and puffed. Crisp firm slices. Not like ordinary dried apples. Not limp or leathery or wrinkled. And they have that delicious fresh-apple flavor. You'll see! The slices hold their shape, yet bake up tender. They make such a homey tasting apple filling! Sweet, fragrant and juicy.

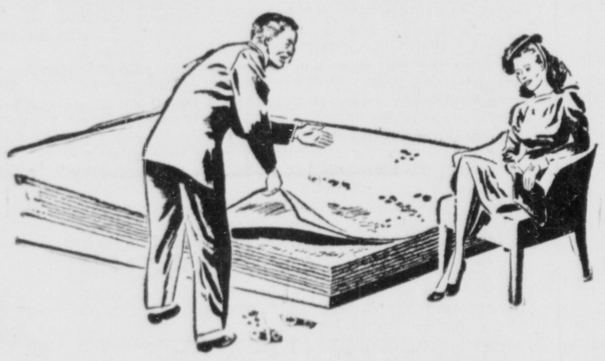

SUPERB PASTRY MIX: A blend of Gold Medal Enriched Flour, pure vegetable shortening and salt. Correctly proportioned, skilfully blended, for the best results in making pastry.

TWICE AS EASY! And a scrumptious pie every time with Pyequick. Made by millers of Gold Medal Flour. Tested by our General Mills foods staff. No refrigeration necessary. Now you can have fresh-baked apple pie on short notice.

Corrective Labor Bills Need Not Be Too Extreme

That the American people do not want labor stripped of power to improve its lot or of protection for its necessary rights, is certain, we feel sure. We also are sure, and almost every test of opinion has shown, that a great majority does want fair, corrective labor legislation.

But Philip Murray, William Green and John L. Lewis have made the same mistake of the shepherd boy who made a habit of yelling "wolf!" every day until finally he got himself in a jam. For years they have denounced an opposed every suggestion, however, mild, that the Federal Government require more responsible use of the enormous power it has given organized labor. Now they are crying for the public —which has suffered under countless abuses of that power—to help them fight what may be a real wolf. They can thank themselves if large sections of the public don't rush to the rescue.

When a Republican Congress was elected, with a clear mandate to enact corrective labor legislation, the union leaders wouldn't get wise. Instead of helping to shape moderate measures, they objected to every proposal and offered no substitute, although many workers, high in the ranks of labor, have appeared before the congressional committees to urge that legislation to protect their rights in organized circles be enacted. In the face of this the clamor of the leaders against the bills on which Congress is preparing to act carries less conviction than, perhaps, some believe it should.

Their blind, obstructive attitude cannot justify Congress in forgetting that, after all, the welfare of millions of workers is concerned. At the same time, Congress should not try to do too much and end with nothing done, or with a law that might prove, in some respects, impractical or injurious.

Republicans, we believe, should approach such legislation with the thought that it is not possible to correct, at one stroke, everything that everybody thinks is wrong with the labor movement.

It is possible to make a good start now, and extremists who risk losing this opportunity to correct some of the abuses are playing into the hands of the do-nothing union leaders.

France, prepared for 200,000 tourists, strongly invites Americans, according to a news item. Hands out for the money in the pockets that cross the sea.

Businessman's Viewpoint On Government Business

It is only natural for a businessman to look at a Government problem as he would look at a business problem. So Charles R. Thebaut, president of the National Association of Independent Tire Dealers, Inc., believes we can reduce the Government debt, cut taxes and achieve efficiency by the simple method of eliminating waste in Government.

In a letter to each member of the Senate and House he points out how necessary it is to get on a firm financial basis. He realizes that existing inefficiency is a carry-over from the war. He fears some are taking this as a natural situation, forgetting that during the war the emphasis was on saving lives rather than dollars.

Mr. Thebaut says many merchants have expanded beyond their financial capabilities and that, unless business concerns, especially smaller ones, institute economies, "we can look for a mortality in small business that has, up to this time, been unheard of."

He believes tax reduction is of utmost importance because, he points out, "business people are not being allowed to set up sufficient reserves to carry them through the lean periods. Taxes should be reduced so that reserves can be set up which will enable small businessmen to remain in business, because their elimination will make fewer taxpayers and the burden will fall on a select group, who will themselves be crushed under the load."

Mr. Thebaut insists, however, that the need for economy is not confined to business organizations or the Federal Government, but must include all levels of government. He is urging every American citizen to take a closer look at his county, state and Federal expenses.

If more businessmen took more interest in government we would have a more businesslike Government.

Churchill Hasn't Monopoly On Brains In His Family

Randolph Churchill looks like his famous father and thinks like his famous father. If he doesn't talk like his famous father, it is because nobody in the world can do that.

But there was the authentic Winston Churchill ring to some of the sound and sensible things Randolph Churchill said in a speech to the Advertising Club of Buffalo, N. Y. just before returning to England. The younger Churchill believes as firmly as his father believes that free peoples must stand together against the menace presented by Communist Russia — but he doesn't think free peoples ought to permit themselves to be frightened by that menace.

Far from being "one of the two great powers left," he contends, Russia isn't a first-class world power at all in the same all-around military sense as the United States, because of Russia's lack of three things —a navy, and operative air force comparable to the western powers' and, last but not least, the secret of atomic energy.

Indeed, Mr. Churchill thinks that in America, Britain and the other free nations, "We have been like nervous old women looking under the bed for imaginary burglars." We have been asking ourselves apprehensively the question: "What will Russia do?" Now Russia is asking: "What will America do?" Mr. Churchill thinks this is as it should be.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

WEIGHT GAIN DURING PREGNANCY

THE pregnant woman is interested in knowing how much weight it is safe for her to gain. Most physicians agree that the total should not be more than 25 above the ideal poundage for her height and age and they would probably settle for a sum between 17 and 23.

In the first three months, little if any is acquired but thereafter, approximately one-half pound per week can be expected. The woman who gorges herself, believing that she "must eat for two" is likely to overstep this level. Some pick up from 40 to 60 extra pounds and, after the baby comes, are surprised when they do not revelt to their old avoirdupois.

Thus the lost figure is blamed on the pregnancy rather than too much food. As the pattern of overeating becomes more firmly established it is difficult to break and many obese middle aged women trace the first impetus to chubbiness to the time when they were carrying junior.

The mother does not eat to make the baby larger or smaller, but to maintain her health and that of the child. Consequently, more attention must be paid to quality than quantity. This means that the meals should be well balanced and not only meet the caloric needs but provide the essentials. They must contain enough protein, calcium, phosphorous, iron, and vitamins A, B, C, and D. Anything outside such menus will be consumed for its appeal an dshould be so arranged that the weight accumulation proceeds in an orderly fashion. In some instances supplementary vitamins and calcium in tablet form are given.

The intake of nutriment has no significant effect on the size of the baby, provided the basic foods are ingested. Thus those who put on only a small amount of flesh do not necessarily have tiny infants; nor do the good eaters who become veritable butterballs have large youngsters. Reams have been written on this subject in the medical journals and in some instances, the conclusions have been controversial.

Klein(for example, found that there was no correlation between the maternal weight and that of the child. In this group, one woman had lost 3.2 pounds during pregnancy and bore a 5 pound 14 ounce girl. On the other hand, another who had annexed 48.25 pounds was delivered of a 6 pound 5.5 ounce daughter. The average increase for the entire group in the series was estimated at 21.05 pounds while the average weight of the newborns was 7 pounds 6 ounces.

This author mentions other reports which are of interest. Hannah observed 236 mothers who amassed an average of 13.2 pounds but gave birth to infants weighing 7 pounds 13 ounces. Beilley and Kurland studied 979 patients who added 22.28 pounds yet their blessed events averaged 7 pounds 3 ounces.

Apparently other factors determine the baby's size. It may be a family characteristic. There is general agreement on one observation, however—boys are usually heavier than girls.

NOTICEABLE VEIN

D. L. writes: Sometimes the vein on top of my right foot rises real high. What causes this? I am 15 years old.

REPLY

This is not unusual and may be normal. The prominence of the veins depends on how much blood is flowing thru. The volume usually increases after standing, sitting with the knees crossed, and in the presence of warmth. The phenomenon likewise occurs when the circulation is retarded thru the use of round garters.

BONE INFECTION

Mrs. V. F. writes: My 5 year old daughter has osteomyelitis in one of her legs. Is there any special food I can give her to held build her bones to fight it?

REPLY

A diet high in calories, vitamins, and minerals (especially calcium) is advised This will help to maintain her general condition while her physician is trying to curb the infection.

It Says Here By BOB HOPE

Mr. S. J. Solomon, an aviation executive of Washington, D. C., is starting a non-luxury, low-price airline to be run like railroad day coaches.

This may well revolutionize travel customs. At every stop, the butcher boys will come on selling candy bars, newspapers, and reports of the weather over Las Vegas. Instead of the usual waxed paper their sandwiches will be wrapped in small parachutes.

This will put a stop to those long boring stories you used to hear. Now the traveling salesmen will have to tell quickies.

And at night they won't bring around pillows to rest your head on. The hostess will just hand out a few blown-up air pockets. Of course, now they'll have to change the old railroad classic from "Casey Jones" to "Roomers Are Flying".

The oldtime day coach travelers will probably miss those cinders in their eyes, but I'm sure they'll be more than compensated by dodging Sunday pilots and low flying falcons.

If this catches on, a great many more people will be flying and fewer will be using ground transportation. That's when you'll start hearing jokes about how hard it is for pedestrians to cross the clouds over Hollywood and Vine.

And I hear that Mad Man Muntz is giving the situation quite a bit of thought. In fact, he's already bought an autogiro so he can pull over to every plane that passes, give it a rough estimate, and yell over a quick bid.

All in all, I think the day coach airline can be a fine thing and it will even be good when my brother travels. He'll find it a lot more roomy lying in the bomb racks than he did sleeping next to the wheel.

Senators' Wives Debate Cost Of Living; House Republicans Glum Over New Labor Bill; Independent Republicans Will Vote Against Measure

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—American housewives will be glad to know that the high cost of living worries the wives of Senators as well as the rest of us.

Last week, Mrs. Truman and Mrs. James F. Byrnes were guests of honor at a dinner given by Mrs. Burton K. Wheeler, wife of the ex-Senator from Montana. The ladies present were the wives of Senators who had served with Wheeler, including blonde Mrs. Gerald Nye, wife of the ex-Senator from North Dakota.

The ladies got started on the high cost of living when Mrs. Lister Hill, wife of the stalwart Senator from Alabama, told about an English friend who recently arrived in this country.

"She was shocked at the cost of things over here," Mrs. Hill said. "Just the other day, she told me she wants to go back to England to buy some clothes. Even though the trip would be expensive, she thinks she'd save enough by buying her clothes in London — where prices are still controlled — to make the trip worth while."

Mrs. Bob Taft, whose husband led the fight to kill OPA, stiffened visibly. Noticing this, Mrs. Hill added:

"Of course, in England the taxes are still terribly high—they pay an income tax there far higher than we pay here."

Mrs. Taft did not have any answer on the price comparison, but she bridled at Mrs. Hill's remark about income taxes.

"That's not true," she said. "The fact is that although the British may pay more of a federal income tax, when you add in the state you find that we are paying at least as much income taxes here and I think more."

Mrs. Taft spoke at some length about high U. S. taxes, and it was evident that she was 100 per cent behind her husband in his demand for lower taxes. The other ladies didn't argue, and the conversation finally drifted on to the cherry blossoms, the weather and less controversial things.

Gloomy Secret Caucus

It was a none-too-happy caucus House Republicans held early this week as they prepared to steamroller the harsh Hartley Labor Bill through the House of Representatives. Although there was little open opposition, many Republicans representing large labor constituencies.

Level-headed Speaker Joe Martin opened the meeting by reading the 1946 GOP platform—pledging curbed labor abuses, lower taxes, reduced expenditures and a purge of Communists from Government payrolls. When he came to the Communist plank, the Speaker remarked:

"Harry thought that one such a good idea that he's trying to take the plank away from us."

New Jersey's Fred Hartley, Chairman of the Labor Committee, then read various letters warning that the strike situation was terrible and something must be done about it. As he proceeded, Hartley began to wave his arms and get red in the face. By the time he got to an explanation of the various sections of the bill, he was shouting.

It is incorrect, he claimed, to call the bill anti-labor.

"This bill provides what the workingman wants—it is his emancipation," Hartley said. Members who listened to Hartley at the secret meeting could not recall that he explained just how the bill provides emancipation for the worker. He did emphasize that it was needed to stop 900 pending strikes.

Cool majority leader Charley Halleck of Indiana followed Hartley, with a brief pep talk reiterating Republican pledges to curb labor abuses.

"It is our solemn purpose," he orated, "to redeem to the American people every campaign pledge we have made."

As for the bill, Halleck said he supports it as fully as Speaker Martin and other party leaders, though admitting vaguely that "maybe it goes too far in some respects." He said that it represented the views of all but four members of the Labor Committee and was arrived at after long and conscientious effort.

Coal Congressmen Rebel

Flannel-mouthed Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan also complained about the labor bill—but only because it was not harsh enough. In five minutes of rhetoric (to which time he was limited), Hoffman dismissed the measure as "innocuous." Later, in the cloakroom, Hoffman blamed majority leader Halleck for what he termed the "watering down of the provisions on the closed shop."

Flatly recording himself in opposition to the bill was Rep. Runt Bishop, who comes from the Illinois coal fields and who declared that passage of legislation to rule out industry-wide collective bargaining will make northern coal miners and mine operators the "goats of the southern operators."

Bishop termed the labor bill "class legislation," in that large firms such as Ford and Chrysler will be permitted to bargain for all their plants whereas small employers have to bargain separately, with nothing like the resources of Ford to back them up as they argue with the unions.

Industry-wide bargaining, Bishop explained, has meant higher wages for southern coal miners, with prices for southern and northern coal thus kept fairly close together. Likewise the pressure of the southern miners has tended to keep wages in northern mines from rising too quickly. The end of industry-wide bargaining, he predicted, will lead to a bitter price war between northern and southern coal operators with the cards stacked for the southerners.

"That's why if I were a Southern Democrat I would think this is a fine bill and would support it all the way," Bishop told the closed-door session.

As an Illinois Republican, he make it plain he would not support the bill. Representative Snyder of West Virginia and Jenkins of Ohio, both from mining districts, expressed similar opinions.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

I got a little high on a movie the other night. It's called "The Farmer's Daughter." I think it's the gayest thing in celluloid since "It Happened One Night." It even made me kind of sweet on Loretta Young, who up to now has been just another face in the movie magazines to me.

Billy Rose

The feeling-good feeling about this film carried over to the following afternoon. Knowing how hard it is to make theatre magic, I began to wonder who had pulled this four-star rabbit out of the hat. I checked and learned it was produced by Dore Schary, who had recently been installed as bossman of the RKO lot.

"Dore Schary?" I wondered out loud. "Who dat?"

I did a little asking around, and I like what I found out.

I think it's worth some white space. The top man of a movie producing corporation is an important piece in the American jigsaw puzzle. It's something like being editor of 18,000 papers—we have that many screens in this country. He's apt to carry more weight than all our school teachers put together. What he wants to get across is delivered by the world's most attractive people to 85,000,000 pupils a week.

If he's a good Joe, he can do us a lot of good. If he's a wrongo, he can do more to undermine our way of life than a jet-propelled termite.

Dore Schary shapes up like a good Joe. Two of his movies, "Joe Smith, American" and "Boys Town," were not only tingly entertainment, but scored one for our side. And by "our side," I mean the side that wants no part of totalitarianism, whether home-grown or imported. Wrapped up in the ribbons and pretty paper of "The Farmer's Daughter," Dore has slipped in a Can of Rough-on-Rats for Gerald L. K. Smith and the rest of the Hood-and-Arm-Band set.

He was born in Newark, N. J., in 1905. While giving his first pair of longies a test run, he walked by one of those Little Theatres. He sneaked in to watch a rehearsal and was chucked out. After a while, they got tired of chucking him out, and let him pass out programs and run for chocolate sodas. This hot-eyed kid played bits, painted scenery, and made off-stage noises. In his spare time, he peddled Christmas cards, hawked neckties and wrote plays.

Fourteen years ago, he put his extra pair of socks in his pocket and went to Hollywood. He got a job there in a salt mine, better known as a picture studio. As a junior writer for Columbia, he wrote 30 pictures in four years—a busy drone among the B's.

In 1937, one of the big brains at M-G-M tagged him. The following Spring he blushed prettily as the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences handed him the gold statuette for scripting "Boys Town."

At Metro he produced some low-budget pictures which grossed high-budget dough. One of them was "Lassie Come Home." Then he ambled over to the Selznick genius factory and master-minded "I'll Be Seeing You." On loan-out to RKO, he rang a loud box-office bell with "Spiral Staircase."

"More," said RKO.

Dore obliged with "Till the End of Time." Then he knocked the ball out of the park with "The Farmer's Daughter."

The gents who own the voting majority of RKO stock certificates met around the long table. They blew a lot of cigar smoke at each other and elected Dore Schary, Executive Vice-President in Charge of Production. Short title: Boss.

I know this success story reads like seed catalogue stuff. Dore fouled up this biographer by failing to stop the runaway horse and save the boss's daughter. But in this "he-did-this-he-did-that" recital, one significant thing comes through to me: He learned how to make pictures by making pictures. Schary is not a transplanted Broadway playwright, nor an English novelist from the Sunday Book Review Section.

He's a movie mug. And if the banker fellows don't interfere with this movie mug, I'm willing to bet an old stereoptican slide he'll make a real company out of RKO.

Incidentally, I'm glad to see Hollywood add another slugger to its line-up. Some of those recent English movies are awfully good.

Right To Work Comes To Fore On One Piece Of Legislation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 17. — The "left wing" has certainly started out on a campaign to discredit any or all legislation which might protect the public interest as against monopolistic strikes or unjustified work stoppages.

The Democratic Party is divided on labor issues, so the line-up is not just between Democrats and Republicans. There are lots of Democrats who are sick and tired of misrepresentation by labor-union lobbyists and who see the real issue as one in which the individual worker needs more protection from abuses than does management.

Thus, the right to work has really come to the fore for the first time on a specific piece of legislation. There is no real difference, for instance, between the "closed shop" and the "union shop" so far as compulsory unionization is concerned. In both instances the employee who doesn't want to join a union forfeits his right to a job. That isn't liberalism but tyranny.

The House Republican leaders, however, are trying to evade the issue by legalizing the "union shop." This is probably being done because the American Federation of Labor has so many closed shops of this type that it is evidently desired that the friendship of the AFL be retained. This is a decision in expediency which ignores principle.

Theory Seen As Fallacious

The theory that the labor groups will be less antagonistic if they are permitted a "union shop" and not a "closed shop" is fallacious. Both the AFL and CIO lobbies intend to fight any and all legislation and to put pressure on President Truman to veto any labor bill that comes to him.

As for the rank and file of American workingmen, they are waiting to see whether Congress will protect them against high-pressure tactics by labor-union leaders. The need for reform in handling labor unions is long overdue.

The issues, however, are being beclouded by the New Dealers and pro-labor leaders in Congress who are crying out that unions are about to be broken up, "starvation wages" are about to be paid, and a lot of other misstatements which hide the truth about the whole problem. Other cries from New Dealers are that the clock is being turned back to the "dark ages"—extreme statements that are just not true.

The truth is very simple. Collective bargaining is here to stay for workers who want it. Employers will not be permitted to interfere. But the time has come to protect the workers against the abuses by organizers and by the misstatements of those who claim to be working for the interests of the workers and who really are not.

Congress has a duty to see that workers and management get a square deal and the intention is to enact a law in which a national board represents the interests of labor and management alike instead of labor alone. The National Labor Relations Board has interpreted the Wagner Law to mean it must support unions because the law's preamble speaks of the desirability of encouraging collective bargaining.

The intimidation and coercion prevalent among workers who are dragooned into unions by misrepresentations which the employers do not dare to answer without risking a lawsuit and an "unfair labor practice" charge has become a scandal. To correct these abuses is the purpose of the new legislation.

Monopolists Always Die Hard

But the possessors of special privilege and the monopolists always die hard. They accuse anyone who wishes to disturb the status quo as bent on destruction of all liberty. Even some of the Republicans who recognize the importance of making substantial changes in the law are being persuaded that in the matter of the "union shop" it is better to let matters stay as they are.

As a sop to the opponents of the idea of compulsory unionization, a weak provision has been inserted in the pending House bill to permit "union shops" to be banned if a majority of the employees vote against it or if state law forbids. This is really passing the buck to the states and would produce many complications, especially in the way of activities of national unions which operate across state lines and which are sure to challenge such state laws as invalid.

The new labor legislation is going to be vetoed by the President, anyhow, so decisions of expediency are not to be compensated for by any labor support for the bill. It is the rank and file of labor which needs to be protected. Abolishing compulsory unionization will earn the gratitude of the citizen who believes that the constitution gives him the right to work and that he need not pay an initiation fee or dues to any union.

(Reproduction Rights Reserved)

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

IN a free country, the law must be enforced without regard to individual position, prestige, desire or whim. Otherwise freedom degenerates; the rights of all become subordinate to the will of one. The basic theory of the American political system is the equality of all before the law. The individual may, as Al Capone did, break the law as a matter of personal choice, but it is the obligation of the authorities to prosecute all law-breakers.

Henry Wallace, on his British tour, violated the Logan Act, which is the law of the land. Many Americans have violated the Logan Act, but few have been prosecuted under it. The Attorney General of the United States exercises an option in ignoring this Act which forbids a private citizens to participate in diplomatic relations with a foreign government except by official permission.

I once had some experience with this law. Back in 1919, George Fitch, an American missionary, and I were engaged in assisting Chinese in an anti-Japanese boycott leading to the rejection of the Versailles Treaty by China. We negotiated with various Chinese officials concerning China's anti-Japanese policies. Our conduct was not in line with that of the American government. The American Consul-General in Shanghai called us in, read the Logan Act to us, and warned us that unless we desisted from our pursuit of private diplomacy, our passports would be revoked. Nothing that we did then compared, as a violation of the act, with what Henry Wallace has done in England or plans to do in France.

It seems to have become customary for the Attorney General to decide, on his own, to waive the law, as for example, his refusal to act in criminal matters—or if the word, refusal, is inaccurate, the word, neglect, might be more correct. In such matters, the Attorney General becomes both prosecutor and court. He substitutes his private judgment, on the grounds, usually, that the Courts would become clogged with matters that could not be maintained. That may be sound administration, but it is bad law. In matters of criminal libel, for instance, the neglect of the law is really a waiver of the rights of the plaintiff in the interest of a powerful defendant who can proceed to defame, smear, slander and lie about citizens to his heart's delight.

Again, it is sound law that an Act of Congress, approved by the President, is binding until declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. Similarly, an act of a state legislature, signed by a governor, is good law until declared unconstitutional by due process in court. The law must be obeyed unless a court has estopped it. Only the Supreme Court of the United States can finally declare a law unconstitutional. In no other body or person is such authority vested.

Yet, in New Jersey, mayors of cities have declined to enforce a law, passed by the legislature and signed by Governor Driscoll, on the ground that they doubt the constitutionality of the act. They have no authority to waive a law on their private judgment. In fact, under the law, they may not exercise private judgment. They are bound to enforce the law whether they like it or not, whether they think the law good or bad.

Similarly, lawyers have advised their clients to disobey the law without going into a court to estop its enforcement. When a lawyer does that, he advises his client to be an anarchist. If every lawyer substitued his private opinion for the law and instructed his client bad advice, as John L. Lewis learned in the Supreme Court.

What is involved here is not the right or wrong of particular instances, but the fundamentals of an orderly government for a free people. Unless we have a government by law, we cannot maintain political, economic or social order. Where there is confusion, freedom swiftly disappears as men see to establish order by force. The real peril is that violence against the law will ultimately lead to violence against the rights of the individual.

Corrective Labor Bills Need Not Be Too Extreme

That the American people do not want labor stripped of power to improve its lot or of protection for its necessary rights, is certain, we feel sure. We also are sure, and almost every test of opinion has shown, that a great majority does want fair, corrective labor legislation.

But Philip Murray, William Green and John L. Lewis have made the same mistake of the shepherd boy who made a habit of yelling "wolf!" every day until finally he got himself in a jam. For years they have denounced an opposed every suggestion, however, mild, that the Federal Government require more responsible use of the enormous power it has given organized labor. Now they are crying for the public —which has suffered under countless abuses of that power—to help them fight what may be a real wolf. They can thank themselves if large sections of the public don't rush to the rescue.

When a Republican Congress was elected, with a clear mandate to enact corrective labor legislation, the union leaders wouldn't get wise. Instead of helping to shape moderate measures, they objected to every proposal and offered no substitute, although many workers, high in the ranks of labor, have appeared before the congressional committees to urge that legislation to protect their rights in organized circles be enacted. In the face of this the clamor of the leaders against the bills on which Congress is preparing to act carries less conviction than, perhaps, some believe it should.

Their blind, obstructive attitude cannot justify Congress in forgetting that, after all, the welfare of millions of workers is concerned. At the same time, Congress should not try to do too much and end with nothing done, or with a law that might prove, in some respects, impractical or injurious.

Republicans, we believe, should approach such legislation with the thought that it is not possible to correct, at one stroke, everything that everybody thinks is wrong with the labor movement.

It is possible to make a good start now, and extremists who risk losing this opportunity to correct some of the abuses are playing into the hands of the do-nothing union leaders.

France, prepared for 200,000 tourists, strongly invites Americans, according to a news item. Hands out for the money in the pockets that cross the sea.

Businessman's Viewpoint On Government Business

It is only natural for a businessman to look at a Government problem as he would look at a business problem. So Charles R. Thebaut, president of the National Association of Independent Tire Dealers, Inc., believes we can reduce the Government debt, cut taxes and achieve efficiency by the simple method of eliminating waste in Government.

In a letter to each member of the Senate and House he points out how necessary it is to get on a firm financial basis. He realizes that existing inefficiency is a carry-over from the war. He fears some are taking this as a natural situation, forgetting that during the war the emphasis was on saving lives rather than dollars.

Mr. Thebaut says many merchants have expanded beyond their financial capabilities and that, unless business concerns, especially smaller ones, institute economies, "we can look for a mortality in small business that has, up to this time, been unheard of."

He believes tax reduction is of utmost importance because, he points out, "business people are not being allowed to set up sufficient reserves to carry them through the lean periods. Taxes should be reduced so that reserves can be set up which will enable small businessmen to remain in business, because their elimination will make fewer taxpayers and the burden will fall on a select group, who will themselves be crushed under the load."

Mr. Thebaut insists, however, that the need for economy is not confined to business organizations or the Federal Government, but must include all levels of government. He is urging every American citizen to take a closer look at his county, state and Federal expenses.

If more businessmen took more interest in government we would have a more businesslike Government.

Churchill Hasn't Monopoly On Brains In His Family

Randolph Churchill looks like his famous father and thinks like his famous father. If he doesn't talk like his famous father, it is because nobody in the world can do that.

But there was the authentic Winston Churchill ring to some of the sound and sensible things Randolph Churchill said in a speech to the Advertising Club of Buffalo, N. Y. just before returning to England. The younger Churchill believes as firmly as his father believes that free peoples must stand together against the menace presented by Communist Russia — but he doesn't think free peoples ought to permit themselves to be frightened by that menace.

Far from being "one of the two great powers left," he contends, Russia isn't a first-class world power at all in the same all-around military sense as the United States, because of Russia's lack of three things —a navy, and operative air force comparable to the western powers' and, last but not least, the secret of atomic energy.

Indeed, Mr. Churchill thinks that in America, Britain and the other free nations, "We have been like nervous old women looking under the bed for imaginary burglars." We have been asking ourselves apprehensively the question: "What will Russia do?" Now Russia is asking: "What will America do?" Mr. Churchill thinks this is as it should be.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

WEIGHT GAIN DURING PREGNANCY

THE pregnant woman is interested in knowing how much weight it is safe for her to gain. Most physicians agree that the total should not be more than 25 above the ideal poundage for her height and age and they would probably settle for a sum between 17 and 23.

In the first three months, little if any is acquired but thereafter, approximately one-half pound per week can be expected. The woman who gorges herself, believing that she "must eat for two" is likely to overstep this level. Some pick up from 40 to 60 extra pounds and, after the baby comes, are surprised when they do not revelt to their old avoirdupois.

Thus the lost figure is blamed on the pregnancy rather than too much food. As the pattern of overeating becomes more firmly established it is difficult to break and many obese middle aged women trace the first impetus to chubbiness to the time when they were carrying junior.

The mother does not eat to make the baby larger or smaller, but to maintain her health and that of the child. Consequently, more attention must be paid to quality than quantity. This means that the meals should be well balanced and not only meet the caloric needs but provide the essentials. They must contain enough protein, calcium, phosphorous, iron, and vitamins A, B, C, and D. Anything outside such menus will be consumed for its appeal an dshould be so arranged that the weight accumulation proceeds in an orderly fashion. In some instances supplementary vitamins and calcium in tablet form are given.

The intake of nutriment has no significant effect on the size of the baby, provided the basic foods are ingested. Thus those who put on only a small amount of flesh do not necessarily have tiny infants; nor do the good eaters who become veritable butterballs have large youngsters. Reams have been written on this subject in the medical journals and in some instances, the conclusions have been controversial.

Klein(for example, found that there was no correlation between the maternal weight and that of the child. In this group, one woman had lost 3.2 pounds during pregnancy and bore a 5 pound 14 ounce girl. On the other hand, another who had annexed 48.25 pounds was delivered of a 6 pound 5.5 ounce daughter. The average increase for the entire group in the series was estimated at 21.05 pounds while the average weight of the newborns was 7 pounds 6 ounces.

This author mentions other reports which are of interest. Hannah observed 236 mothers who amassed an average of 13.2 pounds but gave birth to infants weighing 7 pounds 13 ounces. Beilley and Kurland studied 979 patients who added 22.28 pounds yet their blessed events averaged 7 pounds 3 ounces.

Apparently other factors determine the baby's size. It may be a family characteristic. There is general agreement on one observation, however—boys are usually heavier than girls.

NOTICEABLE VEIN

D. L. writes: Sometimes the vein on top of my right foot rises real high. What causes this? I am 15 years old.

REPLY

This is not unusual and may be normal. The prominence of the veins depends on how much blood is flowing thru. The volume usually increases after standing, sitting with the knees crossed, and in the presence of warmth. The phenomenon likewise occurs when the circulation is retarded thru the use of round garters.

BONE INFECTION

Mrs. V. F. writes: My 5 year old daughter has osteomyelitis in one of her legs. Is there any special food I can give her to held build her bones to fight it?

REPLY

A diet high in calories, vitamins, and minerals (especially calcium) is advised This will help to maintain her general condition while her physician is trying to curb the infection.

It Says Here

By Bob Hope

Mr. S. J. Solomon, an aviation executive of Washington, D. C., is starting a non-luxury, low-price airline to be run like railroad day coaches.

This may well revolutionize travel customs. At every stop, the butcher boys will come on selling candy bars, newspapers, and reports of the weather over Las Vegas. Instead of the usual waxed paper their sandwiches will be wrapped in small parachutes.

This will put a stop to those long boring stories you used to hear. Now the traveling salesmen will have to tell quickies.

And at night they won't bring around pillows to rest your head on. The hostess will just hand out a few blown-up air pockets. Of course, now they'll have to change the old railroad classic from "Casey Jones" to "Roomers Are Flying".

The oldtime day coach travelers will probably miss those cinders in their eyes, but I'm sure they'll be more than compensated by dodging Sunday pilots and low flying falcons.

If this catches on, a great many more people will be flying and fewer will be using ground transportation. That's when you'll start hearing jokes about how hard it is for pedestrians to cross the clouds over Hollywood and Vine.

And I hear that Mad Man Muntz is giving the situation quite a bit of thought. In fact, he's already bought an autogiro so he can pull over to every plane that passes, give it a rough estimate, and yell over a quick bid.

All in all, I think the day coach airline can be a fine thing and it will even be good when my brother travels. He'll find it a lot more roomy lying in the bomb racks than he did sleeping next to the wheel.

Last week, Mrs. Truman and Mrs. James F. Byrnes were guests of honor at a dinner given by Mrs. Burton K. Wheeler, wife of the ex-Senator from Montana. The ladies present were the wives of Senators who had served with Wheeler, including blonde Mrs. Gerald Nye, wife of the ex-Senator from North Dakota.

The ladies got started on the high cost of living when Mrs. Lister Hill, wife of the stalwart Senator from Alabama, told about an English friend who recently arrived in this country.

"She was shocked at the cost of things over here," Mrs. Hill said. "Just the other day, she told me she wants to go back to England to buy some clothes. Even though the trip would be expensive, she thinks she'd save enough by buying her clothes in London — where prices are still controlled — to make the trip worth while."

Mrs. Bob Taft, whose husband led the fight to kill OPA, stiffened visibly. Noticing this, Mrs. Hill added:

"Of course, in England the taxes are still terribly high—they pay an income tax there far higher than we pay here."

Mrs. Taft did not have any answer on the price comparison, but she bridled at Mrs. Hill's remark about income taxes.

"That's not true," she said. "The fact is that although the British may pay more of a federal income tax, when you add in the state you find that we are paying at least as much income taxes here and I think more."

Mrs. Taft spoke at some length about high U. S. taxes, and it was evident that she was 100 per cent behind her husband in his demand for lower taxes. The other ladies didn't argue, and the conversation finally drifted on to the cherry blossoms, the weather and less controversial things.

Gloomy Secret Caucus

It was a none-too-happy caucus House Republicans held early this week as they prepared to steamroller the harsh Hartley Labor Bill through the House of Representatives. Although there was little open opposition, many Republicans representing large labor constituencies.

Level-headed Speaker Joe Martin opened the meeting by reading the 1946 GOP platform—pledging curbed labor abuses, lower taxes, reduced expenditures and a purge of Communists from Government payrolls. When he came to the Communist plank, the Speaker remarked:

"Harry thought that one such a good idea that he's trying to take the plank away from us."

New Jersey's Fred Hartley, Chairman of the Labor Committee, then read various letters warning that the strike situation was terrible and something must be done about it. As he proceeded, Hartley began to wave his arms and get red in the face. By the time he got to an explanation of the various sections of the bill, he was shouting.

It is incorrect, he claimed, to call the bill anti-labor.

"This bill provides what the workingman wants—it is his emancipation," Hartley said. Members who listened to Hartley at the secret meeting could not recall that he explained just how the bill provides emancipation for the worker. He did emphasize that it was needed to stop 900 pending strikes.

Cool majority leader Charley Halleck of Indiana followed Hartley, with a brief pep talk reiterating Republican pledges to curb labor abuses.

"It is our solemn purpose," he orated, "to redeem to the American people every campaign pledge we have made."

As for the bill, Halleck said he supports it as fully as Speaker Martin and other party leaders, though admitting vaguely that "maybe it goes too far in some respects." He said that it represented the views of all but four members of the Labor Committee and was arrived at after long and conscientious effort.

Coal Congressmen Rebel

Flannel-mouthed Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan also complained about the labor bill—but only because it was not harsh enough. In five minutes of rhetoric (to which time he was limited), Hoffman dismissed the measure as "innocuous." Later, in the cloakroom, Hoffman blamed majority leader Halleck for what he termed the "watering down of the provisions on the closed shop."

Flatly recording himself in opposition to the bill was Rep. Runt Bishop, who comes from the Illinois coal fields and who declared that passage of legislation to rule out industry-wide collective bargaining will make northern coal miners and mine operators the "goats of the southern operators."

Bishop termed the labor bill "class legislation," in that large firms such as Ford and Chrysler will be permitted to bargain for all their plants whereas small employers have to bargain separately, with nothing like the resources of Ford to back them up as they argue with the unions.

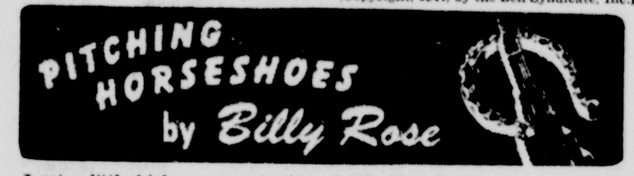

Industry-wide bargaining, Bishop explained, has meant higher wages for southern coal miners, with prices for southern and northern coal thus kept fairly close together. Likewise the pressure of the southern miners has tended to keep wages in northern mines from rising too quickly. The end of industry-wide bargaining, he predicted, will lead to a bitter price war between northern and southern coal operators with the cards stacked for the southerners.

"That's why if I were a Southern Democrat I would think this is a fine bill and would support it all the way," Bishop told the closed-door session.

As an Illinois Republican, he make it plain he would not support the bill. Representative Snyder of West Virginia and Jenkins of Ohio, both from mining districts, expressed similar opinions.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

I got a little high on a movie the other night. It's called "The Farmer's Daughter." I think it's the gayest thing in celluloid since "It Happened One Night." It even made me kind of sweet on Loretta Young, who up to now has been just another face in the movie magazines to me.

Billy Rose

The feeling-good feeling about this film carried over to the following afternoon. Knowing how hard it is to make theatre magic, I began to wonder who had pulled this four-star rabbit out of the hat. I checked and learned it was produced by Dore Schary, who had recently been installed as bossman of the RKO lot.

"Dore Schary?" I wondered out loud. "Who dat?"

I did a little asking around, and I like what I found out.

I think it's worth some white space. The top man of a movie producing corporation is an important piece in the American jigsaw puzzle. It's something like being editor of 18,000 papers—we have that many screens in this country. He's apt to carry more weight than all our school teachers put together. What he wants to get across is delivered by the world's most attractive people to 85,000,000 pupils a week.

If he's a good Joe, he can do us a lot of good. If he's a wrongo, he can do more to undermine our way of life than a jet-propelled termite.

Dore Schary shapes up like a good Joe. Two of his movies, "Joe Smith, American" and "Boys Town," were not only tingly entertainment, but scored one for our side. And by "our side," I mean the side that wants no part of totalitarianism, whether home-grown or imported. Wrapped up in the ribbons and pretty paper of "The Farmer's Daughter," Dore has slipped in a Can of Rough-on-Rats for Gerald L. K. Smith and the rest of the Hood-and-Arm-Band set.

He was born in Newark, N. J., in 1905. While giving his first pair of longies a test run, he walked by one of those Little Theatres. He sneaked in to watch a rehearsal and was chucked out. After a while, they got tired of chucking him out, and let him pass out programs and run for chocolate sodas. This hot-eyed kid played bits, painted scenery, and made off-stage noises. In his spare time, he peddled Christmas cards, hawked neckties and wrote plays.

Fourteen years ago, he put his extra pair of socks in his pocket and went to Hollywood. He got a job there in a salt mine, better known as a picture studio. As a junior writer for Columbia, he wrote 30 pictures in four years—a busy drone among the B's.

In 1937, one of the big brains at M-G-M tagged him. The following Spring he blushed prettily as the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences handed him the gold statuette for scripting "Boys Town."

At Metro he produced some low-budget pictures which grossed high-budget dough. One of them was "Lassie Come Home." Then he ambled over to the Selznick genius factory and master-minded "I'll Be Seeing You." On loan-out to RKO, he rang a loud box-office bell with "Spiral Staircase."

"More," said RKO.

Dore obliged with "Till the End of Time." Then he knocked the ball out of the park with "The Farmer's Daughter."

The gents who own the voting majority of RKO stock certificates met around the long table. They blew a lot of cigar smoke at each other and elected Dore Schary, Executive Vice-President in Charge of Production. Short title: Boss.

I know this success story reads like seed catalogue stuff. Dore fouled up this biographer by failing to stop the runaway horse and save the boss's daughter. But in this "he-did-this-he-did-that" recital, one significant thing comes through to me: He learned how to make pictures by making pictures. Schary is not a transplanted Broadway playwright, nor an English novelist from the Sunday Book Review Section.

He's a movie mug. And if the banker fellows don't interfere with this movie mug, I'm willing to bet an old stereoptican slide he'll make a real company out of RKO.

Incidentally, I'm glad to see Hollywood add another slugger to its line-up. Some of those recent English movies are awfully good.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 17. — The "left wing" has certainly started out on a campaign to discredit any or all legislation which might protect the public interest as against monopolistic strikes or unjustified work stoppages.

The Democratic Party is divided on labor issues, so the line-up is not just between Democrats and Republicans. There are lots of Democrats who are sick and tired of misrepresentation by labor-union lobbyists and who see the real issue as one in which the individual worker needs more protection from abuses than does management.

Thus, the right to work has really come to the fore for the first time on a specific piece of legislation. There is no real difference, for instance, between the "closed shop" and the "union shop" so far as compulsory unionization is concerned. In both instances the employee who doesn't want to join a union forfeits his right to a job. That isn't liberalism but tyranny.

The House Republican leaders, however, are trying to evade the issue by legalizing the "union shop." This is probably being done because the American Federation of Labor has so many closed shops of this type that it is evidently desired that the friendship of the AFL be retained. This is a decision in expediency which ignores principle.

Theory Seen As Fallacious

The theory that the labor groups will be less antagonistic if they are permitted a "union shop" and not a "closed shop" is fallacious. Both the AFL and CIO lobbies intend to fight any and all legislation and to put pressure on President Truman to veto any labor bill that comes to him.

As for the rank and file of American workingmen, they are waiting to see whether Congress will protect them against high-pressure tactics by labor-union leaders. The need for reform in handling labor unions is long overdue.

The issues, however, are being beclouded by the New Dealers and pro-labor leaders in Congress who are crying out that unions are about to be broken up, "starvation wages" are about to be paid, and a lot of other misstatements which hide the truth about the whole problem. Other cries from New Dealers are that the clock is being turned back to the "dark ages"—extreme statements that are just not true.

The truth is very simple. Collective bargaining is here to stay for workers who want it. Employers will not be permitted to interfere. But the time has come to protect the workers against the abuses by organizers and by the misstatements of those who claim to be working for the interests of the workers and who really are not.

Congress has a duty to see that workers and management get a square deal and the intention is to enact a law in which a national board represents the interests of labor and management alike instead of labor alone. The National Labor Relations Board has interpreted the Wagner Law to mean it must support unions because the law's preamble speaks of the desirability of encouraging collective bargaining.

The intimidation and coercion prevalent among workers who are dragooned into unions by misrepresentations which the employers do not dare to answer without risking a lawsuit and an "unfair labor practice" charge has become a scandal. To correct these abuses is the purpose of the new legislation.

Monopolists Always Die Hard

But the possessors of special privilege and the monopolists always die hard. They accuse anyone who wishes to disturb the status quo as bent on destruction of all liberty. Even some of the Republicans who recognize the importance of making substantial changes in the law are being persuaded that in the matter of the "union shop" it is better to let matters stay as they are.

As a sop to the opponents of the idea of compulsory unionization, a weak provision has been inserted in the pending House bill to permit "union shops" to be banned if a majority of the employees vote against it or if state law forbids. This is really passing the buck to the states and would produce many complications, especially in the way of activities of national unions which operate across state lines and which are sure to challenge such state laws as invalid.

The new labor legislation is going to be vetoed by the President, anyhow, so decisions of expediency are not to be compensated for by any labor support for the bill. It is the rank and file of labor which needs to be protected. Abolishing compulsory unionization will earn the gratitude of the citizen who believes that the constitution gives him the right to work and that he need not pay an initiation fee or dues to any union.

THESE DAYS

By George E. Sokolsky

IN a free country, the law must be enforced without regard to individual position, prestige, desire or whim. Otherwise freedom degenerates; the rights of all become subordinate to the will of one. The basic theory of the American political system is the equality of all before the law. The individual may, as Al Capone did, break the law as a matter of personal choice, but it is the obligation of the authorities to prosecute all law-breakers.

Henry Wallace, on his British tour, violated the Logan Act, which is the law of the land. Many Americans have violated the Logan Act, but few have been prosecuted under it. The Attorney General of the United States exercises an option in ignoring this Act which forbids a private citizens to participate in diplomatic relations with a foreign government except by official permission.

I once had some experience with this law. Back in 1919, George Fitch, an American missionary, and I were engaged in assisting Chinese in an anti-Japanese boycott leading to the rejection of the Versailles Treaty by China. We negotiated with various Chinese officials concerning China's anti-Japanese policies. Our conduct was not in line with that of the American government. The American Consul-General in Shanghai called us in, read the Logan Act to us, and warned us that unless we desisted from our pursuit of private diplomacy, our passports would be revoked. Nothing that we did then compared, as a violation of the act, with what Henry Wallace has done in England or plans to do in France.

It seems to have become customary for the Attorney General to decide, on his own, to waive the law, as for example, his refusal to act in criminal matters—or if the word, refusal, is inaccurate, the word, neglect, might be more correct. In such matters, the Attorney General becomes both prosecutor and court. He substitutes his private judgment, on the grounds, usually, that the Courts would become clogged with matters that could not be maintained. That may be sound administration, but it is bad law. In matters of criminal libel, for instance, the neglect of the law is really a waiver of the rights of the plaintiff in the interest of a powerful defendant who can proceed to defame, smear, slander and lie about citizens to his heart's delight.

Again, it is sound law that an Act of Congress, approved by the President, is binding until declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. Similarly, an act of a state legislature, signed by a governor, is good law until declared unconstitutional by due process in court. The law must be obeyed unless a court has estopped it. Only the Supreme Court of the United States can finally declare a law unconstitutional. In no other body or person is such authority vested.

Yet, in New Jersey, mayors of cities have declined to enforce a law, passed by the legislature and signed by Governor Driscoll, on the ground that they doubt the constitutionality of the act. They have no authority to waive a law on their private judgment. In fact, under the law, they may not exercise private judgment. They are bound to enforce the law whether they like it or not, whether they think the law good or bad.

Similarly, lawyers have advised their clients to disobey the law without going into a court to estop its enforcement. When a lawyer does that, he advises his client to be an anarchist. If every lawyer substitued his private opinion for the law and instructed his client bad advice, as John L. Lewis learned in the Supreme Court.

What is involved here is not the right or wrong of particular instances, but the fundamentals of an orderly government for a free people. Unless we have a government by law, we cannot maintain political, economic or social order. Where there is confusion, freedom swiftly disappears as men see to establish order by force. The real peril is that violence against the law will ultimately lead to violence against the rights of the individual.

Music Goes Flat For An Engineer

(AP) Newsfeatures

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — There may be a question as to how far the big time orchestra business has forgotten Emerson Gill, but there's no question about the vice versa.

Gill has abandoned the muse. He has left her flat. He has given away his fiddle and all his music. At the time of the divorce, he even went so far as to dispose of his toupee—which shows just how serious he was.

Now, he is back to his first love—engineering. He is a sales engineer with the Gibbs Corporation here, and big time band leading is a thing of the "Tip Toe Through the Tulips" time past.

It was back at Toledo, O., University, where Gill was graduated in engineering, that he got sidetracked.

"Band leading was a sideline as far as I was concerned," he said. "It helped pay my way through college. I never had any musical ambitions."

But Gill and his band were persuaded to play ten weeks at Cleveland's Bamboo Gardens. Just ten weeks.

"That engagement led to another. The money kept coming in and well . . . you know how those things happen."

The man who composed "Weary" and kept it as his theme song made the break by doing a bit of war work in engineering, taking a refresher course and then going with General Motors as a project engineer.

From there on, he was Emerson Gill, engineer.

"Perhaps I do reminisce a little too much," he said, but—patting his partially bald head—"I don't have to bother with that toupee now, with no spotlight shining on my cranium."

St. Louis Mail Man Still Blows Whistle

ST LOUIS—(AP)—Most mail carriers long since have discarded whistles—but Benny Bruemmer still carries his, and uses it.

Bruemmer has delivered mail for 17 years over the same south St. Louis route But his job is neither mechanical nor impersonal. Three or four times in every block when he pauses to blow the whistle, housewives pop out to get their mail.

"It's because I get to see my people that I keep that whistle," Bruemmer explained. "To most of the carriers their folks must be just names on envelopes. But to me they're real people."

May flies cannot eat after reaching the adult stage.

P. W. Architects Plan English Church

LONDON (AP)—German architects, prisoners of war at a camp near Sheffield, Yorkshire, have prepared four sets of plans for the rebuilding of a Sheffield church destroyed in air raids in 1940.

The plans are on show in an exhibition of Architects' Plans and Drawings for Churches which the Sheffield diocese proposes to build through its "Church in Action" campaign.

Opening the exhibition, Lord Halifax, former British ambassador to the U.S., said he thought the Germans' plans a good contribution.

BANK ACCOUNT FOR EVERY BABY FIRM'S POLICY

AP Newsfeatures

HARTSVILLE, S. C. — Children of Sonoco Products Company employes here aren't necessarily born with silver spoons in their mouth but they do have bank accounts in their names soon after birth.

James L. Coker, 3rd., president of the textile company, said that the dea evolved in a roundabout way from one submitted by an employe in the company's "idea box."

"Flowers are sent by Sonoco to deceased employes," the suggestion said, "but nothing is done for wives of employes when their babies are born. Why not send flowers to them to?"

Company officials considered the suggestion but Vice President Charles W. Cooker, Jr., proposed that, instead of flowers to the mother, a bank account might be opened for the child. The plan was agreed upon and put into operation almost immediately.

The initial deposit is $5. A letter follows to the parents expressing the hope that "you will add to this account as the years go by and that both it and the baby will grow bigger and healthier every year."

"Flowers are sent by Sonoco to deceased employes," the suggestion said, "but nothing is done for wives of employes when their babies are born. Why not send flowers to them to?"

Company officials considered the suggestion but Vice President Charles W. Cooker, Jr., proposed that, instead of flowers to the mother, a bank account might be opened for the child. The plan was agreed upon and put into operation almost immediately.

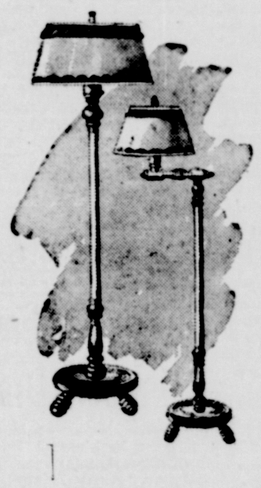

The initial deposit is $5. A letter follows to the parents expressing the hope that "you will add to this account as the years go by and that both it and the baby will grow bigger and healthier every year."

Banquet And Dance To Be Held During Convention

Pa.-Md. Maltas To Meet May 11-14

Three parties will feature the social activities during the four day convention of the Grand Commandery of the State of Pennsylvania and Maryland, to be held here May 11-14 inclusive.

All visiting ladies will be entertained by the Dames of Malta the evening of May 12, with a card and various games party, at Malta Temple, 67 Prospect square. While the Knights of Malta, who are members of the College of the Ancient, will be entertained with a banquet.

A banquet and dance will be held Tuesday night at the Queen City Hotel. It will be a semi formal affair beginning at 6:30. Marty Flynn and his Society Ramblers will play for the dancing and a floor show will be presented during the intermission.

The Convention committee of Knights and Dames of Malta completed arrangements for the convention, which will open with all Knights and Dames of Malta and visitors attending the evening service at First Methodist Church, Bedford Street, at 7:30, May 11. The grand session will open at 9 o'clock Monday morning in the Masonic temple to enact such business as comes before the body. In the afternoon a sightseeing tour has been planned and will include a trip to the Celanese plant and a tour of old Fort Cumberland tunnels.

Memorial services for all deceased past commanders will be held from 12 until 1 p. m., Tuesday, to which Dames as well as Knights are invited. Wednesday, the grand officers who were elected last year, will be installed for a one year term and the closing session will be held.

Four Months Old Local Child Can Stand Alone

Although only a little more than four months old, Joseph Miles Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hoffman, 612 Fairview Avenue, is already capable of standing alone, a feat the father explains most children are not able to perform until they are six months old.

"Little Joe," he said, was doing that almost a month ago. Hoffman explained that his wife began feeding the child strained fruit and vegetables when he was but six weeks old and continued with vitamized cooking, a method of preparing food without the use of water or grease, at the age of three months.

County Student Musicians To Rehearse Saturday

Spring Festival To Be Tuesday

The nstrumental rehearsal for the "All County High School Spring Musical Festival" will be held at Fort Hill High School all day tomorrow, beginning at 9 o'clock. Approximately 135 high school instrumentalists will participate in this rehearsal, under the direction of Wilton Syckes, string teacher in thec ounty; and Earle Wilde, instrumental teacher at Allegany High School; S. Lua Syckes, Fort Hill; and Jack E. Platt, director of music education in Allegany county.

Across town, at Allegany High School, 135 elementary instrumentalists will be meeting at the same time to rehearse for their part of the program, under the direction of their teacher, Harry Malcolm.

Preceeding the festival, which will be held at Fort Hill School, Tuesday night, beginning at 8:15, there will be demonstration work presented by the elementary string pupils and elementary wood wind and brass. This is a feature which has not been previously offered in the county program, as this is the first year the schools have had the project.

Mr. Platt said last night, that he feels there is a wide interest to see the development of such organizations. Although the demand for tickets is heavy, a limited number are still available at the Music Shop at a nominal fee.

The main program has been selected to appeal to all types of audience; running from Jerome Kern Show Boat tunes to Sibelius by the county high school chorus and Bach by the county high school band.

Included in the program is an outstanding solo musician from a county high school, Samuel Hunter, senior at Beall High School. He will play Arkansas Traveler and Reparlee on the piano. Incidental soloists will also be presented in the chorus and instrumental work.

Another new feature of the festival, this year, will be having small groups play before the curtain, while the necessary adjustments are being made for the next performance. As the climax of the program there will be a combination of choral and instrumental work, with a chorus of approximately 100 selected voices and a selected band of 35.

Last Saturday 395 vocalists in the various choruses rehearsed in Fort Hill and the elementary string in Allegany.

During the September, 1946, auction sales, more than $3,250,000 worth of Australian wool changed hands.

Approximately 135 high school instrumentalists will participate in this rehearsal, under the direction of Wilton Sykes, string teacher in thec ounty; and Earle Wilde, instrumental teacher at Allegany High School; S. Lua Syckes, Fort Hill; and Jack E. Platt, director of music education in Allegany county.

Across town, at Allegany High School, 135 elementary instrumentalists will be meeting at the same time to rehearse for their part of the program, under the direction of their teacher, Harry Malcolm.

Preceeding the festival, which will be held at Fort Hill School, Tuesday night, beginning at 8:15, there will be demonstration work presented by the elementary string pupils and elementary wood wind and brass. This is a feature which has not been previously offered in the county program, as this is the first year the schools have had the project.

Mr. Platt said last night, that he feels there is a wide interest to see the development of such organizations. Although the demand for tickets is heavy, a limited number are still available at the Music Shop at a nominal fee.

The main program has been selected to appeal to all types of audience; running from Jerome Kern Show Boat tunes to Sibelius by the county high school chorus and Bach by the county high school band.

Included in the program is an outstanding solo musician from a county high school, Samuel Hunter, senior at Beall High School. He will play Arkansas Traveler and Repartee on the piano. Incidental soloists will also be presented in the chorus and instrumental work.

Another new feature of the festival, this year, will be having small groups play before the curtain, while the necessary adjustments are being made for the next performance. As the climax of the program there will be a combination of choral and instrumental work, with a chorus of approximately 100 selected voices and a selected band of 35.

Last Saturday 395 vocalists in the various choruses rehearsed in Fort Hill and the elementary string in Allegany.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

The Supper Club

There are those who will argue with considerable justification that radio shows should never have been permitted to be broken down into fifteen minute packages. The best argument I know in favor of the fifteen minute show is the Chesterfield Supper Club, a smooth and relaxing fifteen minutes which goes down at the shank of the day as easily as a martini. If you haven't already discovered it, you ought to. (NBC 7 p. m. EST Mondays through Fridays.)

Jo Stafford

Perry Como and Jo Stafford, as high priced and pouplar a team of singers as can be assembled anywhere, appear on the Supper Club, the first from New York the second from Hollywood, on alternate nights To take them up not necessarily in the order of their importance, Miss Stafford is an engaging young lady who sings with restrained passion in a voice that always seems as if it's about to break but never quite does. That's not an indictment; she's just using a technique which is enjoying quite a vogue right now. Her phrasing is faultless and she has the prettiest sense of rhythm I know. Frankly I prefer her on the fast ones like "The Coffee Song" to the slow ones like "April Showers." Incidentally, you'll find a lot of songs about the age of "April Showers" on this show and sometimes they go way back to "When You Were Sweet Sixteen."

As for Mr. Como, my spies tell me he is now the most sought after song-plugger in the business. For the benefit of those who don't get around much, that means a song he introduces on the air is off to a very good start in life. Como belongs to the casual or Crosby school of baritone rather than that suffering or Sinatra branch of the family. His voice—and this is just one man's opinion—isn't as full or rich as Bing Crosby's though it sounds a lot like it. He's also a great technician with a microphone, if that means anything to anyone.

Because of the split personality of this show, the entire cast is different with each singer. Mr. Como is assisted and augmented by Lloyd Shaffer's band and an outfit called the Satisfiers (I guess it's a quartet) and Miss Stafford by Paul Weston's orchestra and something called the Starlighters (Maybe they're a quartet too, I wouldn't know). Usually the quartet (Why don't they explain these things?) and the band have a number apiece and the stars handle the rest of it.

Both Como and Stafford are great fans of the casual or informal song introduction and as an assiduous collector of song introductions I'd like to put a few of them on the record.

"It seems to me that we've been neglecting Mr. Shaffer," says Mr. Como. "Have you a song for us, Lloyd?"

"I have a song that shines, glimmers, dazzles and bewilders."

"Yes, but how does it sound?"

Well, it sounded pretty good. A duet was once introduced as follows: "You both know the rules—now come out swinging," and "The Coffee Song" was presented with the words: "Leave us serve up a demi-tasse."

The casual touch was introduced, I guess, by Bing Cosby and at first it sounded very soothing. But, fellows, it's now reached the point where we should ask ourselves whither are we headed. The quality of informality, it seems to me, is becoming strained. The writers and actors are striving so hard for extemporanetity that the dialogue perspires, defeating its own purposes. Ogden Nash once pointed out that the bed manufacturers made mattresses softer and softer until they reached a point where they had to put a board under them to make them harder and harder. The people who write song introductions are in pretty much the same position. Pure informality like a pure vacuum is a scientific monstrosity. If anyone ever achieved it, he wouldn't know what to do with it.

For a fifteen minute show there is just a soupcon too much advertising on the Supper Club but, as cigarette advertising goes, it's very pleasant. Chesterfields, in case you didn't know, are not the ones that are smoked by tobacco auctioneers or lady deep sea fishermen; they're the ones smoked by movie stars. Everyone straight on that now?

Chesterfield is now playing with a slogan involving the letters ABC which is drummed across with an insistence which must be revolting to NBC executives who usually refer to those three letters as "another network."

An unusually dry winter and early spring had threatened early crops. A rash of forest and grass fires plagued the state last week because of the dryness.

Today's rains brought precipation in April up to about normal, the first time of year. Since January 1, rainfall recorded by the Baltimore bureau is 3.95 inches below normal.

Tax Commission Upheld In W. Md. Railway Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 17 (AP)—The Maryland Court of Appeals upheld yesterday the State Tax Commission's authority to tax gross receipts of the Western Maryland Railway on the basis of an "all track" method.

At the same time the court reversed a Baltimore City Circuit Court order dismissing a Maryland and Pennsylvania Railroad complaint.

The railroad sought to prevent the tax commission from assessing it by the same method the lower court ordered in the Western Maryland case.

Number of automobiles registered in the U. S. grew from 16 in 1896 to 25,500,000 in 1946.

Building Permits Represent Total Cost Of $11,350

Six building permits with a total estimated construction cost of $11,350, and one occupancy permit were granted by the city engineer yesterday.

George S. Froelich, 315 Frederick Street, secured a permit to build a two-story concrete block structure with a composition roof at 317 Frederick Street, for use as a three-car garage with three two-room apartments on the second floor. The 25 by 37-foot structure will be built on the street line, and cost is estimated at $3,000.

Willis and David Foreman secured a permit to build a one-story four-room house on Lots 406-407 Lexington Avenue, at estimated cost of $2,500. The 28 by 30-foot structure will have a concrete block foundation, frame walls covered with Inselbrick and a roof of asphalt shingles.

A permit was granted to Melvin G. Cline, 49 Humbird Street, to build a two-story concrete block 24 by 60-foot building on the street line at 1211 Ella Avenue, at an estimated cost of $1,500. The building, which will house a three-car garage and sporting goods store, will have concrete block foundation and walls and a composition shingle roof. Work will be done by the owner.

W. O. King secured a permit to build a one-car garage at the rear of 1011 Glenwood Street at an estimated cost of $125. The 18 by 18-foot building will have a concrete block foundation, frame walls covered with brick siding, and a composition roof.

A permit was granted to John S. Cook, Route 6, Bowling Green, to build a house on Lot 2, Fairmont Avenue, at an estimated cost of $4,000. The house will be built on a foundation constructed under a permit issued to Cook in 1930 for a garage, which the owner said he originally intended to build under a residence. The two-story 28 by 32-foot structure will have a concrete block foundation and walls and an asphalt shingle roof.

James W. Wright secured a permit to build a three-room addition to the present shed at the rear of 110 South Street, for use as a residence. The two-story addition will measure 11 by 18 feet, with a concrete foundation, frame walls and a composition roof. Work is estimated to cost $225.

The occupancy permit was granted to C. R. Nicholson, 323 Avirett Avenue, to use the first floor of a two-story building at 1100 Oldtown Road as a tavern and restaurant. The premises, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Twigg and located in a business zoning district, were formerly used as a tin shop.

Clarksburg Man Forfeits $112.90 Bond

Grady E. Dillingham, Clarksburg, W. Va., forfeited $112.90 yesterday when he failed to appear in Trial Magistrates Court on charges of driving under the influence of liquor and reckless driving.

Trooper Milton G. Hart made the arrest Wednesday night on Route 40, one mile west of Cumberland. Dillingham posted bond of 101.45 on the drunken driving charge and $11.45 on the reckless driving charge.

Charles R. Sitter, 400 Piedmont Avenue, forfeited $6.45 after being arrested by Trooper Robert Henline on charges of operating a motor vehicle without a license, and Edwin B. Sitter, 400 Piedmont Avenue, forfeited $6.45 for permitting an unauthorized persons to operate his automobile.

Charles E. Bennett, Washington, Pa., forfeited $6.45 when he failed to appear on charges of not stopping for a school bus. He was arrested Wednesday on Route 40 in LaVale by Trooper Henline.

Arrested Saturday following an accident in which two cars collided on Route 36 near Zihlman, Elmer H. Lewis, 32, Frostburg, was fined $12.90 by Magistrate James P. Kenney on charges of failing to keep to the right of the road and reckless driving.

Lewis and Walter Smith, 20, Mt. Savage, driver of the other machine, were both injured in the crash. Trooper Harry Holsinger preferred the charges.

BREADED PORK CHOPS . . . Russian style

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

A new cookbook on Russian food with clear and well-written recipes and suggestions to enliven the dullest of dinner tables, is "How to Cook and Eat in Russian" by the Princess Alexandre Kropotkin.

The author points out in her interesting introduction that the Russian cuisine derives from many other countries. We in America should receive merited praise from our families and friends, if we will derive recipies from the Russian cuisine in this book.

Breaded Pork Chops with Spicy Prune or Cherry Sauce

6 trimmed pork chops
Flour
Dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine
1 cup puree of stewed prunes or cherries
1 teaspoon minced lemon rind
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
½ cup water

Put the chops in boiling salted water. Reduce the heat and simmer for 15 mins. Take up the chops and let them cool, then dust them with flour and roll them in bread crumbs. Saute them in the hot butter or margarine, 5 mins. on each side. Then cook them gently for 20 mins., turning once. Have the prunes or cherries cooked, rubbed through a sieve, and sweetened. Add the lemon rind, spices and water if the fruit puree seems too thick. Cook 10 mins. Boil up once. Pour over chops and serve very hot.

Braised Cucumbers

6 or 8 small cucumbers
Salt
2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine
1 small onion, chopped
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons sour cream
Pepper
Nutmeg

The cucumbers should be young, firm with small seeds. Peel them and cut them lengthwise, each in 4 slices. Sprinkle with salt and let stand 20 mins. Dry well with a towel. Heat 1 tablespoon of the margarine or butter; add the cucumbers and saute them for 15 or 20 mins. Saute the chopped onion with remaining butter or margarine until golden brown. Add the flour to the onion and cook for 5 mins., then add the cucumbers. Stir in the sour cream. Boil up once. Season with freshly ground pepper and a dash of nutmeg. Simmer for five mins. Serve with roast lamb.

Jam and Cream Pie

Puff pastry
1½ cups cherry or raspberry jam
1½ cups ground blanched almonds or pecans
¼ cup sweet cream
¼ teaspoon almond extract
3 tablespoons sour cream
1 egg yolk
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon

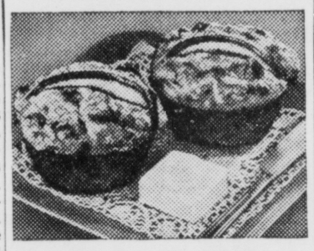

Line a pie plate with the pastry. Spread the jam over the pastry in an even layer. Mix the ground nuts with the sweet cream, adding the almond extract. Mix the sour cream with the egg yolk and cinnamon, and combine this with the nut and cream mixture. Spread this over the jam. Cover with a top crust. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in a 400° oven till slightly brown—about 25 mins.

Statisticians estimate that improved medical practice saved the lives of 30,000 Americans in World War II who suffered wounds which would have proved fatal in previous wars.

The tornado season runs from March to May, then dwindles down to nothing from July to the end of the year.

Roger B. Taney was appointed an associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court in 1835 by President Jackson, but the Senate refused confirmation. Next year Taney was named chief justice to succeed John Marshall, and was confirmed by the Senate with, however, strong opposition from Henry Clay and others.

Fresh Apple in Bran Muffins! Wonderful!

MAKE THEM UP IN NO TIME!

Crunchy, toasted Kellogg's All-Bran and fresh apple taste just dreamy!

2 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
¾ cup grated raw apple
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
½ cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt

Blend shortening and sugar. Add egg; beat well. Stir in apple, Kellogg's All-Bran, and milk. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Add sifted dry ingredients to first mixture. Stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pan two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 12 muffins. You'll want to make them often.

Good Nutrition, Too! All-Bran is made from the VITAL OUTER LAYERS of finest wheat — serve daily as a cereal.

BRINGS OUT FLAVORS

The instant you taste Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise you can tell the difference. For Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise has a delicate flavor that brings out even the hidden flavors of vegetables and fruits —or anything on which it is used. And the creamy texture of Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise blends so perfectly that it is difficult to tell where the salad begins and the mayonnaise leaves off—the true test of any good mayonnaise.

Miss Mary Douty Speaks To Workers

By LILLIAN HARDEN CRABTREE

HYNDMAN, Pa., April 17—Miss Mary Alice Douty, assistant to the executive secretary of the Board of Education of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church, Baltimore, spoke Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church social hall to the workers of the Community Dailey Vacation Bible School.

Miss Douty made a brief analysis of the school and recommended 21 workers as being the minimum staff for a school the size of the Hyndman School in previous years.

She suggested several possibilities for making changes and improvements and showed several items that had been made in various Bible schools.

Honored At Shower

The Ladies P. T. A. Choral Club held a party after rehearsal Monday night in Hyndman School, a surprise handkerchief shower for the director, Miss Mary Meyers. Games and refreshments were features of the evening.

Personals

William Harclerode, Duquesne, Pa., is visiting his brother, Charles Harclerode.

Harold Stair, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stair, has returned from Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where he received treatment Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Shaffer were in Baltimore recently.

Mrs. C. H. Allen has returned from Martinsburg, Pa., where she was the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wareham.

Mrs. Fuller Barclay underwent an operation in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

It Wasn't Pie

The first New England pumpkin pie wasn't a pie at all. It was made by slicing off the top of the pumpkin, scooping out the seeds, filling it with milk and spices and sweetening the mixture. The pumpkin was then baked in hot ashes in a brick oven, and the filling eaten from the shell with a spoon.

Advice To The Lovelorn

His Girl Is Jealous But It's Largely His Own Fault

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 20 years old, and have been going with a girl 18 for over a year. We have been seeing each other every night since we met, and are quite infatuated with each other.

Recently, all she has to do is see me talk or look at another girl and she gets quite angry and won't speak for a while, or else she mentions some feilow to try and make me jealous. She says she wants me to forget about the girls I used to know, even my good friends. Just give them a quick hello and that's all.

I don't flirt with other girls at all, and I tell her this, but she doesn't believe me. But I believe her when she says she doesn't look at other fellows. I don't think I should give up my close girl friends on her account. What should I do about this?

Dear "L. G. L."

In the first place, it seems very foolish to me for a young man and a girl to see each other every single night to the exclusion of all other friends, especially when they are not even engaged. And even engaged people, in my opinion, act much more wisely when they keep up with other friends and interests, to a reasonable extent, instead of wrapping themselves up in each other's personality so completely that they lose all perspective about their relationship.

Because the two of you have done just this, your girl has come to think that she "owns" you, and resents your appearing to have the slightest interest in anyone else. Undoubtedly she is a type that is predisposed to be jealous, but, just the same, you are a good deal to blame for the present situation for having concentrated so exclusively on her.

If you don't intend to marry this girl, then you'd better make it clear right now—and you should have done it long ago—that you're a free agent, and not any girl's exclusive property. If you do plan to marry her, you're going to find yourself in hot water rather often, I'm afraid, unless you come to a mutual agreement that the rules of common sense, and not the jealous possessiveness of eithesr of you, shall be your guide in your friendships.

During the last 10 years over 3,700 miles of rural lines have been constructed under its rural electrification program at an estimated cost of $4,500,000.

Worker Is Injured

Melvin Lease, 30, Ridgeley, a B. and O. worker, was treated yesterday morning in Memorial Hospital after a pipe fell on his right thumb at work. Attendants said the nail had to be removed.

Approximately 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity are used per year to light the nation's streets. 8,000,000,000 k.w. hr. would be required to bring street lighting up to safety standards.

Miss Mary Douty Speaks To Workers

By LILLIAN HARDEN CRABTREE

HYNDMAN, Pa., April 17—Miss Mary Alice Douty, assistant to the executive secretary of the Board of Education of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church, Baltimore, spoke Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Church social hall to the workers of the Community Dailey Vacation Bible School.

Miss Douty made a brief analysis of the school and recommended 21 workers as being the minimum staff for a school the size of the Hyndman School in previous years.

She suggested several possibilities for making changes and improvements and showed several items that had been made in various Bible schools.

Selected Stocks Continue Recovery But Many Market Leaders Stumble

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — Selected stocks continued their recovery in today's market but many leaders stumbled and a late brief rally, sparked by reports the telephone union had cut its wage demands, failed to follow through.

Slowdowns were frequent from the start. While a slight pickup in activity appeared as prices improved at the beginning of the final hour, there were subsequent sluggish intervals and trends notably irregular at the close.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .1 of a point at 61.3. It was the narrowest five-hour market since last Thursday, 941 issues registering. Of these, 413 rose and 315 fell.

Union Pacific was up 1½ at 122½, Great Northern Railway 1⅛ at 41¼ and United States Gypsum 1½ at 96. In the plus column were New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Pullman, Youngstown Sheet, Goodyear, Woolworth, International Harvester, Deere, Sperry, Boeing, Kennecott, American Smelting, American Tobacco "B", Pacific Western Oil and Standard Oil (NJ). American Telephone was unchanged at 164.

Douglas Aircraft dropped 3⅝ at 64 as the comany's president painted a somewhat gloomy picture of earnings. Monsanto Chemical common lost two at 52 and the preferred was off 2¼ at 112¼ following destruction of the concern's Texas City plant.

Railroad bonds were generally higher and other corporates uneven in the bond market today.

American Telephone and Telegraph issues failed to respond to reports of a decrease in the wage demands of telephone workers in the eleventh day of their strike. With the exception of the 2¾s of '61, which were up one-eighth, A. T. and T. bonds were unchanged or fractionally lower.

Gains in Baltimore and Ohio, New Haven, Missouri Pacific and Pennsylvania Railroad liens ranged from fractions to two points.

United States Treasury issues were steady, with changes limited to 1-32 point either way. Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-72 regained 1-32 of recent losses.

Selected Stocks Continue Recovery But Many Market Leaders Stumble

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — Selected stocks continued their recovery in today's market but many leaders stumbled and a late brief rally, sparked by reports the telephone union had cut its wage demands, failed to follow through.

Slowdowns were frequent from the start. While a slight pickup in activity appeared as prices improved at the beginning of the final hour, there were subsequent sluggish intervals and trends notably irregular at the close.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .1 of a point at 61.3. It was the narrowest five-hour market since last Thursday, 941 issues registering. Of these, 413 rose and 315 fell.

Union Pacific was up 1½ at 122½, Great Northern Railway 1⅛ at 41¼ and United States Gypsum 1½ at 96. In the plus column were New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Pullman, Youngstown Sheet, Goodyear, Woolworth, International Harvester, Deere, Sperry, Boeing, Kennecott, American Smelting, American Tobacco "B", Pacific Western Oil and Standard Oil (NJ). American Telephone was unchanged at 164.

Douglas Aircraft dropped 3⅝ at 64 as the comany's president painted a somewhat gloomy picture of earnings. Monsanto Chemical common lost two at 52 and the preferred was off 2¼ at 112¼ following destruction of the concern's Texas City plant.

Railroad bonds were generally higher and other corporates uneven in the bond market today.

American Telephone and Telegraph issues failed to respond to reports of a decrease in the wage demands of telephone workers in the eleventh day of their strike. With the exception of the 2¾s of '61, which were up one-eighth, A. T. and T. bonds were unchanged or fractionally lower.

Gains in Baltimore and Ohio, New Haven, Missouri Pacific and Pennsylvania Railroad liens ranged from fractions to two points.

United States Treasury issues were steady, with changes limited to 1-32 point either way. Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-72 regained 1-32 of recent losses.

Pythians Initiate 22 Candidates At Frostburg Rally

Original Rathbone Bible Is Used

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 17 — The Pythian Rally held here last night was attended by more than 100 members of the order and, according to former mayor Fred Crowe, who served as master of ceremonies, the meeting was the largest held by Frostburg City Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias, in many years.

A class of 22 candidates was received into the order by Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal Melvin M. Ewen, who used the original Rathbone Bible in administering the obligation to the candidates. Fifteen candidates were detained from attending on account of shift work. Lodges represented at the meeting were Cumberland, No. 60; Queen City, No. 136; Anchor, III, of Midland; Garrett, No. III, of Oakland; Lafayette, of Piedmont, and Olive Branch, of Keyser.

Supreme and grand officers attending the rally were Otis Brotemarkle, supreme representative; Nelson W. Russler, past supreme representative; Cloyd Yost, past grand chancellor of West Virginia; Clinton M. Easton, grand chancellor of Maryland; Mr. Gortner, of Oakland, grand prelate; A. E. Martax, grand keeper of records and seal of Maryland; Frank Davis, grand outer guard; Julius Schindler, past grand chancellor; State Senator Robert Kimble, past grand chancellor; John Fisher, special deputy grand chancellor; Arthur Brant and A. Charles Stewart, members of the grand board of trustees, and E. J. Chesire, of Piedmont, W. Va., secretary of the Piedmont lodge for nearly half a century.

The Rathbone Bible was used in Frostburg 30 years ago, according to Fred Crowe, and on that occasion nearly 100 members were received into the order. The large class at that time resulted from a membership drive which continued for several weeks among all the lodges of the Georges Creek region and Cumberland.

MISS GEHAUF RITES

A funeral service for Miss Bessie Gehauf, 63, 31 Grant Street, Frostburg, an instructor at Hill Street School, who died Wednesday morning in Memorial Hospital, will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 o'clock at the home by Rev. Justus H. Liesmann, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Burial will be in German Lutheran Cemetery here.

P-TA Plans Bazaar

The Parent-Teacher Association of Hill Street School is making plans for a bazaar to be held in the school auditorium May 2, commencing at 7:30 p. m. The affair, open to the public, will include a doll show and a program of musical and dance numbers.

The committee appointed to conduct the affair consists of Mrs. Franklin Martens, president of the association; Mesdames W. Kenneth Crowe, William Plummer, Steve Usoris, Zackary Arnold, Earl Thomas, Maurice Nelson and Edgar Miller. The committee will meet Monday night, Apri 21, to complete plans for the event.

Frostburg Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blubaugh, Cresaptown, announce the birth of a son Tuesday in Miners' Hospital.

The Arion Band will hold a rehearsal Monday, April 21, at 7:30 p. m., instead of 8 p. m., the usual hour. Darrell Zeller, director, requests the attendance of all members. The band will go to Cumberland Tuesday night, to take part in a street parade.

The Frostburg Fire Department was called to the home of Mrs. Mary J. Rank, 142 East Loo Street, Wednesday night at 7:15 o'clock to extinguish a flue fire while Mrs. Rank was confined to bed with illness. Mrs. Rank stated that, due to the promptness with which the emergency call was put through by the Frostburg telephone exchange, the firemen arrived at the residence five minutes after the alarm was sent in.

Frostburg Personals

Mrs. Walter Deneen, Akron, Ohio, was here last week as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Alice Fuller, Broadway.

City Commissioner Kenneth Crowe is reported ill a his home, 135 Hill Street.

Margaret Keating Becomes Bride In Washington

By VIRGINIA CHASE

PARSONS, W. Va., April 17 — Mr. and Mrs. James P. Keating, Washington, D. C., announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Alice, to Stelman Dale Blizard, youngest son of Mrs. Hazel Blizard, Arlington, Va., and formerly of Hambleton, and the late Ezra Blizard.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the rectory of Our Lady of Victory Church, Washington, D. C., Saturday, April 12, with Rev. Father Carl Hess, pastor, officiating in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Mary Jane Keating, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. James P. Keating, Jr., brother of the bride, served Mr. Blizard as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Western High School and is now employed by the general accounting office in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Blizard attended Parsons High School and was employed in Newport News, Va., until he enlisted and served two years with the Army. Since his discharge he has been employed by the Syfo Water Company in Washington, D. C.

Forester Is Transferred

Forester Donald W. Beck has been transferred from the position of forest fire control officer for the seven northeastern national forests to a similiar position in the Southwestern Region of the Forest Service at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Born in Renovo, Pa., Beck is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College. He has seen service as ranger on the Quachita National Forest in Arkansas and on the Monogahela National Forest in West Virginia, stationed at Parsons, for a number of years. He has been in charge of National Forest Fire Control in the regional office for 11 years and has been a resident of Ardmore, Pa. since 1941.

Aberdeen Angus Show Is Planned In Petersburg

Breeders Association Plans Meeting Friday

By MYRTLE PARK

PETERSBURG, April 17 — The Fourth Annual West Virginia Aberdeen Angus show and sale will be held at the auction yards in Petersburg Saturday, April 19. The show will begin at 9 a. m. and the sale will get under way at 1 p. m. with Col. Earl Wright as the auctioneer.

Fourteen bulls and 36 females have been consigned by 16 breeders. These animals represent the best bred stock to be found in the state. Prospective buyers may look these cattle over and study their pedigrees Friday and Saturday prior to the sale. The show will be judged by Lee Leechman, Nanuet, N. Y.

The West Virginia Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association will hold a meeting at the Court House at 3 p. m. Friday and all members or others interested in the sale are urged to attend. The annual banquet will be held at the Hermitage Hotel at 6:30 p. m.

Teachers Will Meet

The Grant County Education Association will hold its annual spring meeting and luncheon Saturday, April 19. The morning session will begin at 9:30 and at 12:30 luncheon will be served at the Evangelical United Brethren Church. R. S. Dispanet, Superintendent of Hardy County Schools, Moorefield and Dr. T. D. Martin, from the National Education Asssociation, will be guest speakers.

Representatives from professional and civic organizations of the county have been invited to attend the luncheon.

Personals

Mrs. James Treasy and Mrs. Hulda Littman, Oakland, were here yesterday visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton remains ill at his home.

Miss Ruth Eskridge has returned from Wisconsin where she was visiting her sister, Hilda.

Word was received here recently from Louisville, Kentucky, of the birth of a son, Penn Hamilton, to Mr. and Mrs. Marion Clower in a hospital there. Clower is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Clower, Myrtle Avenue.

County Unions To Ask United Labor Movement

A movement calling for the unification of all major labor organizations in the United States will be inaugurated at a meeting of the Western Maryland Labor Unity conference to be held Sunday, April 27, at 2 p. m. in Textile Hall, 34 North Mechanic Street, Paul L. Burley, secretary, said last night.

Burley said a special meeting of the group will be called within the next few days to complete plans for the mass meeting of all Allegany County labor organizations.

All local unions of the county, he said, will be requested to ask their international organization to form a united labor front so that labor can bring its full force to bear in national affairs.

Fahey Appointed To State Post

P. Emmett Fahey, chief clerk of Local Draft Board No. 2 since the inception of Selective Service in 1940, was notified yesterday that he has been appointed license inspector for the Alcoholic Beverage Division of the comptroller's office, by Comptroller James J. Lacy.

Fahey will assume his duties in the near future. He was recommended for the appointment by the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee. He succeeds William C. McDermott who was named postmaster here several months ago.

Farmers Dairy Sued For $300 Damages

A $300 damage suit was filed in Trial Magistrates' Court yesterday morning by Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Gretchen Arthur, in which the Farmers' Dairy Company is the defendant.

The bill of complaint charges that the Arthur woman received a bottle of milk sold by the dairy which allegedly contained "dirt". She charges that she became violently ill after drinking some of the milk and was indisposed for several days.

Court attaches commented that it was unusual for this type suit to be filed in Trial Magistrates' Court as most such cases are docketed in Circuit Court.

Methodist Training School Is Planned

Preliminary plans for the 1947 Methodist Training School for Cumberland and vicinity to be held in Centre Street Methodist Church beginning October 15, were formulated yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the board of managers of the school.

Rev. Watson E. Holley, director of Leadership training for the Cumberland district, was named chairman of the board to direct the annual leadership school.

Rev. B. Ralph Mark, pastor of Central Methodist Church, will be dean and chairman of the educational committee to select courses and faculty.

Robert W. Young was named treasurer and finance committee chairman; Rev. Raymond M. Crowe, secretary and librarian, and Mrs. John P. Zimmerman, registrar.

Other committee chairmen will be Mrs. Earl Albertson, enrollment; D. R. Dillinger, arrangements and entertainment, and Rev. W. Clark Main, publicity.

The board of managers consists of the minister and one lay representative from each of the 24 charges in the district. Sessions will be held October 15 to 17 and 22 to 24.

ROAD MILEAGE IS BEING COMPUTED

W. R. Hicks, a representative of the State Roads Commission, is spending several days in Cumberland to compute the total mileage of the city's streets in connection with legislation passed recently by the General Assembly regarding distribution of the gasoline tax fund, according to Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer.

Hicks said three crews are working in incorporated municipalities of Maryland, one on the Eastern Shore and two in Western Maryland. One of the latter is now located in Hagerstown.

Under provisions of the bill, 20 per cent of the money paid into the gasoline tax fund during any fiscal year shall be used for the benefit of the counties and municipalities of the state, excepting Baltimore City.

Each county's share is determined by the proportion of its total road mileage as compared to the total mileage of county roads in all Maryland counties. Each municipality's portion of the county share is determined by the proportion which the total mileage of county roads in the municipality bears to the total mileage of the county's roads.

Stating that the work must be completed by June 1, Hicks said that George Cassell, assistant director of the traffic division, State Roads Commission, is visiting Oakland, Frostburg and other incorporated Western Maryland communities in connection with the work.

Hagerstown Man Crushed To Death Under His Auto

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) — Harry M. Logan, who observed his 66th birthday today, died in a Baltimore hospital of injuries suffered when he was crushed under his automobile.

Logan, a resident of Hagerstown, was working under the car while it was parked in the driveway of the home of a son-in-law in Townson.

Health Standards In Mining Towns Range From Excellent To Very Poor

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The Federal Coal Mines Administration said today that inferior health standards are not general in the coal industry, but that conditions in a few mining camps "are a disgrace to the country."

"Provision for health range from excellent, on a par with America's most progressive communities, to very poor, their tolerance a disgrace to a nation to which the world looks for pattern and guidance," the agency reported after a sample survey.

Five teams of naval officers of the Coal Mines Administration made the survey, starting last summer, of health conditions in 260 mines in 22 major soft coal producing states. Rear Adm. Joel T. Boone headed the survey.

Boone, in a foreword to the 300-page report, said:

"The present situation, which brought about the medical survey, would not have occurred had a sense of joint responsibility existed. Management has demonstrated in some instances a high degree of leadership in providing medical care. There is little evidence of corresponding labor leadership in health matters."

Release of the survey coincided with another appearance by President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, before a Senate Public Lands Subcommittee investigating the coal mine disaster at Centralia, Ill.

He said the government employs only 171 mine inspectors and permits the Department of Agriculture to employ 3,000 home economics workers "to prowl around and teach farmers' wives how to sew patches on their husbands' pants."

The report by the mines administration concluded with recommendations for the improvement of housing, sanitation and public health, industrial medicine and hygiene, general medical services, hospitalization and recreation.

Body Of Victim Of Boat Blast March 31 Found

PT. PLEASANT, W. Va., April 17 (AP)—The body of one of the three victims of the explosion which nearly destroyed the steamboat "Joe Cook" last March 31, was found floating in the Ohio River today at Letart, W. Va., about 15 miles downstream from Ravenswood, scene of the blast.

State Trooper Harry Coyner reported residents of the small Mason County town found the body of C. S. Crago, 50, of Plymouth, Putnam County, floating face down near shore.

Connally Sees Truman Victory In '48 Election

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The Democratic Party's achievements since 1933 and President Truman's record in office will lead to his election in 1948, United States Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) declared tonight at a Jefferson Day dinner of the National Democratic Club.

Connally said in a prepared talk that Mr. Truman's "increasing popularity is proof that the people trust him and are ready to follow him. Domestic as well as foreign problems have been difficult but he has met them with marked success."

Pythians Initiate 22 Candidates At Frostburg Rally

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 17 — The Pythian Rally held here last night was attended by more than 100 members of the order and, according to former mayor Fred Crowe, who served as master of ceremonies, the meeting was the largest held by Frostburg City Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias, in many years.

A class of 22 candidates was received into the order by Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal Melvin M. Ewen, who used the original Rathbone Bible in administering the obligation to the candidates. Fifteen candidates were detained from attending on account of shift work. Lodges represented at the meeting were Cumberland, No. 60; Queen City, No. 136; Anchor, III, of Midland; Garrett, No. III, of Oakland; Lafayette, of Piedmont, and Olive Branch, of Keyser.

Supreme and grand officers attending the rally were Otis Brotemarkle, supreme representative; Nelson W. Russler, past supreme representative; Cloyd Yost, past grand chancellor of West Virginia; Clinton M. Easton, grand chancellor of Maryland; Mr. Gortner, of Oakland, grand prelate; A. E. Martax, grand keeper of records and seal of Maryland; Frank Davis, grand outer guard; Julius Schindler, past grand chancellor; State Senator Robert Kimble, past grand chancellor; John Fisher, special deputy grand chancellor; Arthur Brant and A. Charles Stewart, members of the grand board of trustees, and E. J. Chesire, of Piedmont, W. Va., secretary of the Piedmont lodge for nearly half a century.

The Rathbone Bible was used in Frostburg 30 years ago, according to Fred Crowe, and on that occasion nearly 100 members were received into the order. The large class at that time resulted from a membership drive which continued for several weeks among all the lodges of the Georges Creek region and Cumberland.

Fahey Appointed To State Post

P. Emmett Fahey, chief clerk of Local Draft Board No. 2 since the inception of Selective Service in 1940, was notified yesterday that he has been appointed license inspector for the Alcoholic Beverage Division of the comptroller's office, by Comptroller James J. Lacy.

Fahey will assume his duties in the near future. He was recommended for the appointment by the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee. He succeeds William C. McDermott who was named postmaster here several months ago.

Farmers Dairy Sued For $300 Damages

A $300 damage suit was filed in Trial Magistrates' Court yesterday morning by Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Gretchen Arthur, in which the Farmers' Dairy Company is the defendant.

The bill of complaint charges that the Arthur woman received a bottle of milk sold by the dairy which allegedly contained "dirt". She charges that she became violently ill after drinking some of the milk and was indisposed for several days.

Court attaches commented that it was unusual for this type suit to be filed in Trial Magistrates' Court as most such cases are docketed in Circuit Court.

Methodist Training School Is Planned

Preliminary plans for the 1947 Methodist Training School for Cumberland and vicinity to be held in Centre Street Methodist Church beginning October 15, were formulated yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the board of managers of the school.

Rev. Watson E. Holley, director of Leadership training for the Cumberland district, was named chairman of the board to direct the annual leadership school.

Rev. B. Ralph Mark, pastor of Central Methodist Church, will be dean and chairman of the educational committee to select courses and faculty.

Robert W. Young was named treasurer and finance committee chairman; Rev. Raymond M. Crowe, secretary and librarian, and Mrs. John P. Zimmerman, registrar.

Other committee chairmen will be Mrs. Earl Albertson, enrollment; D. R. Dillinger, arrangements and entertainment, and Rev. W. Clark Main, publicity.

The board of managers consists of the minister and one lay representative from each of the 24 charges in the district. Sessions will be held October 15 to 17 and 22 to 24.

ROAD MILEAGE IS BEING COMPUTED

W. R. Hicks, a representative of the State Roads Commission, is spending several days in Cumberland to compute the total mileage of the city's streets in connection with legislation passed recently by the General Assembly regarding distribution of the gasoline tax fund, according to Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer.

Hicks said three crews are working in incorporated municipalities of Maryland, one on the Eastern Shore and two in Western Maryland. One of the latter is now located in Hagerstown.

Under provisions of the bill, 20 per cent of the money paid into the gasoline tax fund during any fiscal year shall be used for the benefit of the counties and municipalities of the state, excepting Baltimore City.

Each county's share is determined by the proportion of its total road mileage as compared to the total mileage of county roads in all Maryland counties. Each municipality's portion of the county share is determined by the proportion which the total mileage of county roads in the municipality bears to the total mileage of the county's roads.

Stating that the work must be completed by June 1, Hicks said that George Cassell, assistant director of the traffic division, State Roads Commission, is visiting Oakland, Frostburg and other incorporated Western Maryland communities in connection with the work.

Hagerstown Man Crushed To Death Under His Auto

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) — Harry M. Logan, who observed his 66th birthday today, died in a Baltimore hospital of injuries suffered when he was crushed under his automobile.

Logan, a resident of Hagerstown, was working under the car while it was parked in the driveway of the home of a son-in-law in Townson.

Health Standards In Mining Towns Range From Excellent To Very Poor

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The Federal Coal Mines Administration said today that inferior health standards are not general in the coal industry, but that conditions in a few mining camps "are a disgrace to the country."

"Provision for health range from excellent, on a par with America's most progressive communities, to very poor, their tolerance a disgrace to a nation to which the world looks for pattern and guidance," the agency reported after a sample survey.

Five teams of naval officers of the Coal Mines Administration made the survey, starting last summer, of health conditions in 260 mines in 22 major soft coal producing states. Rear Adm. Joel T. Boone headed the survey.

Boone, in a foreword to the 300-page report, said:

"The present situation, which brought about the medical survey, would not have occurred had a sense of joint responsibility existed. Management has demonstrated in some instances a high degree of leadership in providing medical care. There is little evidence of corresponding labor leadership in health matters."

Release of the survey coincided with another appearance by President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, before a Senate Public Lands Subcommittee investigating the coal mine disaster at Centralia, Ill.

He said the government employs only 171 mine inspectors and permits the Department of Agriculture to employ 3,000 home economics workers "to prowl around and teach farmers' wives how to sew patches on their husbands' pants."

The report by the mines administration concluded with recommendations for the improvement of housing, sanitation and public health, industrial medicine and hygiene, general medical services, hospitalization and recreation.

Body Of Victim Of Boat Blast March 31 Found

PT. PLEASANT, W. Va., April 17 (AP)—The body of one of the three victims of the explosion which nearly destroyed the steamboat "Joe Cook" last March 31, was found floating in the Ohio River today at Letart, W. Va., about 15 miles downstream from Ravenswood, scene of the blast.

State Trooper Harry Coyner reported residents of the small Mason County town found the body of C. S. Crago, 50, of Plymouth, Putnam County, floating face down near shore.

Connally Sees Truman Victory In '48 Election

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The Democratic Party's achievements since 1933 and President Truman's record in office will lead to his election in 1948, United States Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) declared tonight at a Jefferson Day dinner of the National Democratic Club.

Connally said in a prepared talk that Mr. Truman's "increasing popularity is proof that the people trust him and are ready to follow him. Domestic as well as foreign problems have been difficult but he has met them with marked success."

GIVE!

It was a little lump at first.

He had been thrown by a wild colt and they thought it was just a sprain.

Then the lump began to grow. And with the growth came terror. Terror that clutched by day and night until each hour was a living hell.

He didn't know. Even to the end, he did not guess. For, as is so often the case with cancer, it flashed back—flashed in. Pneumonia following pneumonia. But those who watched knew every spread of that horror. Every sidelong glance at his ankle was a knife through the heart.

Everything that was then possible was done. But that was twenty-two years ago. People did not know the things about cancer then which they know today.

And we were poor—too poor to afford the treatment which might possibly have saved him. So the terror spread and the horror grew and with the second attack of pneumonia, when he was only 21, he went. And all that life held for me of joy and hope went with him.

For he was my only son.

You wonder how I can write about it. There is just one reason. Every year, 181,000 die of cancer in America. Seventeen million now living are doomed. For them there is no hope. And those who watch them die will suffer the agony which I suffered and have their hearts blasted as mine was blasted, and go through the years alone.

I can and do write of this because, in a universal catastrophe, I have no right to clutch this grief to myself as if it were a private possession. I have no right to weep alone. This nightmare belongs to all the world.

If the world knew now what I have learned through such misery, thousands now doomed need not die. If the world would spend even a small proportion to save life which it now spends in spreading death, mothers and fathers need not kneel in such helpless and hopeless suffering.

The doctors are doing all they can. The nurses are doing all they can. Shall we alone be indifferent?

So I have told you my story. It has not been easy. It is not easy to go down the years alone—longing and longing. But if it will move you to give even as little as a dollar, it will be worth while. Send that dollar to the editor of this paper. Send it in the name of the old mother whose agony you could not bear to watch. Send it in the name of the little youngster who went so cruelly soon. Send it in the name of those thousands who must pass unless you help.

Crime Wave Becomes Flood For Jailbirds

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — (AP) — Two floods in his jail in as many days is more than Sheriff Dave C. Jobe can stand. A Saturday night inmate, unhappy over his incarceration, leaned against a shower button and flooded the jail. A mop and bucket brigade cleaned up. The next night another inmate repeated the performance. "If it happens once more, some people are going to have a hard time getting into my jail," he said.

2 Youths Paroled After Admitting Three Car Thefts

Two 17-year-old youths who admitted stealing three cars, and are believed by officers to be associated with other automobile larcenies committed here in the past month, yesterday were given suspended sentences of one year in industrial schools and paroled for two years, police said.

Identified as Charles P. Sponaugle, 23 Lamont Street, and James L. Welsh, 944 Gay Street, Lt. James E. Van said the youths, both of whom, he said, have prior police records, were arrested yesterday morning at their homes following an investigation.

Lt. Van, who was assisted in the investigation by Officers P. M. Crabtree and Charles Mangus, said the two youths were taken to Juvenile Court yesterday after they confessed to three of the nine car thefts that have occurred in the city since March 28.

The two youths, police said, confessed to stealing the automobile of Fred William Robinson, 435 Grand Avenue, April 2, while it was parked in front of his home, police stated.

The other vehicles which the youths admitted taking belonged to Joseph F. Jones, 496 Central Avenue and Mrs. Florence Bishop, Fair Grounds, Lt. Van asserted. The Jones vehicle was taken from in front of his home March 28, and Mrs. Bishop's car was taken April 1 from the rear of the Western Maryland Railway freight house on Canal Street.

Sponaugle, police said, was recently discharged from a boys' industrial school, where he was sentenced on charges of automobile larceny before and Welsh was recently held for questioning in connection with the theft of junk from a Luke dealer police stated.

The three cars which the youths admitted taking have been recovered and returned to the owners, police said, declaring that both Sponaugle and Welsh used the cars for brief periods and then parked them when they were through using them.

In the bedroom, an old-fashioned bed was neatly made with clean bed clothing and spotless linen. It was just a little house by the side of the road, where two people were making a home, when something went wrong and violence took the place of happiness.

When authorities learned of the tragedy, they went to the scene and found the young woman lying in the center of the old concrete bridge which crosses Town Creek about 200 yards from the house. She was dead. Her body was lying with her head in the direction of Flintstone, as if she had been going that way when she fell forward.

A couple of empty shot gun shells lay nearby. At the house, police found Smith lying at the edge of the porch, badly wounded and bleeding profusely from gun shot wounds. Tracks on the porch and in the kitchen, living room and bedroom of the house showed where he had walked around in his own blood.

Scouts Plan Bazaar

Barton Girl Scout Troop No. 1 will sponsor a bazaar in the firemen's armory, Friday, May 2, Mrs. Inez Andrews, scout mistress, announced today.

The troop sponsored the event annually and proceeds are used to defray expenses of the annual camping program.

Dancing, games, refreshments and an entertainment will be provided for the evening's program.

Committee will be appointed at the next regular meeting.

Mrs. Jeanette Wright, troop committee-women, will assist Mrs. Andrews.

Brief Mention

William Chappell, Jr., son of Deputy Sheriff William Chappell, suffered a chin injury yesterday when he fell while playing basketball at Barton School. He was taken to the Reeves Clinic, Westernport, where two stitches were used to close the wound.

City Ends Fiscal Year "In Black"

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson reported yesterday that the city ended its fiscal year $20,738.76 "in the black," with the Water Department, which operates on a separate basis, reporting a net profit of $37,138.40. The total unexpended balance is $10,799.20.

City collections actually totaled $799,619.56 as compared to a levy of $789,680, an increase of $9,939.56. Excess collections were $15,864.56 and anticipated but uncollected were $5,925.

The levy anticipated $3,000 as interest on taxes but this account was $586.19 short because of prompt payment of taxes. A total of $26,000 was set up for general and special income, but this was short by $5,338.81 because nearly $8,000 was paid out for new parking meters. If new meters had not been bought this money would have been credited to the revenue side.

Tax collections were $10,162.15 ahead of expectations, police fines were up $3,002, general licenses were ahead $2,171.55, permits up $228.34, weights up $285.49, and state income tax up $15.03.

Some accounts were very close to the "red" with Constitution Park being $1.71 ahead, the Fire Department $9.55 ahead, Fire Pension Fund $9.50 ahead, garbage $3.43 ahead, and sewers $6.14 to the good.

Water rent income totaled $377,039.93 and with income from meters, taps, house and land rent added the total revenue was $383,664.63.

Office expenses, interest, debt retirement, and the collector's commission amounted to $184,872.43. Dam expense was $51,590.46 and city expense was $110,063.34.

A number of expense items are actually capital expenditures, such as $14,704.53 for the new water line, $1,900 for the new sedimentation basin, and $16,024.54 for pipe and fittings.

Four Students, Three Veterans Enter Reserve

Four area high school students and three Navy veterans have been sworn into the V-6 inactive naval reserve, according to Chief Torpedoman Edgar L. Schrader of the local Navy recruiting station.

The veterans are Paul Edward Light, 206 Park Street, aviation torpedoman first class, who served seven years in the Regular Navy; Venson E. Self, 601 North Mechanic Street, machinist's mate third class, veteran of 27 months; and Bennie Fred Reed, Route 6, Potomac Park, coxswain, veteran of 14 months.

The students, three of whom enlisted for minority terms, are John Wellington Swan, 303 Washington Street; Leon Edward Connor, 129 Mt. Pleasant Street, Frostburg; Timothy Francis Cadigan, Paw Paw, W. Va.; and Harry Robert Thomas, 70 Linden Street, Frostburg. The latter enlisted for four years.

Playground Group Elects Officers

The City Playground Associations, representing 12 local groups, interested in better playgrounds for Cumberland, was formed last night in City Hall when officers were elected and bylaws were adopted.

The representatives of schools and playgrounds elected William H. Buchholtz, 714 Gephart Drive, president and William E. McCullough vice-president and Henry Gehauf, secretary-treasurer.

McCullough, who was also appointed publicity chairman, said the organization will not announce its policy of working with the City Recreation Board appointed by Mayor Thomas S. Post recently, until after its next meeting May 1.

McCullough said the group had held several meetings prior to the Mayor's appointment of his board, and that the meeting last night was held to discuss whether they should disband or organize and elect officers.

Representatives voted to continue the organization and then elected officers, he explained. The policy of the Associations will not be announced until after the next meeting, McCullough states, and for that reason no explanation can be made as to how the group will function in matters involving the Mayor's board.

Cumberland's Licensing Power Reported Reduced

Recent acts of the General Assembly have taken away much of the city's licensing power and revenue ideas will have to be overhauled, City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett said yesterday.

Explaining that the city may not license any activity licensed by the state, Heskett said lost sources of revenue include theater licenses, auctioneers, peddlers, garages, hotels, rooming houses, restaurants, vending machines, music and pinball machines, circuses and carnivals, night clubs, pool rooms, bowling alleys and taxicabs.

He pointed out, however, that the city will get its share of revenue from these and other sources from the state, adding that Cumberland should double its revenue from its share of liquor and beer license fees.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said the city received $23,171 in the past fiscal year from license fees and liquor revenue, stating that liquor fees were in excess of $9,000.

Proposals Approved

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—The Power Commission announced today approval of proposals by the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia and the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company to eliminate $1,148,942 from their gas plant valuations.

The valuations are a factor in determining rates for service provided by the companies. Both companies are members of the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation System and have offices in Pittsburgh. They operate in Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland.

Grand Jury

for the City of Cumberland, William Keegan; and Police Department heads of Cumberland, Frostburg, Westernport, Barton, Lonaconing, Luke, and Midland, and a number of Constables.

In addition to these peace officers, we questioned a number of other witnesses with regard to illegal gaming or gambling and other violations. We learned of some violations and some indictments have been returned. Obviously, it was with considerable difficulty that any evidence was obtainable after the recent and widespread publicity given this matter in the local press. We were unable to obtain proper and sufficient legal evidence to substantiate indictments in some types of gaming violations, which we believe did exist in the county prior to the recent move to curb gambling. Our extensive investigation reveals that illegal gambling in Allegany County is now at a minimum. There is no reason for it ever to get out of control.

In order to curb gambling and generally suppress violations of the Alcoholic Beverages Act, it was provided under the Old Alcoholic Beverages Act (now declared unconstitutional) that the Sheriff of Allegany County, or any police officers of any municipal corporation, had the right to inspect the premises upon which alcoholic beverages were sold at any and all hours.

Under the New Alcoholic Beverages Act, "The Comptroller, his duly authorized deputies, inspectors and clerks, the Board of License Commissioners of the County or the City in which the place is located, its duly authorized agents and employees, and any peace officer of such county or city, or any of them, shall be fully authorized to inspect and search, without warant, at all hours, any building, vehicle and premises in which any alcoholic beverages are authorized to be kept, transported, manufactured or sold under a license or permit issued under the provisions of this Article, and any evidence discovered during any such inspection shall be admissible in any prosecution for the violation of the provisions of this or any other Article, or upon any hearing for a revocation, suspension or restriction of the license or permit."

If the Sheriff, municipal police officers, constables and the agents of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners carry out the mandate in this inspection law, there will be no slot machines or gambling of any kind in Clubs or other places where alcoholic beverages are sold.

Mention Various Duties

We have inquired and learned that the Sheriff and other peace officers are given the power, and it is made their duty to preserve the peace, arrest and commit to jail all felons, traitors and other misdoers. They should be reasonably alert with respect to possible violations of the law and not wait until they come to their personal knowledge.

We have also learned that the duties of the State's Attorney are limited and prescribed by the Constitution and statute. It is thus provided: "The State's Attorney for each County and the City of Baltimore shall, in such County or City, prosecute and defend, on the part of the State, all cases in which the State may be interested." It is, therefore, not within his realm to make arrests or raids.

The true rule in determining to embrace or reject anything is whether it is evil or good. So far as the gaming laws are concerned, the State of Maryland has placed itself in a most inconsistent position. It licenses, taxes and receives a large amount of revenue from race tracks.

Allegany County, as well as several other counties, have legalized bingo to the extent that Churches, Fraternal and Charitable Organizations and Volunteer Fire Companies may conduct or operate bingo for the benefit of charity or in furtherance of the purposes of their organizations.

The government, on the one hand, says, in effect, that certain types of gambling are the offspring of idleness; the prolific parent of vice and immorality; demoralizing in its association and tendencies, and detrimental to the best interests of society; and, on the other hand, legalizes and licenses certain types of gambling. If the people are confused about what is good and what is evil, the State is not without blame.

We know that we are not a legislative body and we must accept the laws as they are. However, we request that a copy of this report be forwarded to our State Senator and the Chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, for their consideration. We have dealt at length with this subject for the reason that we wished to place responsibility where it legally and properly belongs and so that the public may have a better understanding of the whole matter.

Cumberland Police Needs

Eighth: We urge the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland to give serious consideration to that portion of the recent report of Chief of Police Oscar Eyerman, in which he requests an increase in the personnel of the Police Department.

Ninth: We had before our body Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka of Cumberland, and questioned him with regard to existing fire hazards in the City of Cumberland, and he said that they make inspections regularly throughout the City and that there was nothing of a serious nature to report to our body at this time.

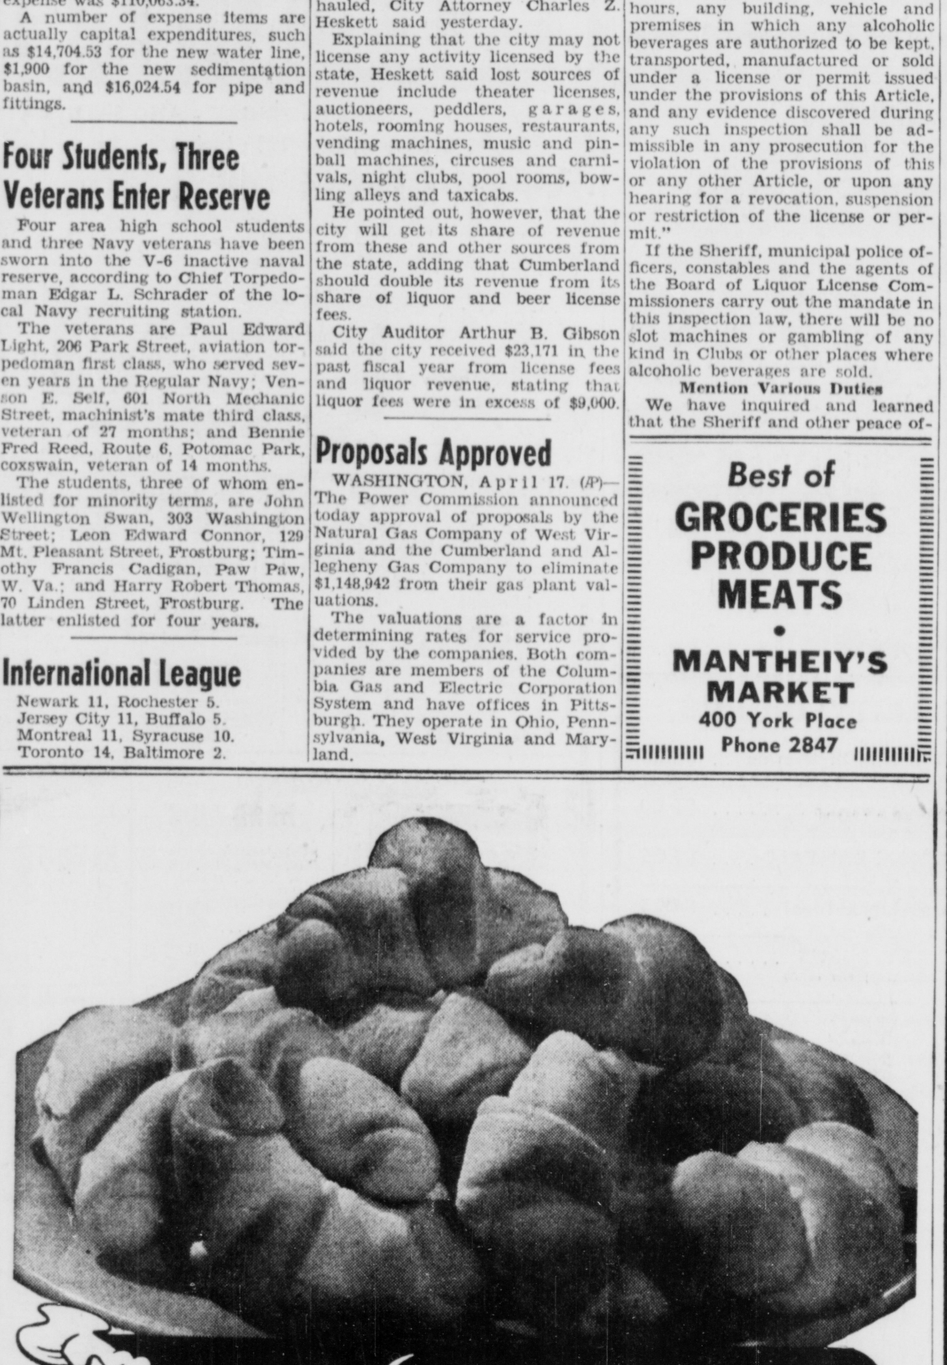

Tenth: The Grand Jury in a body made an inspection of the Allegany County Court House and earnestly recommend to the County Commissioners that they make a thorough inspection of the Court House with the view of promptly making the necessary repairs to the water spouts, roof, floors, floor covering, etc., that are badly in need of attention. We also want to call the attention of the County Commissioners to the matter of a thorough cleaning of the outside walls, windows, window sills and the great need of a general cleaning and painting of all the offices, including the court room proper, on the second floor.

The Grand Jury feels that it would be false economy to delay longer the spending of the necessary money to place the Court House in first-class condition, both inside and outside. The attention of the Commissioners is also called to the lack of fire extinguishers in the building and the apparent lack of any periodic inspection of the fire hose.

Eleven: The Grand Jury finds that Morgan C. Harris, State's Attorney for Allegany County, and Terrence J. Boyle, county investigator, have conducted their respective duties most ably and that all items, pertaining to criminal offenses and other cases, are promptly handled by investigations. We want to thank Mr. Harris, the state's attorney, for his able presentation of the evidence that came before us. Mr. Boyle is most efficient in the manner in which he conducts investigations and brings to justice those offending the laws of Allegany County.

The Grand Jury would be remiss if it did not express its appreciation to the Clerk of the Court, Robert Jackson, and other Court attaches for their courteous service to the body.

6½ cups OCCIDENT Family Flour
2 cups lukewarm (87° F.) water
⅓ cup sugar
2 cakes compressed yeast
2 eggs
1 tablespoon salt
⅓ cup shortening

OCCIDENT for finer flavor, longer-lasting freshness! SPEEDIE baking success first time, every time! Recommended by Virginia Roberts of the Occident Home Baking Institute for all your good home baking.

Mix Like This. No Kneading!

1. EASY! Place lukewarm water, sugar and yeast in mixing bowl. Add salt and 2 cups sifted flour. Beat with electric mixer or rotary egg beater 2 minutes.
2. FAST! Add eggs and melted and cooled shortening. Beat 1 minute.
3. NO KNEADING! Gradually add 4½ cups flour, stirring until a dough is formed.
4. READY IN A JIFFY! Allow dough to "rest" in bowl for 20 minutes for ease in handling. Dough is now ready for shaping into rolls.

1. Roll ⅓ of Speedie Roll Dough into a circle about 12 inches in diameter on a floured bread board. Cut dough as for a pie, into 12 wedge-shaped pieces. (Balance of dough can be used for additional crescent rolls or other favorite variations.)
2. Brush top with melted shortening. Roll up each piece (start at the wide part of the wedge and roll towards the tip).
3. Place roll with tip down on an oiled baking sheet. Curve each roll slightly.
4. Cover. Let rise in a warm place (about 85° F.) for 40 minutes. Bake 15-18 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375°). Makes 12 rolls.

2 Youths Paroled After Admitting Three Car Thefts

Two 17-year-old youths who admitted stealing three cars, and are believed by officers to be associated with other automobile larcenies committed here in the past month, yesterday were given suspended sentences of one year in industrial schools and paroled for two years, police said.

Identified as Charles P. Sponaugle, 23 Lamont Street, and James L. Welsh, 944 Gay Street, Lt. James E. Van said the youths, both of whom, he said, have prior police records, were arrested yesterday morning at their homes following an investigation.

Lt. Van, who was assisted in the investigation by Officers P. M. Crabtree and Charles Mangus, said the two youths were taken to Juvenile Court yesterday after they confessed to three of the nine car thefts that have occurred in the city since March 28.

The two youths, police said, confessed to stealing the automobile of Fred William Robinson, 435 Grand Avenue, April 2, while it was parked in front of his home, police stated.

The other vehicles which the youths admitted taking belonged to Joseph F. Jones, 496 Central Avenue and Mrs. Florence Bishop, Fair Grounds, Lt. Van asserted. The Jones vehicle was taken from in front of his home March 28, and Mrs. Bishop's car was taken April 1 from the rear of the Western Maryland Railway freight house on Canal Street.

Sponaugle, police said, was recently discharged from a boys' industrial school, where he was sentenced on charges of automobile larceny before and Welsh was recently held for questioning in connection with the theft of junk from a Luke dealer police stated.

The three cars which the youths admitted taking have been recovered and returned to the owners, police said, declaring that both Sponaugle and Welsh used the cars for brief periods and then parked them when they were through using them.

Playground Group Elects Officers

The City Playground Associations, representing 12 local groups, interested in better playgrounds for Cumberland, was formed last night in City Hall when officers were elected and bylaws were adopted.

The representatives of schools and playgrounds elected William H. Buchholtz, 714 Gephart Drive, president and William E. McCullough vice-president and Henry Gehauf, secretary-treasurer.

Eleven: The Grand Jury finds that Morgan C. Harris, State's Attorney for Allegany County, and Terrence J. Boyle, county investigator, have conducted their respective duties most ably and that all items, pertaining to criminal offenses and other cases, are promptly handled by investigations. We want to thank Mr. Harris, the state's attorney, for his able presentation of the evidence that came before us. Mr. Boyle is most efficient in the manner in which he conducts investigations and brings to justice those offending the laws of Allegany County.

The Grand Jury would be remiss if it did not express its appreciation to the Clerk of the Court, Robert Jackson, and other Court attaches for their courteous service to the body.

SPEEDIE MAKING! SPEEDIE SHAPING!

6½ cups OCCIDENT Family Flour
2 cups lukewarm (87° F.) water
⅓ cup sugar
2 cakes compressed yeast
2 eggs
1 tablespoon salt
⅓ cup shortening

OCCIDENT for finer flavor, longer-lasting freshness! SPEEDIE baking success first time, every time! Recommended by Virginia Roberts of the Occident Home Baking Institute for all your good home baking.

Mix Like This. No Kneading!

1. EASY! Place lukewarm water, sugar and yeast in mixing bowl. Add salt and 2 cups sifted flour. Beat with electric mixer or rotary egg beater 2 minutes.

2. FAST! Add eggs and melted and cooled shortening. Beat 1 minute.

3. NO KNEADING! Gradually add 4½ cups flour, stirring until a dough is formed.

4. READY IN A JIFFY! Allow dough to "rest" in bowl for 20 minutes for ease in handling. Dough is now ready for shaping into rolls.

1. Roll ⅓ of Speedie Roll Dough into a circle about 12 inches in diameter on a floured bread board. Cut dough as for a pie, into 12 wedge-shaped pieces. (Balance of dough can be used for additional crescent rolls or other favorite variations.)

2. Brush top with melted shortening. Roll up each piece (start at the wide part of the wedge and roll towards the tip).

3. Place roll with tip down on an oiled baking sheet. Curve each roll slightly.

4. Cover. Let rise in a warm place (about 85° F.) for 40 minutes. Bake 15-18 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375°). Makes 12 rolls.

More Banks Are Opened In Manila

MANILA — Manila soon will have a dozen banks open for business, Pedro de la Costa, islands banking commissioner, disclosed with the indication that he would recommend approval by the finance department of the applications of three additional institutions.

The American owned Bank of America will open its first Oriental branch this spring. The Filipino-owned Bank of the Commonwealth and the Monte de Piedad, forced to close after the liberation because the Japanese had stripped their assets, also expect to come into the local financial scene.

The Monte de Piedad, originally the municipal pawnshop, is controlled by the Catholic archbishop of Manila. It recently received a fortune in jewels which the United States army had removed from the bank to Corregidor and then by submarine to the Treasury vaults in Washington to keep them from enemy hands.

Meanwhile the government-controlled Philippine National Bank told its stockholders its net profits last year were $1,600,000 while bank resources totaled $261,000,000, showing a 48 percent increase over 1945.

New Hospital Aids Jewish T. B. Victims

AP Newsfeatures

ROME—The American Joint Distribution Committee has opened a 150-bed tuberculosis hospital at Merano, near the Italian-Austria frontier. It will care exclusively for Jewish displaced persons who are tuberculosis victims, and non-Jews in Italy who aided Jews during their wartime persecution.

The hospital will be operated on a quota basis. It will take 40 patients from among Italian Jews and Italians who aided Jews, 60 from Germany and 40 from Austria. Ten beds will be kept in reserve.

The new hospital has a staff of 58 doctors and nurses, headed by Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, of Johannesburg, South Africa. The doctors were recruited from many parts of Europe. None are from the United States.

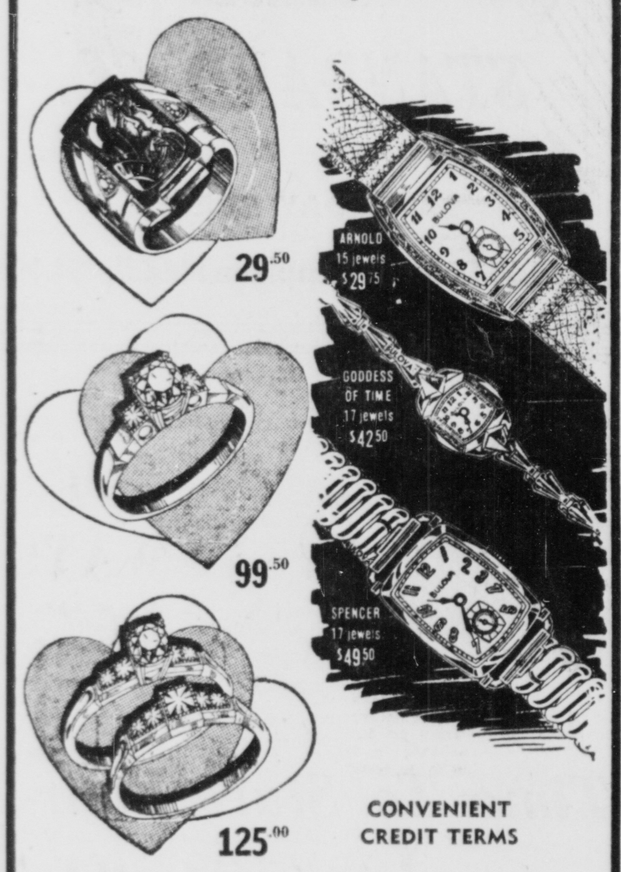

Among those who attended the inaugural ceremony were the Italian high commissioner for public health UNRRA and United States Army officials and American Joint Distribution Committee directors. The director for Italy, Jacob Trobe, of Beaver Falls, Pa., unveiled an inaugural plaque in honor of South African and English Jewish organizations, which contributed to the project.

In one second, a pedestrian walking into a poorly-lighted street from between parked cars is far enough into the traffic lane to be hit by a car 44 feet away traveling toward him 30 miles per hour.

WHY GET UP NIGHTS DUE TO KIDNEYS?
FLUSH THEM OUT THIS DOCTOR'S WAY

● If you get up nights—have frequent desire to pass your water—but have only scanty passages—yes, and have backache, due to excess acidity in the urine, be glad you're reading this:

Three generations ago Dr. Kilmer, a famous doctor, found hundreds of his patients with this trouble. Painstakingly he made a medicine of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams—Nature's own way to relief. He called it "Swamp-Root" and millions of grateful men and women have taken it—often with amazing results.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New York State Wanted Two-Term Limit In 1788

AP Newsfeatures

ALBANY, N. Y. — The be-ruffled gentlemen who voted New York's approval of the federal constitution paced today's congressmen by 159 years in recommending a two-term limit on the U. S. Presidency.

A musty, morocco-bound journal of the 1788 state convention that debated the constitution contains a proposal by the state's forefathers that "no person shall be eligible to the office of president of the United States a third time."

The 65-man delegation, headed by Gov. George Clinton, ratified the constitution without such an amendment, but urged revision. In the nation's ensuing struggle, New York's recommendation was brushed aside.

State Librarian Charles F. Gosnell and Miss Edna L. Jacobsen, manuscript and history section head, dug the hand-written convention record from the State Library vault as controversy raged over today's limitation proposal.

If there was similar controversy on the proposal at the 1788 New York convention, or any movement in favor of third terms, Miss Jacobsen was unable to find any record.

However, the group discarded a motion by Delegate John Smith of Suffolk County that "the President of the United States should hold his office during the term of seven years and that he should not be eligible a second time."

The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt traveled 243,827 miles during his 12 years in office.

BERLIN—The Allies in Germany are running the biggest "lost and found" department in history.

The property control branches of the four military governments have located and are administering thousands of properties within Germany for their rightful owners. These properties range from a soap factory to a shipment of glass eyes.

About 500 inquiries monthly reach the property control branches. Claimants include Americans and Germans, who were forced to sell their property by the Nazis under duress.

Properties in temporary custody of the American Military Government alone and claimed by nationals other than German now number close to 10,000, Earl N. Reinsel, chief of the American Military Government's Property Control Branch, says. Americans own 5,975 of these properties.

An optical company in New Zealand recently inquired about a shipment of glass eyes which it had ordered from a German firm just before the war. The eyes were found in the containers in which they had been packed seven years ago.

Bombay Divers Find Gold Lost In Ship Blast

AP Newsfeatures

BOMBAY, India—Chance discovery is yielding rich treasure from the floor of Bombay harbor, where months of patient searching by experts had failed.

The treasure consists of 16 gold bars, each valued at $26,000 at current market prices, which were lost April 14, 1944, when an explosion of a munitions ship at the Victoria dock killed 500 persons and destroyed property worth many millions of dollars, including several ships in the harbor. The gold was aboard the Fort Stilkine, the ship which exploded.

Royal Indian Navy salvage experts made two unsuccessful efforts with all available searching equipment but gave up the search. Recently a dredger on routine maintenance operation scooped up three of the missing bars, and now the search is on in earnest again. One dredge employe was so surprised he dropped a gold bar back into the water and nearly fell overboard himself when two more bars were discovered.

The gold was found on the floor of the Victoria Dock basin. Prior searchers had believed it had been flung some great distance away because one gold bar was found in the city, may blocks inland from the dock, soon after the blast.

The recovered treasure is being held by the police. There has been no announcement of what settlement of ownership or disposition is being arranged.

4-H Clubs Organized In Germany

FRANKFURT, (AP)—Four-H clubs and Parent-Teacher associations are being organized in the American zone in Germany as part of the "German Youth Activities Program" by which the U. S. Army is trying to win Nazi-reared youngsters to Democracy.

Civics and American History are among the subjects studied by the Parent-Teacher groups, with soldiers volunteering as teachers.

While studying scientific farming methods, at least one 4-H club is also distributing milk to needy Germans from the pedigreed cows it handles.

Elephants do not drink through their trunks.

Wash Paper Lampshades

Parchment and parchment paper shades can be washed. Dip a cellulose sponge in thick suds. (Use just the foam—don't have the sponge dripping wet.) Gently wash off a section working as fast as possible. Wipe suds off with a cloth wrung out of clear water and dry. Repeat till the whole shade is clean, inside and out. If the white facing has worn off the shade, give it a quick coating with one of the paints that can be used over paper.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

BALTIMORE, April 17.—Mark Hellinger and Gene Fowler, two of my favorite gents, haven't had their heads together for nothing. This dynamo "combo" will make "The Life of Jimmy Walker" together—based on Gene's story of the late Mayor of New York. But here's the big surprise:

Eddie Duchin

The actor they both like for the part is Gene Kelly! I don't know about that. Gene certainly doesn't physically resemble the Jimmy I knew and admired. But when I get back to the coast, Mark and Gene will probably talk me into seeing it their way. Those two can talk you into seeing ANYTHING.

When Mark comes to New York in May for scenes on "Homicide" he'll go through the formality of making things right with members of the Walker family about filming the biography.

Johnny Johnson and Kathryn Grayson say "I do" around the first of September which gives him plenty of time to finish "The Missourian" for Eagle-Lion. In private life Johnson may be a little temperamental—but he can certainly charm the birds off the trees when he sings. His "Black Magic" record is still a best seller.

Well, he gets plenty of chances to sing in "The Missourian" for he plays a role of a guitar-strumming troubadour who composes and warbles a fresh tune every time his bandit pal gets away with a stage coach robbery. Joe Fields produces, and Joe, you remember, did the stage hits, "My Sister Eileen" and "Doughgirls."

Dust off another pedestal for Ricardo Montalban, if the Mexican star is as good in "Fiesta" as I hear he is, he has this M-G-M musical all wrapped up as his stepping stone to American stardom.

He must be torrid as the torreador in the movie with Esther Williams and Cyd Charisse because, before their first picture is released, Montalban has been signed for a repeat performance with the same girls in "On An Island With you."

Lest other producers might think they have a chance at him—M-G-M just signed him on a long-term contract. Ricardo is well known in Mexico but most of us U. S. fans have yet to be floored by his singing, dancing and romancing.

Henry Hathaway, the director of "Kiss Of Death," is making the picture at Sing Sing and while there he noticed a young prisoner who had such a nice face, and pleasant manner that he spoke to the warden about him.

"He's a model prisoner and everybody likes him," said the warden. Henry talked to the boy, and arranged to get him a job in Hollywood after the parole board releases him on probation. I am not going to tell you his name, because he is going to get a chance to start a new life. Good luck, Mr. X.

Here's the lowdown on why the Eric Johnston office suddenly called off the motion picture anniversary dinner scheduled for May 8.

After the movie biggies travelled to Washington to invite President Truman, seems the studio heads, after a conference realized that they would have to invite practically everyone in New York of both political faiths or make enemies. So they decided instead of the huge anniversary dinner, they would make a smaller "Welcome To America" affair for Authur Rank, who arrives that day.

Snapshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random: The pretty New York model, Cynthia McAdoo, is really the California-born granddaughter of the late Senator McAdoo, and great-granddaughter of the late President Wilson. Universal-International is trying to sign her—but so far, she's more interested in studying economics at Barnard College on the side.

Linda Darnell wants it known in advance that just because Pev Marley can stay with her only a few days on her New Mexico vacation, it doesn't mean they have tiffed again. He's starting a movie at Warners.

Eddy Duchin was with a very pretty girl in the Cub Room—but most people think he and Irene Selznick will make up any edition.

The Gregory Pecks are in New York doing the town. He's ready to start "Gentleman's Agreement."

David Niven startled the natives by walking into a west coast spot with Betty Hensel (Cary Grant's girl friend) and another beautiful belle on his other arm,. Come to think of it, hasn't Cary been dating Peggy Cummins?

Sherman Billingsley, proprietor and owner extraordinary of the fabulous Stork Club, will be my guest Sunday on the radio. Walter Winchell, one of Sherm's constant Cub Room customers, promises to tell me plenty of things I can ask Sherm about in our interview.

Ann Miller denies that she's engaged to that Chicago attorney—and she should know.

My nomination for the man who sends the prettiest corsages in New York is that man-about-town, RKO's, Jack Goldstein. M-G-M's public relations man, Bob Armstrong, who stood by me in my most trying moments, has returned to the coast. Bob made many friends in the east for M-G-M.

Two English critics are arriving in Hollywood—Reggie Whitley of the London Daily Mirror and Dick Richards of the London Sunday Pictorial.

I want to say that I am grateful, indeed, to Francis, who has been the maitre de hotel at the Belvedere in Baltimore for 42 years. He looks after me so well and sees that I get my meals in plenty of time to be at the hospital with Dr. Martin.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

BALTIMORE, April 17.—Mark Hellinger and Gene Fowler, two of my favorite gents, haven't had their heads together for nothing. This dynamo "combo" will make "The Life of Jimmy Walker" together—based on Gene's story of the late Mayor of New York. But here's the big surprise:

Eddie Duchin

The actor they both like for the part is Gene Kelly! I don't know about that. Gene certainly doesn't physically resemble the Jimmy I knew and admired. But when I get back to the coast, Mark and Gene will probably talk me into seeing it their way. Those two can talk you into seeing ANYTHING.

When Mark comes to New York in May for scenes on "Homicide" he'll go through the formality of making things right with members of the Walker family about filming the biography.

Johnny Johnson and Kathryn Grayson say "I do" around the first of September which gives him plenty of time to finish "The Missourian" for Eagle-Lion. In private life Johnson may be a little temperamental—but he can certainly charm the birds off the trees when he sings. His "Black Magic" record is still a best seller.

Well, he gets plenty of chances to sing in "The Missourian" for he plays a role of a guitar-strumming troubadour who composes and warbles a fresh tune every time his bandit pal gets away with a stage coach robbery. Joe Fields produces, and Joe, you remember, did the stage hits, "My Sister Eileen" and "Doughgirls."

Dust off another pedestal for Ricardo Montalban, if the Mexican star is as good in "Fiesta" as I hear he is, he has this M-G-M musical all wrapped up as his stepping stone to American stardom.

He must be torrid as the torreador in the movie with Esther Williams and Cyd Charisse because, before their first picture is released, Montalban has been signed for a repeat performance with the same girls in "On An Island With you."

Lest other producers might think they have a chance at him—M-G-M just signed him on a long-term contract. Ricardo is well known in Mexico but most of us U. S. fans have yet to be floored by his singing, dancing and romancing.

Henry Hathaway, the director of "Kiss Of Death," is making the picture at Sing Sing and while there he noticed a young prisoner who had such a nice face, and pleasant manner that he spoke to the warden about him.

"He's a model prisoner and everybody likes him," said the warden. Henry talked to the boy, and arranged to get him a job in Hollywood after the parole board releases him on probation. I am not going to tell you his name, because he is going to get a chance to start a new life. Good luck, Mr. X.

Here's the lowdown on why the Eric Johnston office suddenly called off the motion picture anniversary dinner scheduled for May 8.

After the movie biggies travelled to Washington to invite President Truman, seems the studio heads, after a conference realized that they would have to invite practically everyone in New York of both political faiths or make enemies. So they decided instead of the huge anniversary dinner, they would make a smaller "Welcome To America" affair for Authur Rank, who arrives that day.

Snapshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random: The pretty New York model, Cynthia McAdoo, is really the California-born granddaughter of the late Senator McAdoo, and great-granddaughter of the late President Wilson. Universal-International is trying to sign her—but so far, she's more interested in studying economics at Barnard College on the side.

Linda Darnell wants it known in advance that just because Pev Marley can stay with her only a few days on her New Mexico vacation, it doesn't mean they have tiffed again. He's starting a movie at Warners.

Eddy Duchin was with a very pretty girl in the Cub Room—but most people think he and Irene Selznick will make up any edition

Housewives Warned Against Dangers Of Cleaning Fluid

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The housewife may be exposing herself and her family to disaster if she carelessly or improperly uses cleaning fluids in the home, the Safety Research Institute warns. Solvents can be quite dangerous if they are not handled properly, the organization points out.

Cleaning fluid vapors are poisonous if they are inhaled over a long period of time. They may affect the blood, lungs, liver or kidneys, depending on the solvent. Heavy concentrations of the vapor, even if breathed for a relatively short time, can cause headache, nausea, and even unconsciousness.

For this reason, says the safety institute, it is always better to use a solvent out of doors where a breeze can blow the vapors away.

Dry cleaning fluids are fire hazards. Not only are these liquids flammable, but even their vapors can burn. Sometimes invisible vapors many feet away from their original source will take fire.

Flammable fluids are naptha, benzine and gasoline. Others, like carbon tetrachloride, are non-flammable. The flammable liquids should not be used inside the house or where there is the slightest possibility of the vapors being ignited. Non-flammable solvents may be used indoors for spotting jobs which will not take much solvent but there should be ample ventilation.

All solvents are poisonous if they are swallowed and can be fatal. It is best to keep them away from the reach of children who drink any liquid they see.

If by accident a solvent is swallowed, call a doctor. While you are waiting for him try the finger-in-the-throat method to cause regurgitation. If this fails make the victim swallow either warm salt water, mustard water or soapy water.

Here are some rules suggested for safe dry cleaning:

Arrange the work so that you will not be inhaling vapors of the solvent.

Never use a flammable solvent where it can be ignited; use it out of doors at all times.

Be sure there is plenty of ventilation when you do a small spotting job indoors, even though you are using a non-flammable solvent.

Tri-Town, Keyser Rotary Clubs Hold Joint Ladies Night

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, April 17—Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State School, Keyser, was toastmaster at the joint ladies night dinner meeting of the Keyser and Tri-Town Rotary Clubs held Tuesday evening at the Shrine Club, Cumberland.

The program included invocation by Harry J. Biggs, Westernport; group singing led by J. Harold Baker, Piedmont, and Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, Westernport, with Mrs. Church, wife of Dr. Church, playing piano accompaniments. Greetings were extended by J. Paul Blundon, president of the Keyser Club and Mayor J. Milton McIntyre, Westernport, president of the Tri-Town Club. A game of cheerio was won by Mrs. Miller, Keyser.

A floor show under the direction of Les Sponsler, Baltimore, was given. The six acts included tap dancing, singing, marimba selections, acrobatic dance and magician. The ladies were presented with organdie tea apron favors as compliments of the Perfection Garment Company Keyser. The Rhythmaires orchstra played for dancing after the program.

Roscoe Hall Gets 10 Day Jail Term

Roscoe Hall, Flintstone, was sentenced to 10 days in jail in default of a $10 fine yesterday morning in Police Court on drunk and disorderly conduct charges resulting from a disturbance in a Front Street tavern Wednesday night, police said.

Raymond L. Miller, 19, 226 Emily Street, who police accused of being involved in the fracas, was fined $5 on a disorderly count. Magistrate Frank A. Perdew advised him to remain out of beer taverns because of his age.

Nonflammable solvents may be used indoors for spotting jobs which will not take much solvent but there should be ample ventilation.

All solvents are poisonous if they are swallowed and can be fatal. It is best to keep them away from the reach of children who drink any liquid they see.

If by accident a solvent is swallowed, call a doctor. While you are waiting for him try the finger-in-the-throat method to cause regurgitation. If this fails make the victim swallow either warm salt water, mustard water or soapy water.

Here are some rules suggested for safe dry cleaning:

Arrange the work so that you will not be inhaling vapors of the solvent.

Never use a flammable solvent where it can be ignited; use it out of doors at all times.

Be sure there is plenty of ventilation when you do a small spotting job indoors, even though you are using a nonflammable solvent.

Never soak your hands in the solvent unnecessarily.

Military development recently has produced the world's most powerful reciprocating aircraft engine—5,000 h. p. with 36 cylinders. Its takeoff power equals the pull of a locomotive.

Tri-Town, Keyser Rotary Clubs Hold Joint Ladies Night

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

The program included invocation by Harry J. Biggs, Westernport; group singing led by J. Harold Baker, Piedmont, and Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, Westernport, with Mrs. Church, wife of Dr. Church, playing piano accompaniments. Greetings were extended by J. Paul Blundon, president of the Keyser Club and Mayor J. Milton McIntyre, Westernport, president of the Tri-Town Club. A game of cheerio was won by Mrs. Miller, Keyser.

A floor show under the direction of Les Sponsler, Baltimore, was given. The six acts included tap dancing, singing, marimba selections, acrobatic dance and magician. The ladies were presented with organdie tea apron favors as compliments of the Perfection Garment Company Keyser. The Rhythmaires orchstra played for dancing after the program.

Tri-Town Briefs

Mrs. Catherine Story, Baltimore, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Winnie Mills, Westernport.

The Cherub choir will hold a rehearsal Saturday 2 p. m. and Children's choir at 2:30 in the chapel of Trinity Methodist Church. The Misses Toni Dayton and Mary Roberts Patrick will direct.

Roscoe Hall Gets 10 Day Jail Term

Roscoe Hall, Flintstone, was sentenced to 10 days in jail in default of a $10 fine yesterday morning in Police Court on drunk and disorderly conduct charges resulting from a disturbance in a Front Street tavern Wednesday night, police said.

Raymond L. Miller, 19, 226 Emily Street, who police accused of being involved in the fracas, was fined $5 on a disorderly count. Magistrate Frank A. Perdew advised him to remain out of beer taverns because of his age.

Greenberg Smashes Out Homer As Pirates Win

Dodgers, Phillies And Cincinnati Win

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP) — Hank Greenberg's first National League homer, plus six unearned tallies on shortstop Len Merullo's two errors in the seventh, swept the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs before 9,749 fans at Wrigley Field today.

Elwin (Preacher) Roe hurled hitless ball for six and two-thirds innings and then was touched for five hits by the Cubs, whose only marker came on Andy Pafko's double and Bill Nicholson's single in the ninth inning.

Greenberg, who Tuesday doubled across the winning tally in Pittsburgh's 1-0 season opening win over the Cubs, slammed Hank Wyse's first pitch in the second inning into the left field bleachers. The big ex-Detroit Tiger slugger belted 44 homers to lead the American League last year.

REDS TROUNCE CARDS

CINCINNATI, April 17 (AP)—Behind rookie Kent Peterson's supurb relief hurling, the Cincinnati Reds unlimbered their home run bats four times today against the St. Louis Cardinals to score 9-4 victory and cop the opening series from the world champs 2-1.

Peterson, a left hander who previous had pitched only one inning of Major League ball, came to the relief of starter Everet Lively with one out in the opening frame and held the Cards to three hits the rest of the way.

Trailing 3-2 as they came to bat in the third, the hustling Redlegs shelled Murray Dickson from the mound and had clouted three homers for a 7-3 lead before the side was retired.

After Marty Marion had tossed out Bobby Adams, third sacker Grady Hatton got the big third rolling with a double to right. Augie Galan counted him with a home run into the right field bleachers and Ray Lamanno promptly banged one to the same spot.

DODGER ROOKIE STARS

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP) — Rookie infielder Johnny Jorgensen batted in six runs and scored two others today to lead a 13-hit attack on five Boston pitchers as the Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the Braves, 12-6.

Jorgensen banged out two doubles and a three-run homer as the Brooks salted the game away by scoring seven times in the first two innings against Mort Cooper and Anton Karl.

Pete Reiser and Bruce Edwards also belted out three hits and negro infielder Jackie Robinson collected the first safety of his major league career, a beat-out bunt in the fifth inning.

Kirby Higbe started for the Brooks but the Braves drove him to cover with a four run rally in the sixth and Harry Taylor and Hugh Casey finished up.

PHILS WALLOP GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 17. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies spoiled the debut of rookie righthander Bill Ayers of the New York Giants today by hammering him for six runs in the fourth inning and going on to defeat the Giants, 11-5.

Trailing, 4-0, going into the fourth, the Phils sailed into Ayers for six hits with Skeeter Newsome climaxing the rally by doubling home the last three runs. The Phils added five runs in the last three frames including a round tripper by Frank McCormick, who, along with Emil Verban, smashed out three hits.

Boston Red Sox Defeat Senators By 4 To 1 Score

Sharp Fielding Is Big Aid To Dobson

BOSTON, April 17 (AP) — Jumping into a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, the Boston Red Sox today defeated the Washington Senators 4-1 behind Joe Dobson, whose last Fenway Park performance was a four-hit 6-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the fifth game of the World Series.

The Senators threatened several times but sharp fielding by the Sox kept them in check, save in the third frame when they manufactured their only run before 12,779 paid fans.

The American League Champions assured themselves of victory, as things turned out, with a three-run attack in the second inning at the expense of starter Lefty Mickey Haefner.

These three runs, added to the singleton fashioned in the first, were the only Boston scores.

YANKEES NIP A's

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — The New York Yankees gained their first victory of the season today by scoring twice in the eighth inning to beat the Philadelphia Athletics 2-1 as Floyd Bevens outpitched Dick Fowler of the A's.

Blanked by the towering Fowler on three hits going into the eighth, the Yanks rapped the big righthander for three hits and aided by an error by first sacker Ferris Fain, scored twice to pull the game out of the fire.

Phil Rizzuto singled to start the inning and was sacrificed to second, whence he scored on Tommy Henrich's double. Henrich moved to third after Charley Keller flied out and counted with the payoff marker when Fain booted Larry Berra's grounder.

The A's scored their lone run off Bevens, who gave up only three hits.

BROWNS WIN IN TENTH

ST. LOUIS, April 17. (AP)—A long single to center by Pinch-Hitting Rookie Paul Lehner with the bases loaded and two out broke a tenth inning tie to give the St. Louis Browns a 4 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers today.

Both teams were evenly matched going into the extra frame but two St. Louis hits sent Paul (Dizzy) Trout out of the game for Alton Benton who gave up two walks and the winning hit. Lehner batted for Brownie Hurler Jack Kramer.

Trout started the Detroit scoring with a home run into the left field bleachers in the fifth inning. The box:

Sisler Tutors Dodgers

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP) — George Sisler, one-time baseball great and presently a scout of the Brooklyn Dodgers, arrived from the club's minor league training camp at Pensacola today and immediately was put to work teaching the Dodgers' first base foursome.

The quartet is made up of Tommy Brown, Jackie Robinson, Howard Schultz and Edward Stevens.

Ensign Hanover with $70,000 is the leading harness racing money winner active today.

NO. 1 FOR HANK—Hank Greenberg, Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman, trots home after smashing his first homer of the season in the second inning of yesterday's game with the Cubs at Chicago. Greeting him is Buc Third Baseman Frank Gustine (16). Cub Catcher Bob Scheffing stands disconsolately by.

Louis' Foe May Be Named Today

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Sol Strauss, acting director of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, said today no decision on the June 26 opponent of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis would be made until tomorrow.

He added that it was up to Louis, now in Los Angeles, whether Jersey Joe Walcott, of Camden, N. J., or Melio Bettina, of Beacon, N. Y., was designated.

"I will make no recommendation unless Joe asks me," Straus said today. He added that the probable reason for the 24-hour delay in naming the foe for Louis' 24th title defense was that Joe had planned to meet the winner of Tuesday's Bruce Woodcock-Joe Baksi fight in London and of Baksi's subsequent refusal to fight Louis this year.

There has been some talk of an elimination bout between Walcott and Bettina but Strauss ruled this out because of the lack of time.

Fence Will Cut Size Of Cleveland Outfield

CLEVELAND, April 17 (AP) — A fence that would cut an enormous chunk from the Cleveland Stadium outfield area was ordered today by Cleveland Indian's President Bill Veeck as an aid to his Tribe sluggers.

The stadium has long been known as a pitchers' paradise and a headache for long-range hitters. A home run in the park was a rarity.

When the Indians abandoned League Park in favor of the Stadium as their home park, Veeck decided something had to be done to boost the home run output. "A fence seemed the only answer," the Tribe's colorful boss said.

Washington Will Open Season This Afternoon

President Truman To Toss Out First Ball

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Washington will open its delayed home baseball season tomorrow, and its top pitchers—Harry Truman and Bobo Newsom—are ready.

Mr. Truman, a $75,000-a-year southpaw, and Newsom, a $20,000-a-year righthander, were scheduled for Monday's opener with the New York Yankees.

But that was rained out, and so the same two were saved for this ceremonious occasion.

The President will throw out the first ball (at 3 p. m., EST), bands will tootle, and a vast assortment of politicians will try to look vastly important.

Again the Yankees will be the opposition. Allie Reynolds, who wore a Cleveland uniform last year, probably will be their pitcher.

The weatherman, evidently trying to atone for Monday's downpour, has promised sun and warmth. A crowd of 32,000 is expected.

Maybe you wonder why Newsom, who won 14 and lost 13 last year, has been saved. If he was good enough for the opener, why wasn't he good enough to pitch in Boston?

Well, Newsom is a strutter. He often does his best when the audience is large and admiring, as the opening day crowd usually is.

Speaking of Newsom's ears, one of them figured prominently in the dramatic 1936 opener.

The play called for Newsom to get out of the way by dropping to the ground.

Newsome dropped all right—after he was hit on the ear by Bluege's rifle throw. Bobo got up, held his ear for a few minutes, and then went on with the game.

All he did was to shut out the Yankees, 1-0.

U. S. Yachts Drop Out Of Cup Series

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 17 (AP) — All three United States yachts dropped out of the fourth race of the Amorita Cup Series today after two of them, Westra, sailed by A. E. Luders, Jr., and Teaser, piloted by Cornelius Shields, collided at the weather mark and Westra lost a part of her mast.

Bill Cox, third skipper, withdrew after leading the way around three legs of the course. Cox withdrew because it was impossible for the United States team to win with only one yacht sailing against the Bermudians' three. The Bermuda team of Bayard Dill, Bert Darrell and Kenneth Trimingham, thus won the race 15¼ points to none and evened the series at two victories for each team. The series will continue until one team has won four races.

WESTMINSTER, Md., April 17 (AP) —Western Maryland College won its first golf match in three starts this season with a 6-3 victory today over Juniata College of Huntingdon, Pa.

Central Licensing Bureau For Racing Is Discussed

Mahoney Thinks Plan Will Be Adopted

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) — Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission predicted today the National Association of Racing Commissioners will adopt his plan for a central licensing information bureau to eliminate the "crooked few" from the sport.

Action on Mahoney's plan is expected when the national group meets at Lexington, Ky., next Tuesday. He said he had scores of letters from racing commissioners in this country, Canada, Mexico, and Cuba approving the proposal.

"I am positive it will be adopted, that it can and will be financed, and within the next couple of years, if it is managed properly, it will remove from racing most, if not all, of the undesirables that now hold badges," Mahoney declared.

He said the proposed bureau would maintain a catalogue of all the methods used to combat racing racketeers and fixers.

"It will keep an index of everyone connected with racing, owners, trainers, jockeys, jockey agents and all others who require a license.

"Thus, if a mark is placed against an individual upon proof of wrongdoing, he will be barred from any further privileges in the racing world until his record again is clear."

Mahoney said that at present licensing, supervised by the individual states, was haphazard and without sufficient information.

"A man may get into trouble in one state, and yet go to another and get a license. Then he has his badge, and as there is reciprocity between states, he is able even to go back to his crooked work without interference."

In his drive against "undesirables" and horse "doping" Mahoney instituted the compulsory receiving barn at Maryland tracks. Trainers are required to have their horses in the guarded barn two hours before post time. He set up a mobile laboratory where saliva samples are taken from all horses for the much-discussed mouse test.

Indicating that he had been successful in the campaign, Mahoney announced recently that his chemists made more than 1,000 tests at the 11-day Bowie meeting which closed last Saturday and failed to find one positive case.

"The foundation of racing is not to be found in the racing plants, but in the people who work and live around them," Mahoney said.

"The vast majority of these are honest, high class sportsmen and thousands of them are among my best personal friends.

"It is the small, crooked few we must aim at if we are to have honest racing."

Broken Jaw Will Not End Woodcock's Career

DONCASTER, England, April 17. (AP)—A broken jaw suffered by British Heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock in his fight with Joe Baksi will not mean taps for his ring career, his manager, Tom Hurst, said today.

Woodcock, who lost by a technical knockout in the seventh round Tuesday, was taken to a hospital for an operation after the injury was diagnosed today.

Hurst said he had been assured by doctors that Woodcock's jaw will be stronger than before once it is set.

Jack Solomons, London, promoter, declared "it's sad news, but Bruce will come back again, and when he does I shall have plenty of fights for him."

Woodcock was hammered heavily on the jaw in the first round, going down three times.

Dodgers, Phillies And Cincinnati Win

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP) — Hank Greenberg's first National League homer, plus six unearned tallies on shortstop Len Merullo's two errors in the seventh, swept the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs before 9,749 fans at Wrigley Field today.

Elwin (Preacher) Roe hurled hitless ball for six and two-thirds innings and then was touched for five hits by the Cubs, whose only marker came on Andy Pafko's double and Bill Nicholson's single in the ninth inning.

Greenberg, who Tuesday doubled across the winning tally in Pittsburgh's 1-0 season opening win over the Cubs, slammed Hank Wyse's first pitch in the second inning into the left field bleachers. The big ex-Detroit Tiger slugger belted 44 homers to lead the American League last year.

REDS TROUNCE CARDS

CINCINNATI, April 17 (AP)—Behind rookie Kent Peterson's supurb relief hurling, the Cincinnati Reds unlimbered their home run bats four times today against the St. Louis Cardinals to score 9-4 victory and cop the opening series from the world champs 2-1.

Peterson, a left hander who previous had pitched only one inning of Major League ball, came to the relief of starter Everet Lively with one out in the opening frame and held the Cards to three hits the rest of the way.

Trailing 3-2 as they came to bat in the third, the hustling Redlegs shelled Murray Dickson from the mound and had clouted three homers for a 7-3 lead before the side was retired.

After Marty Marion had tossed out Bobby Adams, third sacker Grady Hatton got the big third rolling with a double to right. Augie Galan counted him with a home run into the right field bleachers and Ray Lamanno promptly banged one to the same spot.

DODGER ROOKIE STARS

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP) — Rookie infielder Johnny Jorgensen batted in six runs and scored two others today to lead a 13-hit attack on five Boston pitchers as the Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the Braves, 12-6.

Jorgensen banged out two doubles and a three-run homer as the Brooks salted the game away by scoring seven times in the first two innings against Mort Cooper and Anton Karl.

Pete Reiser and Bruce Edwards also belted out three hits and negro infielder Jackie Robinson collected the first safety of his major league career, a beat-out bunt in the fifth inning.

Kirby Higbe started for the Brooks but the Braves drove him to cover with a four run rally in the sixth and Harry Taylor and Hugh Casey finished up.

ALUMNI WILL TEST FORT HILL TOSSERS IN 4:15 GAME TODAY

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Fort Hill High School baseball team will open its 18-game schedule by playing the Alumni nine today at 4:15 o'clock on the Fort Hill High School athletic field.

The latest edition of Fort Hill teams is being built around four first stringers of the 1946 aggregation, namely, Larry Hansrote, pitcher; Robert "Bub" Frye, catcher; Elmer Freeland, first baseman, and Jimmie Manges, shortstop.

Hansrote is slated to start on the rubber for the varsity nine while Paul Judy will probably be on the slab for the grads.

PHILS WALLOP GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 17. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies spoiled the debut of rookie righthander Bill Ayers of the New York Giants today by hammering him for six runs in the fourth inning and going on to defeat the Giants, 11-5.

Trailing, 4-0, going into the fourth, the Phils sailed into Ayers for six hits with Skeeter Newsome climaxing the rally by doubling home the last three runs. The Phils added five runs in the last three frames including a round tripper by Frank McCormick, who, along with Emil Verban, smashed out three hits.

Boston Red Sox Defeat Senators By 4 To 1 Score

Sharp Fielding Is Big Aid To Dobson

BOSTON, April 17 (AP) — Jumping into a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, the Boston Red Sox today defeated the Washington Senators 4-1 behind Joe Dobson, whose last Fenway Park performance was a four-hit 6-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the fifth game of the World Series.

The Senators threatened several times but sharp fielding by the Sox kept them in check, save in the third frame when they manufactured their only run before 12,779 paid fans.

The American League Champions assured themselves of victory, as things turned out, with a three-run attack in the second inning at the expense of starter Lefty Mickey Haefner.

These three runs, added to the singleton fashioned in the first, were the only Boston scores.

YANKEES NIP A's

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — The New York Yankees gained their first victory of the season today by scoring twice in the eighth inning to beat the Philadelphia Athletics 2-1 as Floyd Bevens outpitched Dick Fowler of the A's.

Blanked by the towering Fowler on three hits going into the eighth, the Yanks rapped the big righthander for three hits and aided by an error by first sacker Ferris Fain, scored twice to pull the game out of the fire.

Phil Rizzuto singled to start the inning and was sacrificed to second, whence he scored on Tommy Henrich's double. Henrich moved to third after Charley Keller flied out and counted with the payoff marker when Fain booted Larry Berra's grounder.

The A's scored their lone run off Bevens, who gave up only three hits.

BROWNS WIN IN TENTH

ST. LOUIS, April 17. (AP)—A long single to center by Pinch-Hitting Rookie Paul Lehner with the bases loaded and two out broke a tenth inning tie to give the St. Louis Browns a 4 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers today.

Both teams were evenly matched going into the extra frame but two St. Louis hits sent Paul (Dizzy) Trout out of the game for Alton Benton who gave up two walks and the winning hit. Lehner batted for Brownie Hurler Jack Kramer.

Trout started the Detroit scoring with a home run into the left field bleachers in the fifth inning. The box:

Sisler Tutors Dodgers

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP) — George Sisler, one-time baseball great and presently a scout of the Brooklyn Dodgers, arrived from the club's minor league training camp at Pensacola today and immediately was put to work teaching the Dodgers' first base foursome.

The quartet is made up of Tommy Brown, Jackie Robinson, Howard Schultz and Edward Stevens.

Ensign Hanover with $70,000 is the leading harness racing money winner active today.

NO. 1 FOR HANK—Hank Greenberg, Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman, trots home after smashing his first homer of the season in the second inning of yesterday's game with the Cubs at Chicago. Greeting him is Buc Third Baseman Frank Gustine (16). Cub Catcher Bob Scheffing stands disconsolately by.

Louis' Foe May Be Named Today

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Sol Strauss, acting director of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, said today no decision on the June 26 opponent of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis would be made until tomorrow.

He added that it was up to Louis, now in Los Angeles, whether Jersey Joe Walcott, of Camden, N. J., or Melio Bettina, of Beacon, N. Y., was designated.

"I will make no recommendation unless Joe asks me," Straus said today. He added that the probable reason for the 24-hour delay in naming the foe for Louis' 24th title defense was that Joe had planned to meet the winner of Tuesday's Bruce Woodcock-Joe Baksi fight in London and of Baksi's subsequent refusal to fight Louis this year.

There has been some talk of an elimination bout between Walcott and Bettina but Strauss ruled this out because of the lack of time.

Fence Will Cut Size Of Cleveland Outfield

CLEVELAND, April 17 (AP) — A fence that would cut an enormous chunk from the Cleveland Stadium outfield area was ordered today by Cleveland Indian's President Bill Veeck as an aid to his Tribe sluggers.

The stadium has long been known as a pitchers' paradise and a headache for long-range hitters. A home run in the park was a rarity.

When the Indians abandoned League Park in favor of the Stadium as their home park, Veeck decided something had to be done to boost the home run output. "A fence seemed the only answer," the Tribe's colorful boss said.

Washington Will Open Season This Afternoon

President Truman To Toss Out First Ball

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Washington will open its delayed home baseball season tomorrow, and its top pitchers—Harry Truman and Bobo Newsom—are ready.

Mr. Truman, a $75,000-a-year southpaw, and Newsom, a $20,000-a-year righthander, were scheduled for Monday's opener with the New York Yankees.

But that was rained out, and so the same two were saved for this ceremonious occasion.

The President will throw out the first ball (at 3 p. m., EST), bands will tootle, and a vast assortment of politicians will try to look vastly important.

Again the Yankees will be the opposition. Allie Reynolds, who wore a Cleveland uniform last year, probably will be their pitcher.

The weatherman, evidently trying to atone for Monday's downpour, has promised sun and warmth. A crowd of 32,000 is expected.

Maybe you wonder why Newsom, who won 14 and lost 13 last year, has been saved. If he was good enough for the opener, why wasn't he good enough to pitch in Boston?

Well, Newsom is a strutter. He often does his best when the audience is large and admiring, as the opening day crowd usually is.

The play called for Newsom to get out of the way by dropping to the ground.

Newsome dropped all right—after he was hit on the ear by Bluege's rifle throw. Bobo got up, held his ear for a few minutes, and then went on with the game.

All he did was to shut out the Yankees, 1-0.

U. S. Yachts Drop Out Of Cup Series

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 17 (AP) — All three United States yachts dropped out of the fourth race of the Amorita Cup Series today after two of them, Westra, sailed by A. E. Luders, Jr., and Teaser, piloted by Cornelius Shields, collided at the weather mark and Westra lost a part of her mast.

Bill Cox, third skipper, withdrew after leading the way around three legs of the course. Cox withdrew because it was impossible for the United States team to win with only one yacht sailing against the Bermudians' three. The Bermuda team of Bayard Dill, Bert Darrell and Kenneth Trimingham, thus won the race 15¼ points to none and evened the series at two victories for each team. The series will continue until one team has won four races.

Maryland Wins

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 17 (AP)—The University of Maryland Track Team rolled up a total of 102⅔ points here today to drub William and Mary, which collected 23⅓. Maryland won 12 or 14 first places.

Wins Golf Match

WESTMINSTER, Md., April 17 (AP) —Western Maryland College won its first golf match in three starts this season with a 6-3 victory today over Juniata College of Huntingdon, Pa.

Central Licensing Bureau For Racing Is Discussed

Mahoney Thinks Plan Will Be Adopted

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP) — Chairman George P. Mahoney of the Maryland Racing Commission predicted today the National Association of Racing Commissioners will adopt his plan for a central licensing information bureau to eliminate the "crooked few" from the sport.

Action on Mahoney's plan is expected when the national group meets at Lexington, Ky., next Tuesday. He said he had scores of letters from racing commissioners in this country, Canada, Mexico, and Cuba approving the proposal.

"I am positive it will be adopted, that it can and will be financed, and within the next couple of years, if it is managed properly, it will remove from racing most, if not all, of the undesirables that now hold badges," Mahoney declared.

He said the proposed bureau would maintain a catalogue of all the methods used to combat racing racketeers and fixers.

"It will keep an index of everyone connected with racing, owners, trainers, jockeys, jockey agents and all others who require a license.

"Thus, if a mark is placed against an individual upon proof of wrongdoing, he will be barred from any further privileges in the racing world until his record again is clear."

Mahoney said that at present licensing, supervised by the individual states, was haphazard and without sufficient information.

"A man may get into trouble in one state, and yet go to another and get a license. Then he has his badge, and as there is reciprocity between states, he is able even to go back to his crooked work without interference."

In his drive against "undesirables" and horse "doping" Mahoney instituted the compulsory receiving barn at Maryland tracks. Trainers are required to have their horses in the guarded barn two hours before post time. He set up a mobile laboratory where saliva samples are taken from all horses for the much-discussed mouse test.

Indicating that he had been successful in the campaign, Mahoney announced recently that his chemists made more than 1,000 tests at the 11-day Bowie meeting which closed last Saturday and failed to find one positive case.

"The foundation of racing is not to be found in the racing plants, but in the people who work and live around them," Mahoney said.

"The vast majority of these are honest, high class sportsmen and thousands of them are among my best personal friends.

Broken Jaw Will Not End Woodcock's Career

DONCASTER, England, April 17. (AP)—A broken jaw suffered by British Heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock in his fight with Joe Baksi will not mean taps for his ring career, his manager, Tom Hurst, said today.

Woodcock, who lost by a technical knockout in the seventh round Tuesday, was taken to a hospital for an operation after the injury was diagnosed today.

Hurst said he had been assured by doctors that Woodcock's jaw will be stronger than before once it is set.

Jack Solomons, London, promoter, declared "it's sad news, but Bruce will come back again, and when he does I shall have plenty of fights for him."

Vaccinate Dodgers

BROOKLYN, April 17 (AP) — All members of the Brooklyn Dodger baseball team will be vaccinated against smallpox within the next 24 hours, Club Physician, Dr. Dominic Rossi said today.

Four More 3-Year Olds Are Entered

By ROY CHANDLER

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—Owners of four more three-year-old horses have plunked down $3,000 apiece to make their racers supplemental entries for the 57th Preakness Stakes at Pimlico May 10, the Maryland Jockey Club announced today.

The four, whose nominations boost the list of eligibles for the $100,000 run for the black-eyed Susans to 79, are E. P. Taylor's Cornish Knight, E. O. Stice's On Trust, Ridgewood Stable's Double Jay, and Mrs. M. E. Whitney's Bullet Proof.

Thus the Maryland classic, middle "jewel" of racing triple crown of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, gets additional horseflesh class to go along with the 75 regular nominations announced in January. Those included Calumet Farm's Fervent and Faultless, Maine Chance Farm's Jet Pilot, winner of the 1946 Pimlico Futurity, William Helis' Cosmic Bomb, Mrs. John D. Hertz' Owner's Choice, Mill River Stable's Secnav, and C. V. Whitney's Phalanx.

As it now stands, with the extra $12,000 in entry fees, the mile and three-sixteenth affair is worth $127,140, and at least 13 must start to break last year's world record gross purse of $139,620. Each starter donates another $1,000 to the pot. King Ranch's Assault won the 1946 old hilltop classic with a field of 10 competing.

Cornish Knight, pride of the Toronto brewer, has jumped into the Derby picture with all four feet on the strength of his spring campaign in New York. He was purchased as a yearling for only $2,600, so Taylor paid more than Cornish Knight's original cost to put him on the Preakness list. The son of Tintagel and Parco put on a drive to defeat Secnav by a head in the Experimental Handicap at Jamaica last Saturday.

On Trust took the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby, so owner Stice of Los Angeles won't miss his $3,000. No winner of the big California gallop for three-year-olds has ever come on to win the Kentucky Derby or the Preakness, but there's always a first time Stice said he would fly On Trust here from Louisville.

Double Jay, owned by the Wilmington, Del., sportsmen, James Boines and James Tigani, was voted by many turf writers the outstanding two-year-old of 1946. The "Jaybird" wintered at Oaklawn Park, Hot Springs, Ark., and arrived Tuesday to prepare for the Derby. Double Jay hasn't started this year.

Finally, there is Mrs. Whitney's Virginia hope, Bullet Proof, which is in Maryland at Havre De Grace. Bullet Proof ran second two days ago to another Preakness eligible, Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Tavistock. Closing with a good rush in that six furlong sprint, Bullet Proof showed that he needed more ground to do his best.

You Get MORE MILES on

MOHAWK TRUCK TIRES
First, the original tread lasts longer, because of its extra-tough, heat-resistant construction. And the carcass of every Mohawk Truck Tire has surplus-strength — it's strong enough to handle several recappings. Fleet owners know that an undamaged Mohawk Tire with a smooth tread is still a valuable asset. So, they recap it, keep rolling, and save money.

Value Of Preakness Is Increased To $127,140

Four More 3-Year Olds Are Entered

By ROY CHANDLER

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—Owners of four more three-year-old horses have plunked down $3,000 apiece to make their racers supplemental entries for the 57th Preakness Stakes at Pimlico May 10, the Maryland Jockey Club announced today.

The four, whose nominations boost the list of eligibles for the $100,000 run for the black-eyed Susans to 79, are E. P. Taylor's Cornish Knight, E. O. Stice's On Trust, Ridgewood Stable's Double Jay, and Mrs. M. E. Whitney's Bullet Proof.

Thus the Maryland classic, middle "jewel" of racing triple crown of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, gets additional horseflesh class to go along with the 75 regular nominations announced in January. Those included Calumet Farm's Fervent and Faultless, Maine Chance Farm's Jet Pilot, winner of the 1946 Pimlico Futurity, William Helis' Cosmic Bomb, Mrs. John D. Hertz' Owner's Choice, Mill River Stable's Secnav, and C. V. Whitney's Phalanx.

As it now stands, with the extra $12,000 in entry fees, the mile and three-sixteenth affair is worth $127,140, and at least 13 must start to break last year's world record gross purse of $139,620. Each starter donates another $1,000 to the pot. King Ranch's Assault won the 1946 old hilltop classic with a field of 10 competing.

Considering the little matter of $3,000, the four added entries can be figured almost certain starters.

Cornish Knight, pride of the Toronto brewer, has jumped into the Derby picture with all four feet on the strength of his spring campaign in New York. He was purchased as a yearling for only $2,600, so Taylor paid more than Cornish Knight's original cost to put him on the Preakness list. The son of Tintagel and Parco put on a drive to defeat Secnav by a head in the Experimental Handicap at Jamaica last Saturday.

On Trust took the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby, so owner Stice of Los Angeles won't miss his $3,000. No winner of the big California gallop for three-year-olds has ever come on to win the Kentucky Derby or the Preakness, but there's always a first time Stice said he would fly On Trust here from Louisville.

Double Jay, owned by the Wilmington, Del., sportsmen, James Boines and James Tigani, was voted by many turf writers the outstanding two-year-old of 1946. The "Jaybird" wintered at Oaklawn Park, Hot Springs, Ark., and arrived Tuesday to prepare for the Derby. Double Jay hasn't started this year.

Finally, there is Mrs. Whitney's Virginia hope, Bullet Proof, which is in Maryland at Havre De Grace. Bullet Proof ran second two days ago to another Preakness eligible, Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Tavistock. Closing with a good rush in that six furlong sprint, Bullet Proof showed that he needed more ground to do his best.

You Get MORE MILES on

MOHAWK TRUCK TIRES

Fleet operators everywhere report that Mohawk Truck and Bus Tires have super-strength, which insures maximum mileage.

First, the original tread lasts longer, because of its extra-tough, heat-resistant construction. And the carcass of every Mohawk Truck Tire has surplus-strength — it's strong enough to handle several recappings. Fleet owners know that an undamaged Mohawk Tire with a smooth tread is still a valuable asset. So, they recap it, keep rolling, and save money.

Town Creek Man Kills Young Wife, Wounds Self

Stillman Smith, 40, Under Police Guard In Hospital

Shooting Followed Quarrel Over Family

A 40-year-old husband, Stillman Snow Smith, was being held in Memorial Hospital last night under armed guard in connection with the fatal shooting of his 16-year-old wife, whom he admitted killing with a 12 gauge shotgun at 5:30 p. m. in front of their home on the Towncreek bridge 5½ miles south of Flintstone according to County Investigator T. J. Boyle.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Goldie Smith, whom Dr. H. V. Deming, county medical examiner, said died instantly after being shot through the right eye. He said the shot fractured skull bones behind the left ear and came out the back of the head.

Smith, a farm laborer, was in a serious condition in Memorial Hospital, where attaches said he was suffering from loss of blood as the result of a self inflicted shot that "almost tore his right arm off."

Boyle Questions Smith

Investigator Boyle, who questioned Smith at the hospital, said the husband declared that he shot his wife after she made several passes at him with a butcher knife following an argument about his taking her mother and father, Perry and Susan Smith to church in Oldtown.

Boyle quoted Smith as saying his wife asked him to take her parents to church, but he informed her that his employer, Albert Slider, Towncreek, had asked him to find Oscar Haines, a neighbor and return to work to repair ploughing equipment.

After an argument in which Mrs. Smith threatened to "cut her husband's throat" if he didn't take her parents to church, Smith started for his car to pick up her mother and father, Boyle stated, explaining the parents reside about a half mile to the north of the bridge.

Mrs. Smith, however, called her husband back, declaring it was too early to take the "folks" to church, authorities said they were told. Upon returning to the front yard, Smith told authorities, that his wife confronted him with a butcher knife and made several passes at him.

The husband dodged past his wife, State Police declared he told them and entered the house where he picked up a 12 gauge single barrel shotgun, which he uses for hunting. As Smith returned to the yard and his wife saw the gun, she began screaming "He's trying to kill me" and ran to the bridge where he overtook her and fired the shot that entered her eye authorities quoted Smith as confessing.

Smith, according to his verbal confession, then returned to the house where he used a wire coat hanger to attach to the trigger and the knob of the door with the intention of killing himself, State Police said. The gun went off accidentally, however and struck him in the right arm, Investigator Boyle stated.

Boyle said Mrs. Oscar Haines called police at 6:25 p. m. and informed them of the shooting and explained that when they arrived they found Smith slumped on the front porch where he had fallen in a semi-conscious condition. He was brought to the hospital in an ambulance.

Eye Witness Tells Story

Mrs. Haines, authorities stated, informed them that she had seen the shooting from her home explaining that she went to the door after she heard Mrs. Smith scream.

Dr. Deming said there were several shotgun pelts in the back of Mrs. Smith's left shoulder, and police speculated that two shots may have been fired by Smith at his wife, since the one shot could not have struck her in the eye and the back of the shoulder.

State police also admitted that they found two discharged shells near the scene of the fatal shooting and declare they found another in the house, where Smith had attempted to kill himself. They added that the butcher knife which Mrs. Smith allegedly threatened her husband with was also found on the bridge.

Hospital attaches described Smith's condition as serious and said the arm will be amputated if he recovers from the initial shock and loss of blood.

Boyle said Smith will be questioned as soon as his condition permits and other investigating authorities said it is likely that a murder charge will be placed against him if he lives.

Boyle said Mrs. Smith moved here with her parents from Broadwater, Va., about a year ago and Smith who also resided in Virginia came a short time later to work for her parents, who operate a farm in the Oldtown section. The couple was married in Flintstone last June, Boyle said.

Assisting Boyle in the investigation were Deputy Sheriff Edgar Lewis, Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, Trooper First Class Harry Holsinger and Trooper William Baker, of the Maryand State Police.

A blood spot on the bridge and pools of blood over the floors of the three-room cottage nearby, where the Smiths lived, show where the dual tragedy took place.

House Well Kept

The couple had moved into the little cottage which Smith built only a short time ago, and the inside of the house clearly shows that an effort had been made by the young bride to make the woodland cottage a home. Dishes and pots and pans were clean and spotless. A pan of freshly baked biscuits stood on a shelf. There was fresh water in a water bucket in the small but clean kitchen. A clock ticked noisily on the table.

On a stand in the corner, there was an oil lamp with a clean polished globe. The lamp was cold and the light was out. A writing paper box on the stand contained a number of recipes neatly clipped from newspapers and magazines. Mixed with the recipes were a few pieces of sentimental poetry.

Two Men Injured When Motorcycle And Car Collide

Both Drivers Faced With Motor Charges

Two young men were injured when the motorcycle on which State Police said they were riding and an automobile collided at Oldtown Crossroads shortly before 7 o'clock last night.

State Trooper Thomas Barton, who investigated, said the operator of the motorcycle was James E. Clark, 22, 509 Williams Street. He listed the driver of the car as Taylor VanMeter, Jr., 20, Oldtown.

The injured were Clark, who suffered scalp wounds and lacerations and was released from Allegany Hospital after treatment, and Albert S. Pisancschi, 21, 927 Grand Avenue, who suffered a fractured right leg, possible fractured jaw and multiple abrasions.

Pisancschi, who was riding on the motorcycle, was said to be in fair condition in Allegany Hospital. VanMeter was uninjured.

Trooper Barton said VanMeter pulled out of a dirt road and made a left turn on to Route 51, headed in the direction of Paw Paw, W. Va.

The motorcyclist, coming over a slight hill, told the trooper, the latter said, that he believed the automobile would wait for him, but added that as he neared the spot the car pulled out, the right side of the motorcycle hitting the left rear fender of the machine.

Charges of reckless driving and operating without a license were filed against Clark, and a charge of failing to yield the right of way was placed against VanMeter.

New Members To Be Entertained By Local Group

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night adopted plans made by the Membership Activities Committee to entertain new members, who have been secured during the present campaign. The exact date has not been set but the buffet supper and entertainment will be held in the Maryland Cocktail Lounge the night before it is reopened to the public.

Application of 13 more business and professional men, submitted to the board by O. J. Hale, membership committee chairman, were accepted bringing the present membership to 487. Those voted into membership last night are:

Dr. Samuel M. Jacobson, Curtis Confectionery, Lover's Leap Service Station, Blue and White Bus Lines, Klavuhn Transfer and Coal Company, Malamphy Bottling Works, H. & S. Heating and Plumbing Company, Union Laundry, Inc., Collin's Garage, Garlitz Brothers, M. G. K. Motor Company, Wagner's Esso-Servicenter and Baughman Contracting Company.

Harold W. Smith, secretary, reported that during the year, a number of inquiries for manufacturing space in Cumberland have been received, the majority being producers of light clothing. In every instance, Mr. Smith said, existing structures were required and the only space available is 50,000 square feet in the Merchandise Mart, but the secretary added that the floor area is divided over four different levels which does not permit a layout which most producers desire.

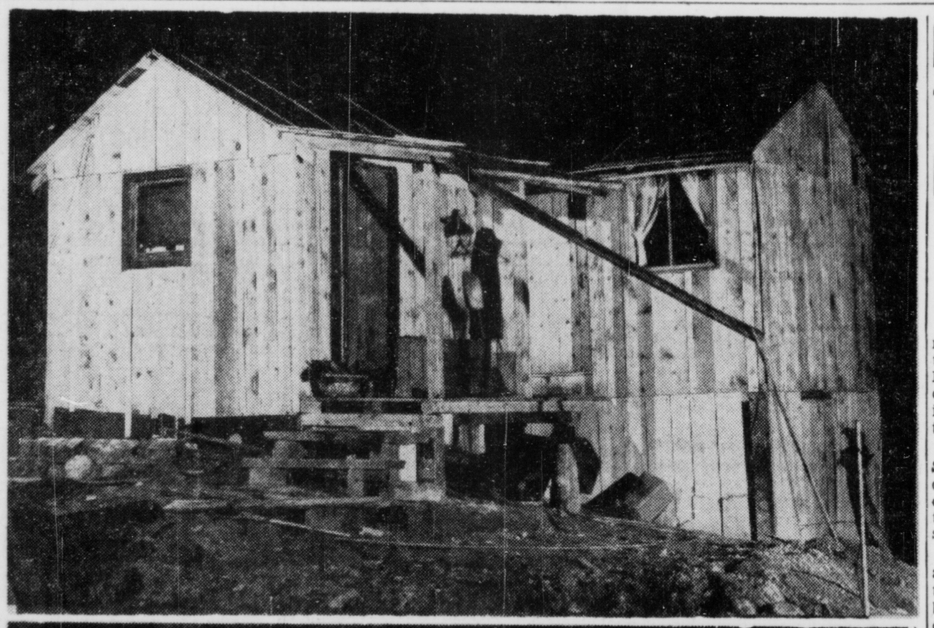

Among the companies who were interested in locating in Cumberland, Mr. Smith said, were a cigar manufacturing concern, safety bag firm, light clothing producers and a manufacturer of stuffed furniture. The furniture people decided against locating in Cumberland due to the lack of trained cabinet makers and upholsters. All the firms who were considering Cumberland found suitable buildings in other cities, Mr. Smith added.

Driver Posts $139.35 Bond

A man identified as John A. Byron, Oldtown Road, was released on bond of $139.35 last night after being arrested on charges of violating State motor vehicle laws.

Troopers Thomas Barton and Theodore Snyder made the arrest after noticing Byron's car weaving, they said. He will be given a hearing this morning at 10 a. m. in Trial Magistrates Court.

SHOOTING SCENE—The Town Creek bridge, about half way between Flintstone and Oldtown was the scene of a fatal shooting and attempted suicide last night, when Stillman Snow Smith, 40, shot and killed his 16-year-old wife, Goldie Smith, after a quarrel. The upper photo shows the newly constructed cottage where the Smith's lived. The bridge, only a short distance from the house, is where the body of the young woman was found. Near the center of the bridge a pile of straw covers the blood shed by the young woman when she was shot twice by her enraged husband. When police arrived the girl was dead and Smith was at the edge of the porch of his house, badly wounded in his arm and shoulder and suffering from loss of blood and shock. He was being held last night under police guard at Memorial Hospital, where his condition was reported as serious.

Three Goals Of Education Listed By Dr. Benjamin

Parents, Educators Hear College Dean

Three problems facing educators are to emphasize new social relationships in view of increasing international demands to be made upon this country in future years, to increase availability of education in technical and scientific skills, and to insure sound spirital foundations for each child.

These points were outlined last night by Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean of the College of Education, University of Maryland, who returned recently from studying educational conditions in Japan.

He addressed an audience of 140 persons at a joint dinner meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, sponsored by the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers and the county branch of the Association of Childhood Education.

Stating that the United States is moving toward the goal of a college education for the majority of its young people, the speaker pointed out that the G. I. Bill of Rights, which has enabled many young veterans to go to college who would not otherwise have had the opportunity, is an indication of that trend.

Throughout his talk, Dr. Benjamin stressed the importance of community-wide effort in providing good educational opportunity for each child to promote the best interests of the nation and the world.

Mrs. Josephine Yarnall, ACE president, presided and reported on her experiences at the national convention of the organization, held earlier this month at Oklahoma City. Miss Margaret King was chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment program, which included a violin solo by Mrs. Grace Wilson, president of the Gephart P-TA, who played Corowski's "The Adoration" and Wagner's "Evening Star," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ruth Ludman of the LaVale P-TA.

A simulated radio broadcast of a play first presented over the air by Helen Hayes, titled "My Little Boy," was given by Mrs. Ethel Hixenbaugh, Mrs. Nell Smith, Mrs. Myra Taylor, Miss Margaret Ingles and Ralph Isiminger.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of county schools, remarked in a brief talk at the close of the program that a growing spirit of community co-operation in behalf of education was evidenced in the passage by the recent session of the General Assembly of "forward-looking" legislation in regard to teachers' salaries and school facilities.

Chicken Coop Burns

East Side Fire Company was called to the home of John Dorsey, 554 Pine Avenue, yesterday at 1:50 p. m. when a chicken coop at the rear of the home caught fire. Fire fighters said the structure was completely destroyed but said they were told no chickens were in the coop at the time. A pile of lumber stored near the shack also caught fire, firemen said.

Jaycees Propose National Awards For Isaac Hirsch, Dr. J. M. Ray

Directors Hear Plans For State Convention

The board of directors of the Junior Association of Commerce last night passed a resolution to recommend to the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, the presentation of "Good Government Awards" to Isaac Hirsch, this city and to the College of Business and Public Administration of the University of Maryland.

According to members of the board, it is felt that these awards should be made because of interest shown and work done in behalf of better government for the City of Cumberland. Hirsch, an outstanding citizen and student of municipal governmental affairs and the father of the commission form of government here, has devoted many hours of his time toward the betterment of the city.

The College of Business and Public Administration of the University of Maryland, headed by Dr. Ray has just completed an extensive survey and study of the city government and produced a report that has been lauded by many citizens, and generally heralded as a "move in the right direction", by many people, the board concluded.

At the meeting last night, plans for the coming state convention, May 16, 17, 18 here were discussed with indications that the Jaycees will hold their largest and best conclave here. Considerable interest is evidenced in the state election with David Kauffman, local Jaycee president being urged by local Jaycees to seek election as State president. Hagerstown Jaycees have already endorsed Harry Vollmer, III, of that city for the post and with C. Keating Bowie, of Baltimore, chairman of the nominating committee, it is expected that a man from the Baltimore organization will also seek the job. The present state president is J. Rutledge Clark of Baltimore.

Brax Dodson and Curtis Hinkle reported on the Clean-Up Campaign to be held here April 28 to May 3, and asked for suggestions for making Cumberland a cleaner city.

The Athletic Committee announced that softball and tennis teams have been formed within the organization. The Board authorized Kauffman to name an Americanism Committee to make plans for observance of "I Am An American Day" along with other organizations.

The local organization will be represented at the United States convention at Long Beach, California, from June 9 to 15, by Kauffman, C. William Gilchrist and Kenneth Hopwood. Several other local Jaycees are also planning to attend.

The application of Raymond B. O'Rourke, of the Celanese staff and feature writer for the Baltimore Sun was approved.

Answer Hotel Fire

West Side Fire Company was called to the Algonquin Hotel last night at 9:13 o'clock when, firemen said, a chair on the sixth floor of the building caught fire. Fire fighters said the blaze was out when they arrived.

Local 1874 Gives All-Out Support To Phone Unions

The general committee of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, last night, announced that it has offered all-out support to telephone workers in their demands for a new contract and a $12 weekly wage increase, according to Joseph J. Barley, recording secretary.

Informed of the action of the textile union, George Williams, Western Maryland strike captain for the Maryland Federation of Telephone Workers, and Paul Bixler, strike lieutenant, expressing their appreciation for the support, declared, "This again proves our previous statement that our strike is a battle for all labor."

There were no other developments locally yesterday except that striking employes of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company received their pay checks for the last week they worked prior to the start of the strike 12 days ago.

Members of the union reported that they were not required to cross picket lines to receive their checks and said that in some instances supervisory personnel brought the checks out of the company office and handed them to the striking workers.

Company officials manning the switchboards in the exchange here continued to work long hours in their efforts to handle emergency calls and as many important business calls as possible.

However, the rule continued "emergency first" at the office and calls to grocers, hairdressers, club members, church officials or just friendly calls remained "out" as far as the hardworking supervisory personnel was concerned.

Mrs. Margaret C. Weiss, president of the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, said in Baltimore that operators in her union would begin distribution of handbills today describing "our side of the case."

The operators have filed a 30-day strike notice but so far have only been respecting lines established by other groups.

Two B. And O. Workers Suffer Minor Injuries

Thomas Day, 37, 224 Emily Street, a B. and O. laborer, was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday morning for a cut on the right thumb. The B. and O. laborer told attaches he was injured while gathering scrap steel.

Blaine McCullough, 31, Patterson's Creek, was treated in the same hospital at noon for a right arm injury. The B. and O. telegraph operator told attaches he fell on his right arm while at work.

A 2-year-old Route 3, Keyser, W. Va., child, Marcelle Price, Jr., was examined in Allegany yesterday afternoon after swallowing a penny. Attaches said no treatment was necessary.

Mayors Of County Towns Support Daylight Time

Action To Await Citizens' Views

With the exception of Barton, mayors of four Allegany County towns said last night they favor Daylight Saving Time for their communities but that action on the issue depends on the opinions of the citizens.

At Frostburg, Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore said he has called a special session of the Mayor and Council for Monday at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of discussing the possibility of adopting fast time.

Skidmore, who said he personally "would like to have daylight time," added that he hopes Frostburg organizations will state their opinions on the subject at the special meeting. "We want to find the sentiment of the people and organizations," he said.

Backed By Lions

The Frostburg Lions Club Wednesday night went on record in favor of daylight time, Skidmore stated, adding that most town councilmen also seem to be in favor of it.

At Barton, however, Mayor Arthur P. Hoffa declared, "I don't think much of daylight time." He said he did not expect the change from standard time to daylight time to be made in Barton.

Mayor Milton McIntyre of Westernport said "We'll go along with the rest. It will depend to some extent on what Piedmont, W. Va., and Luke do, but, of course, the action of Lonaconing and Frostburg will carry a lot of weight."

McIntyre said he is in favor of fast time in the summer months. He added that the subject will be brought up at Monday night's council meeting.

At Lonaconing, Mayor John Evans, declaring, "I think it's fine myself," said fast time in his community depends on the wishes of the businessmen's association. He added that he has asked them to submit a resolution stating their views and submit it at the council meeting on April 28.

"People here seem to want daylight time," Evans said. He added, "We might as well be on the same time as Cumberland."

Favored At Luke

Mayor Fred Wiseman at Luke said he expects to know today if Luke will adopt fast time for the summer months. "I hope we'll have it," he said, adding that officials of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company favor it. He said he will take the matter up with plant employes today to get their reactions. "Everybody seems kind of anxious for it," he said.

The Mayor and Council of Cumberland already have voted to have daylight time in Cumberland, starting April 27, but the County Commissioners were informed by their attorney that they did not have the power to order fast time in the county.

The attorney, Lewis M. Wilson, stated, however, that the commissioners could pass a resolution suggesting that fast time be observed.

Last night, Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the board, said fast time may be considered again today at the meeting of the commissioners.

Milton H. Meyers Receives Award

Milton H. Meyers, manager of the M. G. K. Motor Company here, received a plaque last night at a dinner at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club in behalf of his company, winner of the 1947 Nash Motors' award under the "10-Point Select Dealer" program, the highest distinction Nash bestows on a dealer.

E. S. Carpenter, zone manager, one of six Pittsburgh district officials present, made the presentation, pointing out that the local company had met all requirements of location, capital, floor space, display signs, parts and service stock and facilities, and efficient bookkeeping.

Other officials of the Pittsburgh Nash district, which includes sections of Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Ohio, who attended were R. T. Lingle, assistant zone manager; C. A. Hrubecky, district manager; J. R. Meister, zone service manager; A. L. Lalley, service representative; and V. R. Lyons, assistant business management manager.

Members of the company, besides Meyers, who received lapel pins in recognition of the award, are Mrs. Meyers, secretary; Randolph Burkett, service manager; Dorn A. Reckley, parts manager; Clarence J. Ludwick, auditor; Thomas T. Anderson and Alvin S. McGill of the paint and body department; Weston L. May, Otis W. Largent, Benjamin E. May and Richard W. Litzenburg, mechanics; and Oscar E. Redman, mechanic helper.

Umpire Reinstates Celanese Worker

A spinning department employe who was discharged at the Celanese plant in December on a charge of misconduct returned to work Monday as the result of an arbitration award handed down by Herman A. Gray, Joseph J. Barley, recording secretary of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO announced yesterday.

The arbitration award provided that the worker, Donald McCoole, Dawson, should be reinstated without loss of seniority or other rights of employment but without back pay.

The hearing on the case was held here in February before Prof. Gray, of New York University.

The Celanese local's general committee also went on record to donate $100 to the Cancer Fund drive and to give $250 to the American Red Cross.

Grand Jury Notes Press Campaign On Gambling

Oath Of Office Taken By Liquor Board Members

Many Applicants File For Licenses

Former Judge Walter C. Capper, this city, Fred Crowe, Frostburg, and Henry Sweene, Mt. Savage, took their oath of office as members of the Allegany County Liquor Board yesterday afternoon before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, with clerk of Court Robert Jackson administering the oath.

In the meantime, a large number of applicants have applied for liquor licenses of one type or another. As of yesterday a total of 381 applications had been filed at Jackson's office.

Today signs will be mailed to all applicants for posting in a conspicuous place on their premises in carrying out a provision of the new law.

The notice must be posted at least 10 days before action upon an application for a license, and must specify the time and place fixed by the board for hearing upon the application.

One difficulty faced by the board as it assumes control of the situation is the fact that considerable misunderstanding apparently exists in the mind of applicants regarding what the new bill provides.

The best indication of the increased demand for licenses is a comparison of the number issued for the 1946-47 period and the number of applications filed as of yesterday.

For example, five licenses are now issued under the Class A packaged liquor sale category of the 1933 law. There are 17 applications so far for this Class A type of license.

Fifty-three persons now hold Class B licenses authorizing "on sale" of liquor, beer, light beer and wine in hotels and restaurants, and to date 108 applications have been made for such licenses.

Court officials said yesterday that a total of 348 licenses of all types are now in effect in the county. This includes the following:

Light Beer—Off sale, 14; on sale, hotels and restaurants, 0; on sale, clubs, 5; on sale generally, 124, making a total of 143 beer licenses.

Light Beer, Beer, Wine and Liquor Licenses: Class A, off sale, 5; on sale, hotels and restaurants, 53 (both of these types coming under the restricted heading); and on sale, clubs, 59, making a total of 117.

To date 74 applications have been made at the Court House for the Class C, club liquor licenses.

Members Admit Problem

One difficulty is the fact that clearcut interpretations of the new bill have not been made as yet. However, it is understood that the new board, if created, will be required by law to renew outstanding licenses providing the present holders have obeyed the law and have not been convicted or had any trouble in the conduct of their business which might be considered by the board.

Assuming that a majority if not all of the present license holders have their licenses renewed, it will mean that only nine or ten new applicants will obtain liquor permits from the large number making applications.

Bird Expert To Conduct Meeting

An elementary teacher conservation council meeting will be held at 7:30 tonight in the Board of Education office, at which time Orville Crowder, Baltimore, president of the Ornithological Society of Maryland, will talk to the group. Mr. Crowder, a specialist on birds, will also show slides and film strips on birds.

Jimmie Deetz, senior at Fort Hill, will talk on "My Interest in Birds and Conservation."

Mrs. Gilbert Miller, a local member of the Ornithological Society, will introduce the speaker. Professional, service club, civic, Homemakers and Girl Scout groups of the city have been invited to attend.

While in the county Mr. Crowder will have two conducted "bird walks," tomorrow morning. One for adults will leave Kiwanis Sunshine Camp at 6 a. m., the other for children will leave Mt. Royal School at 10 a. m. It is limited to a representative from each school and a group of fourth grade children of West Side School, which, with Miss Nan Livingston, teacher, is the only child group in the state that holds membership in the Ornithological Society.

Lions Octet Sings For Kiwanis Club

A program by the Lions Club Octet, under the direction of Edgar Duke, featured the meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday in Central YMCA, with Robert Moreland presenting a solo. The program was well received by the Kiwanians.

Two new members, Frank Ansel and Fred Terry were officially inducted by George Martin, chairman of the Kiwanis Club Education Committee.

A short talk by O. J. Hale, lieutenant governor of the First Division of the Capital District, who made his official visit to the Cumberland Club concluded the meeting.

Body Investigates Gaming Violations

Widespread publicity in local newspapers regarding slot machines and other forms of gambling in Allegany County was credited by the Grand Jury for the reduction of illegal gambling in the county at the present time to a minimum, in the report submitted to the judges of Circuit Court yesterday by the April Grand Jury.

Considerable mention is made in the report of the Grand Jury's investigation of illegal gambling and it is stated that some indictments have been returned. Publicity given gambling made it difficult for the Grand Jury to obtain sufficient evidence in some cases to bring indictments, the report says, but the Grand Jury believes that illegal gambling did exist before the move to curb it was made.

Inconsistency of State laws and of the State of Maryland regarding gambling is cited, explaining that some gambling is licensed while other forms of gambling are illegal. "If the people are confused about what is good and what is evil, the State is not without blame," the report declares.

Fix Responsibility

Responsibility for enforcing gambling laws, making raids and making arrests is fixed in the report, according to the law, with the Sheriff and other peace officers and they are cautioned to be "reasonably alert with respect to possible violations of the law and not wait until they come to their personal knowledge."

Reference is made to the Board of Liquor License Commissioners and the inspection law which permits the agents of this Board as well as all other peace officers in the county to make inspections where liquor is sold. This includes clubs and other places. Any evidence of gambling and operation of gambling devices discovered during these inspections shall be admissable in any prosecution for the violation the report explains.

A number of recommendations are included in the report, dealing with improvements to the Court House, better policing of the City of Cumberland, improvements at the County Home and the County Asylum and other pertinent problems.

The report as submitted was signed by E. S. Burke, foreman, and Louis T. Helman and Bruce D. Smith, clerks.

First: We have been in session four days, have examined 103 witnesses and returned 34 indictments.

Second: A committee from our body visited and inspected the Allegany County Home and found 38 white female patients, 37 white male patients, one colored female patient and one colored male patient. There are 13 persons employed at this institution.

There is a shortage of some equipment, which the superintendent should report to the County Commissioners for the purpose of replacement. Due to the wear and tear and deterioration, there are some parts of the building that are in need of repairs. We recommend that the County Commissioners give this proper consideration. The bath and toilet facilities on the first floor need to be expanded and we recommend this be given prompt consideration by the County Commissioners.

Want Changes At Asylum

Third: A committee from our body made an inspection of Sylvan Retreat, the County Hosptial for the Insane. The committee reports 3 white male patients and 54 white female patients. There are 21 employees at this institution. We recommend that the superintendent of this institution and the County Commissioners give serious consideration to changing the established procedure for the receiving, segregation and care of patients to the following ends:

First. That when a patient is received, he be forthwith given a physical examination by a competent physician.

Second. That the commitment papers be filed at the institution before or at the time the patient is received, so that the officials of the institution may have the advantage of the patient's historical data therein contained. This will aid in segregating patients into violent and non-violent wards.

Third. At the present time, there are long hours during the night when there is not proper and adequate supervision of the patients. We recommend that an alert warden be on active duty at all times to preclude any violence or injury to these unfortunates.

Fourth: The Grand Jury, in a body, inspected the Allegany County Jail. We found 17 white male prisoners and one white female prisoner. The condition of the jail is clean, orderly and apparently well managed.

Fifth. A committee from our body examined the records of the County Treasurer's office, and, in our opinion, the books are well kept in cordance with modern accounting methods. The books are periodically audited and certified as being correct by Charles O. Hall, Certified Public Accountant.

Sixth: The mine inspectors for Allegany County appeared before our body and reported that no serious violations existed with regard to the mining laws.

Press Campaign Noted

Seventh: We had before our body the Sheriff of Allegany County; the Commissioner of Police and Fire

B'er Chayim Services Will Be Held Tonight

The service of B'er Chayim Congregation, Union and Centre Streets, will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight with Rabbi Maurice Feuer speaking on "Lost Chords of Life."

His subject was suggested by Adelaide Proctor's poem, "The Lost Chord," which was set to music by Sir Arthur Sullivan.

On Saturday services will be held at 10 a. m. with Rabbi Feuer again preaching. Religious school will be held Sunday at 10 a. m.

Town Creek Man Kills Young Wife, Wounds Self

Shooting Followed Quarrel Over Family

A 40-year-old husband, Stillman Snow Smith, was being held in Memorial Hospital last night under armed guard in connection with the fatal shooting of his 16-year-old wife, whom he admitted killing with a 12 gauge shotgun at 5:30 p. m. in front of their home on the Towncreek bridge 5½ miles south of Flintstone according to County Investigator T. J. Boyle.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Goldie Smith, whom Dr. H. V. Deming, county medical examiner, said died instantly after being shot through the right eye. He said the shot fractured skull bones behind the left ear and came out the back of the head.

Smith, a farm laborer, was in a serious condition in Memorial Hospital, where attaches said he was suffering from loss of blood as the result of a self inflicted shot that "almost tore his right arm off."

Boyle Questions Smith

Investigator Boyle, who questioned Smith at the hospital, said the husband declared that he shot his wife after she made several passes at him with a butcher knife following an argument about his taking her mother and father, Perry and Susan Smith to church in Oldtown.

Boyle quoted Smith as saying his wife asked him to take her parents to church, but he informed her that his employer, Albert Slider, Towncreek, had asked him to find Oscar Haines, a neighbor and return to work to repair ploughing equipment.

After an argument in which Mrs. Smith threatened to "cut her husband's throat" if he didn't take her parents to church, Smith started for his car to pick up her mother and father, Boyle stated, explaining the parents reside about a half mile to the north of the bridge.

Mrs. Smith, however, called her husband back, declaring it was too early to take the "folks" to church, authorities said they were told. Upon returning to the front yard, Smith told authorities, that his wife confronted him with a butcher knife and made several passes at him.

The husband dodged past his wife, State Police declared he told them and entered the house where he picked up a 12 gauge single barrel shotgun, which he uses for hunting. As Smith returned to the yard and his wife saw the gun, she began screaming "He's trying to kill me" and ran to the bridge where he overtook her and fired the shot that entered her eye authorities quoted Smith as confessing.

Smith, according to his verbal confession, then returned to the house where he used a wire coat hanger to attach to the trigger and the knob of the door with the intention of killing himself, State Police said. The gun went off accidentally, however and struck him in the right arm, Investigator Boyle stated.

Boyle said Mrs. Oscar Haines called police at 6:25 p. m. and informed them of the shooting and explained that when they arrived they found Smith slumped on the front porch where he had fallen in a semi-conscious condition. He was brought to the hospital in an ambulance.

Eye Witness Tells Story

Mrs. Haines, authorities stated, informed them that she had seen the shooting from her home explaining that she went to the door after she heard Mrs. Smith scream.

Dr. Deming said there were several shotgun pelts in the back of Mrs. Smith's left shoulder, and police speculated that two shots may have been fired by Smith at his wife, since the one shot could not have struck her in the eye and the back of the shoulder.

State police also admitted that they found two discharged shells near the scene of the fatal shooting and declare they found another in the house, where Smith had attempted to kill himself. They added that the butcher knife which Mrs. Smith allegedly threatened her husband with was also found on the bridge.

Hospital attaches described Smith's condition as serious and said the arm will be amputated if he recovers from the initial shock and loss of blood.

Boyle said Smith will be questioned as soon as his condition permits and other investigating authorities said it is likely that a murder charge will be placed against him if he lives.

Boyle said Mrs. Smith moved here with her parents from Broadwater, Va., about a year ago and Smith who also resided in Virginia came a short time later to work for her parents, who operate a farm in the Oldtown section. The couple was married in Flintstone last June, Boyle said.

Assisting Boyle in the investigation were Deputy Sheriff Edgar Lewis, Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, Trooper First Class Harry Holsinger and Trooper William Baker, of the Maryand State Police.

A blood spot on the bridge and pools of blood over the floors of the three-room cottage nearby, where the Smiths lived, show where the dual tragedy took place.

House Well Kept

The couple had moved into the little cottage which Smith built only a short time ago, and the inside of the house clearly shows that an effort had been made by the young bride to make the woodland cottage a home. Dishes and pots and pans were clean and spotless. A pan of freshly baked biscuits stood on a shelf. There was fresh water in a water bucket in the small but clean kitchen. A clock ticked noisily on the table.

On a stand in the corner, there was an oil lamp with a clean polished globe. The lamp was cold and the light was out. A writing paper box on the stand contained a number of recipes neatly clipped from newspapers and magazines. Mixed with the recipes were a few pieces of sentimental poetry.

Two Men Injured When Motorcycle And Car Collide

Both Drivers Faced With Motor Charges

Two young men were injured when the motorcycle on which State Police said they were riding and an automobile collided at Oldtown Crossroads shortly before 7 o'clock last night.

State Trooper Thomas Barton, who investigated, said the operator of the motorcycle was James E. Clark, 22, 509 Williams Street. He listed the driver of the car as Taylor VanMeter, Jr., 20, Oldtown.

The injured were Clark, who suffered scalp wounds and lacerations and was released from Allegany Hospital after treatment, and Albert S. Pisancschi, 21, 927 Grand Avenue, who suffered a fractured right leg, possible fractured jaw and multiple abrasions.

Pisancschi, who was riding on the motorcycle, was said to be in fair condition in Allegany Hospital. VanMeter was uninjured.

Trooper Barton said VanMeter pulled out of a dirt road and made a left turn on to Route 51, headed in the direction of Paw Paw, W. Va.

The motorcyclist, coming over a slight hill, told the trooper, the latter said, that he believed the automobile would wait for him, but added that as he neared the spot the car pulled out, the right side of the motorcycle hitting the left rear fender of the machine.

The motorcycle careened across the road and came to a stop against a bank, Barton said.

Charges of reckless driving and operating without a license were filed against Clark, and a charge of failing to yield the right of way was placed against VanMeter.

New Members To Be Entertained By Local Group

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night adopted plans made by the Membership Activities Committee to entertain new members, who have been secured during the present campaign. The exact date has not been set but the buffet supper and entertainment will be held in the Maryland Cocktail Lounge the night before it is reopened to the public.

Application of 13 more business and professional men, submitted to the board by O. J. Hale, membership committee chairman, were accepted bringing the present membership to 487. Those voted into membership last night are:

Dr. Samuel M. Jacobson, Curtis Confectionery, Lover's Leap Service Station, Blue and White Bus Lines, Klavuhn Transfer and Coal Company, Malamphy Bottling Works, H. & S. Heating and Plumbing Company, Union Laundry, Inc., Collin's Garage, Garlitz Brothers, M. G. K. Motor Company, Wagner's Esso-Servicenter and Baughman Contracting Company.

Harold W. Smith, secretary, reported that during the year, a number of inquiries for manufacturing space in Cumberland have been received, the majority being producers of light clothing. In every instance, Mr. Smith said, existing structures were required and the only space available is 50,000 square feet in the Merchandise Mart, but the secretary added that the floor area is divided over four different levels which does not permit a layout which most producers desire.

Among the companies who were interested in locating in Cumberland, Mr. Smith said, were a cigar manufacturing concern, safety bag firm, light clothing producers and a manufacturer of stuffed furniture. The furniture people decided against locating in Cumberland due to the lack of trained cabinet makers and upholsters. All the firms who were considering Cumberland found suitable buildings in other cities, Mr. Smith added.

Driver Posts $139.35 Bond

A man identified as John A. Byron, Oldtown Road, was released on bond of $139.35 last night after being arrested on charges of violating State motor vehicle laws.

Troopers Thomas Barton and Theodore Snyder made the arrest after noticing Byron's car weaving, they said. He will be given a hearing this morning at 10 a. m. in Trial Magistrates Court.

SHOOTING SCENE—The Town Creek bridge, about half way between Flintstone and Oldtown was the scene of a fatal shooting and attempted suicide last night, when Stillman Snow Smith, 40, shot and killed his 16-year-old wife, Goldie Smith, after a quarrel. The upper photo shows the newly constructed cottage where the Smith's lived. The bridge, only a short distance from the house, is where the body of the young woman was found. Near the center of the bridge a pile of straw covers the blood shed by the young woman when she was shot twice by her enraged husband. When police arrived the girl was dead and Smith was at the edge of the porch of his house, badly wounded in his arm and shoulder and suffering from loss of blood and shock. He was being held last night under police guard at Memorial Hospital, where his condition was reported as serious.

Three Goals Of Education Listed By Dr. Benjamin

Parents, Educators Hear College Dean

Three problems facing educators are to emphasize new social relationships in view of increasing international demands to be made upon this country in future years, to increase availability of education in technical and scientific skills, and to insure sound spiritual foundations for each child.

These points were outlined last night by Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean of the College of Education, University of Maryland, who returned recently from studying educational conditions in Japan.

He addressed an audience of 140 persons at a joint dinner meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, sponsored by the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers and the county branch of the Association of Childhood Education.

Stating that the United States is moving toward the goal of a college education for the majority of its young people, the speaker pointed out that the G. I. Bill of Rights, which has enabled many young veterans to go to college who would not otherwise have had the opportunity, is an indication of that trend.

Throughout his talk, Dr. Benjamin stressed the importance of community-wide effort in providing good educational opportunity for each child to promote the best interests of the nation and the world.

Mrs. Josephine Yarnall, ACE president, presided and reported on her experiences at the national convention of the organization, held earlier this month at Oklahoma City. Miss Margaret King was chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment program, which included a violin solo by Mrs. Grace Wilson, president of the Gephart P-TA, who played Corowski's "The Adoration" and Wagner's "Evening Star," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ruth Ludman of the LaVale P-TA.

A simulated radio broadcast of a play first presented over the air by Helen Hayes, titled "My Little Boy," was given by Mrs. Ethel Hixenbaugh, Mrs. Nell Smith, Mrs. Myra Taylor, Miss Margaret Ingles and Ralph Isiminger.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of county schools, remarked in a brief talk at the close of the program that a growing spirit of community co-operation in behalf of education was evidenced in the passage by the recent session of the General Assembly of "forward-looking" legislation in regard to teachers' salaries and school facilities.

Chicken Coop Burns

East Side Fire Company was called to the home of John Dorsey, 554 Pine Avenue, yesterday at 1:50 p. m. when a chicken coop at the rear of the home caught fire. Fire fighters said the structure was completely destroyed but said they were told no chickens were in the coop at the time. A pile of lumber stored near the shack also caught fire, firemen said.

Jaycees Propose National Awards For Isaac Hirsch, Dr. J. M. Ray

Directors Hear Plans For State Convention

The board of directors of the Junior Association of Commerce last night passed a resolution to recommend to the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, the presentation of "Good Government Awards" to Isaac Hirsch, this city and to the College of Business and Public Administration of the University of Maryland.

According to members of the board, it is felt that these awards should be made because of interest shown and work done in behalf of better government for the City of Cumberland. Hirsch, an outstanding citizen and student of municipal governmental affairs and the father of the commission form of government here, has devoted many hours of his time toward the betterment of the city.

The College of Business and Public Administration of the University of Maryland, headed by Dr. Ray has just completed an extensive survey and study of the city government and produced a report that has been lauded by many citizens, and generally heralded as a "move in the right direction", by many people, the board concluded.

Awards of this nature are made by the U S Jaycees, after a careful investigation and only upon recommendation of local Junior Chambers or Junior Associations.

At the meeting last night, plans for the coming state convention, May 16, 17, 18 here were discussed with indications that the Jaycees will hold their largest and best conclave here. Considerable interest is evidenced in the state election with David Kauffman, local Jaycee president being urged by local Jaycees to seek election as State president. Hagerstown Jaycees have already endorsed Harry Vollmer, III, of that city for the post and with C. Keating Bowie, of Baltimore, chairman of the nominating committee, it is expected that a man from the Baltimore organization will also seek the job. The present state president is J. Rutledge Clark of Baltimore.

Brax Dodson and Curtis Hinkle reported on the Clean-Up Campaign to be held here April 28 to May 3, and asked for suggestions for making Cumberland a cleaner city.

The Athletic Committee announced that softball and tennis teams have been formed within the organization. The Board authorized Kauffman to name an Americanism Committee to make plans for observance of "I Am An American Day" along with other organizations.

The local organization will be represented at the United States convention at Long Beach, California, from June 9 to 15, by Kauffman, C. William Gilchrist and Kenneth Hopwood. Several other local Jaycees are also planning to attend.

The application of Raymond B. O'Rourke, of the Celanese staff and feature writer for the Baltimore Sun was approved.

Answer Hotel Fire

West Side Fire Company was called to the Algonquin Hotel last night at 9:13 o'clock when, firemen said, a chair on the sixth floor of the building caught fire. Fire fighters said the blaze was out when they arrived.

Local 1874 Gives All-Out Support To Phone Unions

The general committee of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, last night, announced that it has offered all-out support to telephone workers in their demands for a new contract and a $12 weekly wage increase, according to Joseph J. Barley, recording secretary.

Informed of the action of the textile union, George Williams, Western Maryland strike captain for the Maryland Federation of Telephone Workers, and Paul Bixler, strike lieutenant, expressing their appreciation for the support, declared, "This again proves our previous statement that our strike is a battle for all labor."

There were no other developments locally yesterday except that striking employes of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company received their pay checks for the last week they worked prior to the start of the strike 12 days ago.

Members of the union reported that they were not required to cross picket lines to receive their checks and said that in some instances supervisory personnel brought the checks out of the company office and handed them to the striking workers.

Company officials manning the switchboards in the exchange here continued to work long hours in their efforts to handle emergency calls and as many important business calls as possible.

However, the rule continued "emergency first" at the office and calls to grocers, hairdressers, club members, church officials or just friendly calls remained "out" as far as the hardworking supervisory personnel was concerned.

Mrs. Margaret C. Weiss, president of the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, said in Baltimore that operators in her union would begin distribution of handbills today describing "our side of the case."

The operators have filed a 30-day strike notice but so far have only been respecting lines established by other groups.

Two B. And O. Workers Suffer Minor Injuries

Thomas Day, 37, 224 Emily Street, a B. and O. laborer, was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday morning for a cut on the right thumb. The B. and O. laborer told attaches he was injured while gathering scrap steel.

Blaine McCullough, 31, Patterson's Creek, was treated in the same hospital at noon for a right arm injury. The B. and O. telegraph operator told attaches he fell on his right arm while at work.

A 2-year-old Route 3, Keyser, W. Va., child, Marcelle Price, Jr., was examined in Allegany yesterday afternoon after swallowing a penny. Attaches said no treatment was necessary.

Mayors Of County Towns Support Daylight Time

Action To Await Citizens' Views

With the exception of Barton, mayors of four Allegany County towns said last night they favor Daylight Saving Time for their communities but that action on the issue depends on the opinions of the citizens.

At Frostburg, Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore said he has called a special session of the Mayor and Council for Monday at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of discussing the possibility of adopting fast time.

Skidmore, who said he personally "would like to have daylight time," added that he hopes Frostburg organizations will state their opinions on the subject at the special meeting. "We want to find the sentiment of the people and organizations," he said.

Backed By Lions

The Frostburg Lions Club Wednesday night went on record in favor of daylight time, Skidmore stated, adding that most town councilmen also seem to be in favor of it.

At Barton, however, Mayor Arthur P. Hoffa declared, "I don't think much of daylight time." He said he did not expect the change from standard time to daylight time to be made in Barton.

Mayor Milton McIntyre of Westernport said "We'll go along with the rest. It will depend to some extent on what Piedmont, W. Va., and Luke do, but, of course, the action of Lonaconing and Frostburg will carry a lot of weight."

McIntyre said he is in favor of fast time in the summer months. He added that the subject will be brought up at Monday night's council meeting.

At Lonaconing, Mayor John Evans, declaring, "I think it's fine myself," said fast time in his community depends on the wishes of the businessmen's association. He added that he has asked them to submit a resolution stating their views and submit it at the council meeting on April 28.

"People here seem to want daylight time," Evans said. He added, "We might as well be on the same time as Cumberland."

Favored At Luke

Mayor Fred Wiseman at Luke said he expects to know today if Luke will adopt fast time for the summer months. "I hope we'll have it," he said, adding that officials of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company favor it. He said he will take the matter up with plant employes today to get their reactions. "Everybody seems kind of anxious for it," he said.

The Mayor and Council of Cumberland already have voted to have daylight time in Cumberland, starting April 27, but the County Commissioners were informed by their attorney that they did not have the power to order fast time in the county.

The attorney, Lewis M. Wilson, stated, however, that the commissioners could pass a resolution suggesting that fast time be observed.

Last night, Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the board, said fast time may be considered again today at the meeting of the commissioners.

Milton H. Meyers Receives Award

Milton H. Meyers, manager of the M. G. K. Motor Company here, received a plaque last night at a dinner at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club in behalf of his company, winner of the 1947 Nash Motors' award under the "10-Point Select Dealer" program, the highest distinction Nash bestows on a dealer.

E. S. Carpenter, zone manager, one of six Pittsburgh district officials present, made the presentation, pointing out that the local company had met all requirements of location, capital, floor space, display signs, parts and service stock and facilities, and efficient bookkeeping.

Other officials of the Pittsburgh Nash district, which includes sections of Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Ohio, who attended were R. T. Lingle, assistant zone manager; C. A. Hrubecky, district manager; J. R. Meister, zone service manager; A. L. Lalley, service representative; and V. R. Lyons, assistant business management manager.

Members of the company, besides Meyers, who received lapel pins in recognition of the award, are Mrs. Meyers, secretary; Randolph Burkett, service manager; Dorn A. Reckley, parts manager; Clarence J. Ludwick, auditor; Thomas T. Anderson and Alvin S. McGill of the paint and body department; Weston L. May, Otis W. Largent, Benjamin E. May and Richard W. Litzenburg, mechanics; and Oscar E. Redman, mechanic helper.

Umpire Reinstates Celanese Worker

A spinning department employe who was discharged at the Celanese plant in December on a charge of misconduct returned to work Monday as the result of an arbitration award handed down by Herman A. Gray, Joseph J. Barley, recording secretary of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO announced yesterday.

The arbitration award provided that the worker, Donald McCoole, Dawson, should be reinstated without loss of seniority or other rights of employment but without back pay.

The hearing on the case was held here in February before Prof. Gray, of New York University.

The Celanese local's general committee also went on record to donate $100 to the Cancer Fund drive and to give $250 to the American Red Cross.

Grand Jury Notes Press Campaign On Gambling

Body Investigates Gaming Violations

Widespread publicity in local newspapers regarding slot machines and other forms of gambling in Allegany County was credited by the Grand Jury for the reduction of illegal gambling in the county at the present time to a minimum, in the report submitted to the judges of Circuit Court yesterday by the April Grand Jury.

Considerable mention is made in the report of the Grand Jury's investigation of illegal gambling and it is stated that some indictments have been returned. Publicity given gambling made it difficult for the Grand Jury to obtain sufficient evidence in some cases to bring indictments, the report says, but the Grand Jury believes that illegal gambling did exist before the move to curb it was made.

Inconsistency of State laws and of the State of Maryland regarding gambling is cited, explaining that some gambling is licensed while other forms of gambling are illegal. "If the people are confused about what is good and what is evil, the State is not without blame," the report declares.

Fix Responsibility

Responsibility for enforcing gambling laws, making raids and making arrests is fixed in the report, according to the law, with the Sheriff and other peace officers and they are cautioned to be "reasonably alert with respect to possible violations of the law and not wait until they come to their personal knowledge."

Reference is made to the Board of Liquor License Commissioners and the inspection law which permits the agents of this Board as well as all other peace officers in the county to make inspections where liquor is sold. This includes clubs and other places. Any evidence of gambling and operation of gambling devices discovered during these inspections shall be admissable in any prosecution for the violation the report explains.

A number of recommendations are included in the report, dealing with improvements to the Court House, better policing of the City of Cumberland, improvements at the County Home and the County Asylum and other pertinent problems.

The report as submitted was signed by E. S. Burke, foreman, and Louis T. Helman and Bruce D. Smith, clerks.

First: We have been in session four days, have examined 103 witnesses and returned 34 indictments.

Second: A committee from our body visited and inspected the Allegany County Home and found 38 white female patients, 37 white male patients, one colored female patient and one colored male patient. There are 13 persons employed at this institution.

There is a shortage of some equipment, which the superintendent should report to the County Commissioners for the purpose of replacement. Due to the wear and tear and deterioration, there are some parts of the building that are in need of repairs. We recommend that the County Commissioners give this proper consideration. The bath and toilet facilities on the first floor need to be expanded and we recommend this be given prompt consideration by the County Commissioners.

Want Changes At Asylum

Third: A committee from our body made an inspection of Sylvan Retreat, the County Hosptial for the Insane. The committee reports 3 white male patients and 54 white female patients. There are 21 employees at this institution. We recommend that the superintendent of this institution and the County Commissioners give serious consideration to changing the established procedure for the receiving, segregation and care of patients to the following ends:

First. That when a patient is received, he be forthwith given a physical examination by a competent physician.

Second. That the commitment papers be filed at the institution before or at the time the patient is received, so that the officials of the institution may have the advantage of the patient's historical data therein contained. This will aid in segregating patients into violent and non-violent wards.

Third. At the present time, there are long hours during the night when there is not proper and adequate supervision of the patients. We recommend that an alert warden be on active duty at all times to preclude any violence or injury to these unfortunates.

Fourth: The Grand Jury, in a body, inspected the Allegany County Jail. We found 17 white male prisoners and one white female prisoner. The condition of the jail is clean, orderly and apparently well managed.

Fifth. A committee from our body examined the records of the County Treasurer's office, and, in our opinion, the books are well kept in cordance with modern accounting methods. The books are periodically audited and certified as being correct by Charles O. Hall, Certified Public Accountant.

Sixth: The mine inspectors for Allegany County appeared before our body and reported that no serious violations existed with regard to the mining laws.

Press Campaign Noted

Seventh: We had before our body the Sheriff of Allegany County; the Commissioner of Police and Fire

Oath Of Office Taken By Liquor Board Members

Many Applicants File For Licenses

Former Judge Walter C. Capper, this city, Fred Crowe, Frostburg, and Henry Sweene, Mt. Savage, took their oath of office as members of the Allegany County Liquor Board yesterday afternoon before Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, with clerk of Court Robert Jackson administering the oath.

In the meantime, a large number of applicants have applied for liquor licenses of one type or another. As of yesterday a total of 381 applications had been filed at Jackson's office.

Today signs will be mailed to all applicants for posting in a conspicuous place on their premises in carrying out a provision of the new law.

The notice must be posted at least 10 days before action upon an application for a license, and must specify the time and place fixed by the board for hearing upon the application.

One difficulty faced by the board as it assumes control of the situation is the fact that considerable misunderstanding apparently exists in the mind of applicants regarding what the new bill provides.

The best indication of the increased demand for licenses is a comparison of the number issued for the 1946-47 period and the number of applications filed as of yesterday.

For example, five licenses are now issued under the Class A packaged liquor sale category of the 1933 law. There are 17 applications so far for this Class A type of license.

Fifty-three persons now hold Class B licenses authorizing "on sale" of liquor, beer, light beer and wine in hotels and restaurants, and to date 108 applications have been made for such licenses.

Court officials said yesterday that a total of 348 licenses of all types are now in effect in the county. This includes the following:

Light Beer—Off sale, 14; on sale, hotels and restaurants, 0; on sale, clubs, 5; on sale generally, 124, making a total of 143 beer licenses.

Light Beer, Beer and Light Wine: Off sale, 12; on sale, hotels and restaurants, 71; on sale, clubs, 5, making a total of 88.

Light Beer, Beer, Wine and Liquor Licenses: Class A, off sale, 5; on sale, hotels and restaurants, 53 (both of these types coming under the restricted heading); and on sale, clubs, 59, making a total of 117.

Members Admit Problem

Members of the new liquor board remained out of the picture until Governor Lane signed the bill, but admitted yesterday that the issuance of the new licenses looms as a problem.

One difficulty is the fact that clearcut interpretations of the new bill have not been made as yet. However, it is understood that the new board, if created, will be required by law to renew outstanding licenses providing the present holders have obeyed the law and have not been convicted or had any trouble in the conduct of their business which might be considered by the board.

Assuming that a majority if not all of the present license holders have their licenses renewed, it will mean that only nine or ten new applicants will obtain liquor permits from the large number making applications.

Bird Expert To Conduct Meeting

An elementary teacher conservation council meeting will be held at 7:30 tonight in the Board of Education office, at which time Orville Crowder, Baltimore, president of the Ornithological Society of Maryland, will talk to the group. Mr. Crowder, a specialist on birds, will also show slides and film strips on birds.

Jimmie Deetz, senior at Fort Hill, will talk on "My Interest in Birds and Conservation."

Mrs. Gilbert Miller, a local member of the Ornithological Society, will introduce the speaker. Professional, service club, civic, Homemakers and Girl Scout groups of the city have been invited to attend.

While in the county Mr. Crowder will have two conducted "bird walks," tomorrow morning. One for adults will leave Kiwanis Sunshine Camp at 6 a. m., the other for children will leave Mt. Royal School at 10 a. m. It is limited to a representative from each school and a group of fourth grade children of West Side School, which, with Miss Nan Livingston, teacher, is the only child group in the state that holds membership in the Ornithological Society.

Lions Octet Sings For Kiwanis Club

A program by the Lions Club Octet, under the direction of Edgar Duke, featured the meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday in Central YMCA, with Robert Moreland presenting a solo. The program was well received by the Kiwanians.

Two new members, Frank Ansel and Fred Terry were officially inducted by George Martin, chairman of the Kiwanis Club Education Committee.

A short talk by O. J. Hale, lieutenant governor of the First Division of the Capital District, who made his official visit to the Cumberland Club concluded the meeting.

B'er Chayim Services Will Be Held Tonight

The service of B'er Chayim Congregation, Union and Centre Streets, will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight with Rabbi Maurice Feuer speaking on "Lost Chords of Life."

His subject was suggested by Adelaide Proctor's poem, "The Lost Chord," which was set to music by Sir Arthur Sullivan.

On Saturday services will be held at 10 a. m. with Rabbi Feuer again preaching. Religious school will be held Sunday at 10 a. m.
